Smith and the Pharaohs H. Rider Haggard, 2020-11-23 Scientists or some scientists for occasionally one learned person differs from other learned persons tell us they know all that is worth knowing about man which statement of course includes woman They trace him from his remotest origin they show us how his bones changed and his shape modified also how under the influence of his needs and passions his intelligence developed from something very humble They demonstrate conclusively that there is nothing in man which the dissecting table will not explain that his aspirations towards another life have their root in the fear of death or say others of them in that of earthquake or thunder that his affinities with the past are merely inherited from remote ancestors who lived in that past perhaps a million years ago and that everything noble about him is but the fruit of expediency or of a veneer of civilisation while everything base must be attributed to the instincts of his dominant and primeval nature Man in short is an animal who like every other animal is finally subdued by his environment and takes his colour from his surroundings as cattle do from the red soil of Devon Such are the facts they or some of them declare all the rest is rubbish At times we are inclined to agree with these sages especially after it has been our privilege to attend a course of lectures by one of them Then perhaps something comes within the range of our experience which gives us pause and causes doubts the old divine doubts to arise again deep in our hearts and with them a yet diviner hope Perchance when all is said so we think to ourselves man is something more than an animal Perchance he has known the past the far past and will know the future the far far future Perchance the dream is true and he does indeed possess what for convenience is called an immortal soul that may manifest itself in one shape or another that may sleep for ages but waking or sleeping still remains itself indestructible as the matter of the Universe An incident in the career of Mr James Ebenezer Smith might well occasion such reflections were any acquainted with its details which until this its setting forth was not the case Mr Smith is a person who knows when to be silent Still undoubtedly it gave cause for thought to one individual namely to him to whom it happened Indeed James Ebenezer Smith is still thinking over it thinking very hard indeed J E Smith was well born and well educated When he was a good looking and able young man at college but before he had taken his degree trouble came to him the particulars of which do not matter and he was thrown penniless also friendless upon the rocky bosom of the world No not quite friendless for he had a godfather a gentleman connected with business whose Christian name was Ebenezer To him as a last resource Smith went feeling that Ebenezer owed him something in return for the awful appellation wherewith he had been endowed in baptism To a certain extent Ebenezer recognised the obligation He did nothing heroic but he found his godson a clerkship in a bank of which he was one of the directors a modest clerkship no more Also when he died a year later he left him a hundred pounds to be spent upon some souvenir
