Sutter, 2023-11-20 Congress and China Policy Past Episodic Recent Enduring Influence supports findings that bipartisan majorities in Congress have been instrumental in driving the fundamental shift in American policy toward China carried out during the past six years Filling major gaps in the inadequate treatment of Congress in assessments of US policy toward China this book compares recent Congressional influence with the episodes of Congressional activism in China policy over the past 200 years showing Congress recently has been more important than ever The findings also show that partisan politics Congressional executive competition for policy control swings in public and media opinion and influences by special interests longstanding drivers of past Congressional involvement in China policy have been of secondary or lesser importance as the Congressional members have grappled with the acute dangers posed by Chinese economic security and governance challenges Steady and determined efforts by this cohort of bipartisan Congressional majorities to defend America from Chinese challenges have proven more resolute than the erratic practices of President Trump and previously dismissive Joseph Biden who came late to a tougher policy This volume forecasts that US policy will remain heavily influenced by these members as they serve out their terms in the years ahead

Asia's Reckoning Richard McGregor, 2018-12-04 A Financial Times Best Book of 2017 A shrewd and knowing book Robert D Kaplan The Wall Street Journal A compelling and impressive read The Economist Skillfully crafted and well argued Jeffrey Wasserstrom Financial Times An excellent modern history provides the context needed to make sense of the region's present and future Joyce Lau South China Morning Post A history of the combative military diplomatic and economic relations among China Japan and the United States since the 1970s and the potential crisis that awaits them Richard McGregor's Asia's Reckoning is a compelling account of the widening geopolitical cracks in a region that has flourished under an American security umbrella for more than half a century The toxic rivalry between China and Japan two Asian giants consumed with endless history wars and ruled by entrenched political dynasties is threatening to upend the peace underwritten by Pax Americana since World War II Combined with Donald Trump's disdain for America's old alliances and China's own regional ambitions east Asia is entering a new era of instability and conflict If the United States laid the postwar foundations for modern Asia now the anchor of the global economy Asia's Reckoning reveals how that structure is falling apart With unrivaled access to archives in the United States and Asia as well as to many of the major players in all three countries Richard McGregor has written a tale that blends the tectonic shifts in diplomacy with bitter domestic politics and the personalities driving them It is a story not only of an overstretched America but also of the rise and fall and rise of the great powers of Asia The about turn of Japan from a colossus seemingly poised for world domination to a nation in inexorable decline in the space of two decades has few parallels in modern history as does the rapid rise of China a country whose military is now larger than those of Japan South Korea Taiwan and southeast Asia's combined The confrontational course on which China and Japan are set is no simple spat between neighbors the United States would be involved on the side of Japan in any military conflict between the two countries The fallout would be an economic tsunami affecting manufacturing centers trade routes and political capitals on every continent Richard McGregor's book takes us behind the headlines of his years reporting as the Financial Times's Beijing and Washington bureau chief to show how American power will stand or fall on its ability to hold its ground in Asia

Keith,2023-02-27 Henry Kissinger observed Everybody wants to be a China hawk China is a bully China is Nazi Germany China commits genocide China disrupts the international rules based order Responding to such uninformed generalization on the nature of China s regime and its lack of human values the Western Liberal Democracies have created their own China Problem by clinging to Cold War anachronism The clash of values is not nearly as deep and extensive as is often claimed Furthermore the contemporary public discourse on China needs a complete assessment of the values that have emerged in Xi

