Lyall Edna Lyall, 1897 Love and Eugenics in the Late Nineteenth Century Angelique Richardson, 2003 The idea of eugenics human selective breeding originated in Victorian Britain in response to the urban poor Darwin's evolutionary theory had laid the foundations for eugenics replacing paradise with primordial slime Man had not fallen from Grace but risen from the swamps And as architect of his own destiny he might rise still further Eugenics was developed by Darwin's cousin Francis Galton in the 1860s Embracing the idea of evolution eugenicists argued that through the judicious control of human reproduction and the numerical increase of the middle class Britain's supremacy in the world could be maintained Born and bred among the competitive Victorian middle class eugenics was a biologicistic discourse on class Aiming at racial improvement by altering the balance of class in society it was Galton argued practical Darwinism Eugenics found its most sustained expression in fiction and the periodical press and was central to late nineteenth century ideas on social progress forming part of the debate between hereditarians and environmentalists that peaked in the closing years of the century Even Gladstone had his vital statistics measured in Galton's eugenic laboratory Among the champions of eugenics were social purity feminists and New Women writers such as George Egerton Ellice Hopkins and Sarah Grand who argued that women were naturally biologically moral and that through rational reproduction middle class women could regenerate the British imperial race The New Woman has been the subject of numerous recent critical works However the oppressive ideas that coexisted with the emancipatory theories of some New Women ideas that were supremely class conscious remain largely unexamined as the focus remains on her more progressive aspects Love and Eugenics in the Late Nineteenth Century recontextualizes New Woman writers demonstrating that they were as concerned with the questions of poverty sickness and health as they were with the changing role of women the issue for which they are currently generally known and celebrated Focusing on fiction and the press and drawing on the papers and published work of Galton and other eugenicists Angelique Richardson reveals the cultural pervasiveness of eugenics and explores for the first time the intimate relations between early feminism and eugenics and making a radical contribution to nineteenth century studies Love and Depth in the American Novel Ashley C. Barnes,2020-04-23 Love and Depth in the American Novel seeks to change how we think about the American love story and how we imagine the love of literature By examining classics of nineteenth century American literature Ashley Barnes offers a new approach to literary theory that encompasses both New Historicism and the ethical turn in literary studies Couples like Huck and Jim and Ishmael and Queequeg have grounded the classic account of the American novel as exceptionally gothic and antisocial Barnes argues instead for a model of shared intimacy that connects the evangelical sentimental best seller to the high art of psychological realism In her reading of works by Harriet Beecher Stowe Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville Elizabeth Stoddard Henry James and others in the context of nineteenth century Protestant Catholic debates about how to know and love God what emerges is an alternate tradition of the American love story that pictures intimacy as communion rather than revelation Barnes uses that unacknowledged love story to propose a model of literary critical intimacy that depends on reading fiction in its historical context Ethics and Narrative in the English Novel, 1880-1914 Jil Larson,2001-02-12 Drawing on interdisciplinary work in the field of ethics and literature by a diverse range of thinkers including Martha Nussbaum Emmanuel Levinas and Paul Ricoeur Jil Larson offers new readings of late Victorian and turn of the century British fiction she shows how ethical concepts can transform our understanding of narratives just as narratives make possible a valuable contextualised moral deliberation Focusing on novels by Thomas Hardy Sarah Grand Olive Schreiner Oscar Wilde and Henry James Larson explores the conjunction of ethics and fin de siècle history and culture through a consideration of what narratives from this period tell us about emotion reason and gender aestheticism