Jinping's China Xi is regarded as red like Mao Xi however has abandoned Mao's view of class struggle and his notion of a rejuvenated China embraces traditional core principles that Mao bitterly condemned Ren or benevolence for example now informs entwined domestic and foreign policy as moderate prosperity in all respects Ren or benevolence is aligned with common security and common development The question is whether this is a positive restoration of traditional values that will contribute to domestic development and international peace or restorationist Middle Kingdomism designed to assert Chinese values worldwide This book's analysis of Chinese values argues that the current interpretation of the China Threat is predicated in a serious misunderstanding of Chinese values It is often commented that China is the defining geopolitical issues of our time This book is an especially timely contribution to the currently limited public policy debate on China as a threat to Western values and the international rules based system Correction is long overdue with reference to speculative assumptions that Xi Jinping's regime represents a return to Mao's regime Socialism with Chinese characteristics has significantly moved on under Xi's leadership Hyperbole about China has presumed the continuation of Chinese Cold War ideology and has either lightly commented on or ignored altogether the resurgence of core traditional ideas in Chinese policy formation This book provides detailed research of Xi Jinping Thought and Xi Jinping Diplomatic Thought It adopts a widely construed but serious interdisciplinary approach towards the China Problem drawing on both the social sciences and humanities This wide angled approach includes new sinology in its recent review of translated China synthesizing tradition and culture with the development of modern Chinese ideology politics and policy formation The book's significant topicality is presented within an unconventional approach and formatted contents designed to reach out to the biggest circle of general and advanced China interested readers in the time of great debate

Southeast Asia and the Rise of China Ian Storey, 2013-08-21 Since the early 1990s and the end of the Cold War the implications of China's rising power have come to dominate the security agenda of the Asia Pacific region This book is the first to comprehensively chart the development of Southeast Asia's relations with the People's Republic of China (PRC) from 1949 to 2010 detailing each of the eleven countries' ties to the PRC and showing how strategic concerns associated with China's regional posture have been a significant factor in shaping their foreign and defence policies. In addition to assessing bilateral ties, the book also examines the institutionalization of relations between the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) and China. The first part of the book covers the period 1949-2010; it examines Southeast Asian responses to the PRC in the context of the ideological and geopolitical rivalry of the Cold War. Southeast Asian countries' policies towards the PRC in the first decade of the post-Cold War era and deepening ties between the ASEAN states and the PRC in the first decade of the twenty-first century. Part Two analyses the evolving relationships between the countries of mainland Southeast Asia: Vietnam, Thailand, Myanmar, Laos, and Cambodia and China. Part Three reviews ties between the states of maritime Southeast Asia: Indonesia, Malaysia, Singapore, the Philippines, Brunei, and East Timor and the PRC. Whilst the primary focus of the book is the security dimension of Southeast Asia-China relations, it also takes full account of political relations and the burgeoning economic ties between the two sides. This book is a timely contribution to the literature on the fast-changing geopolitics of the Asia-Pacific region.

China's Crisis Behavior Kai He, 2016-04-07 Since the end of the Cold War, China has experienced several notable interstate crises: the 1999 embassy bombing incident, the 2001 EP-3 mid-air collision with a United States aircraft, and the Diaoyu/Senkaku dispute with Japan. China's response to each incident, however, has varied considerably. Drawing from a wealth of primary sources and interviews, this book offers a systematic analysis of China's crisis behavior in order to identify the factors which determine when Chinese leaders decide to escalate or scale down their response to crises. Inspired by prospect theory, a Nobel Prize-winning behavioral psychology theory, Kai He proposes a political survival prospect model as a means to understand the disparities in China's behavior. He argues that China's response depends on a combination of three factors that shape leaders' views on the prospects for their political survival status, including the severity of the crisis, leaders' domestic authority, and international pressure. Critical Decade, A: China's Foreign Policy (2008-2018) Zhiqun

Zhu, 2019-07-09 China emerged as a major economic, diplomatic, and military power during the critical decade from 2008 to 2018. As a result, China's foreign policy has become more active and dynamic. This book provides a unique perspective to understand Chinese foreign policy during this decade by examining continuities and changes in both internal and external factors that have shaped China's development. The book focuses on key challenges in China's diplomacy, such as US-China relations, the Korean Peninsula, Taiwan, Japan, India, Chinese investment overseas, the Belt and Road Initiative, global and regional cooperation, soft power, etc. It also includes an extensive annotated bibliography of major recent publications on various aspects of Chinese foreign policy. This is the first scholarly book that studies the evolution and key challenges of China's foreign relations during the critical decade 2008-2018, when China grew into a crucial, sometimes assertive power in international affairs. Prospect Theory and Foreign Policy Analysis in the Asia Pacific Kai He, Huiyun

Feng,2013-01-17 Why does North Korea behave erratically in pursuing its nuclear weapons program Why did the United States prefer bilateral alliances to multilateral ones in Asia after World War II Why did China become nice no more military coercion in dealing with the pro independence Taiwan President Chen Shuibian after 2000 Why did China compromise in the negotiation of the Chunxiao gas exploration in 2008 while Japan became provocative later in the Sino Japanese disputes in the East China Sea North Korea s nuclear behavior U S alliance strategy China s Taiwan policy and Sino Japanese territorial disputes are all important examples of seemingly irrational foreign policy decisions that have determined regional stability and Asian security By examining major events in Asian security this book investigates why and how leaders make risky and seemingly irrational decisions in international politics The authors take the innovative step of integrating the neoclassical realist framework in political science and prospect theory in psychology Their analysis suggests that political leaders are more likely to take risky actions when their vital interests and political legitimacy are seriously threatened For each case the authors first discuss the weaknesses of some of the prevailing arguments mainly from rationalist and constructivist theorizing and then offer an alternative explanation based on their political legitimacy prospect theory model This pioneering book tests and expands prospect theory to the study of Asian security and challenges traditional expected utility based rationalist theories of foreign policy behavior China and the International System Xiaoming Huang,2013 This book considers the evolving relationship between China and the international system and the interaction between a China of profound change in its identity capability and influence and an international system that is itself experiencing a process of far reaching transformation It develops an analytical framework that allows us to capture understand and explain a more dynamic pattern of agent structure interaction in China s relationship with the international system By demonstrating a more dynamic and mutually constitutive relationship between China and the international system the book explores the extent to which both transform themselves in the process and provides a fuller and more effective assessment of the evolving nature of the relationship In doing so it addresses key issues in the current literature on the relationship of China and the international system and helps close the gap in our knowledge of the conditions and consequences of change and stability in the international system as a result of the change in distributions of power capability and influence among nation states

China's Relations with the Gulf Monarchies Jonathan Fulton,2018-08-06 As China s international political role grows its relations with states outside of its traditional sphere of interests is evolving This is certainly the case of the Gulf monarchies of Bahrain Kuwait Oman Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates which together comprise the Gulf Cooperation Council GCC China s levels of interdependence with these states has increased dramatically in recent years spanning a wide range of interests What motivating factors explain the Chinese leadership s decision to forge closer ties to the GCC Why have GCC leaders developed closer ties to China and what kind of role can China be expected to play in the region as levels of interdependence intensify This book uses neoclassical realism to analyse the evolution of Sino GCC relations Examining the pressures that shaped China's policy toward the Gulf monarchies it demonstrates that systemic considerations have been predominant since 1949 yet domestic political considerations were also always an important consideration. Relations are examined across diplomatic and political interactions, trade and investment, infrastructure and construction projects, people-to-people exchanges, and military and security cooperation. This book will appeal to scholars in the fields of International Relations and International Political Economy as well as area specialists on China, the Gulf, the Gulf Monarchies, and those working on foreign policy issues.

China's Quest for Sporting Mega-Events Marcus P. Chu, 2020-07-14. This book vividly elucidates the inseparable nature between politics and sport in China. The holding of sporting mega events is viewed by the Chinese authorities as a prominent way to push forward the Reform and Opening up, arouse the patriotism among the public, and display national resurgence in the world. Chinese cities thus have keenly quested for the Olympics, the Asian Games, and the World University Games since the 1980s. Theoretically, the President, the Premier, and the central government should provide all-out support so boosting the Chinese cities' odds of success. The reality yet shows that their attitude towards the bids vary from case to case. Through reviewing the 20 bidding cases, this book aims to demystify the reasons behind. The findings provide an in-depth account of 1) how domestic and international political factors determine the state leaders' blessing and silence, as well as the central government's backing, indifference, and opposition; and 2) how the bids for the sporting mega events are used to serve the broader political goals of the Chinese authorities at home and abroad. Additionally, they shed light on the political strategies to boost the Chinese cities' chance of success and the political reasons for their win, loss, and discontinuation in the bidding contests. The book will be a valuable resource for researchers interested in the domestic politics and international relations of China.
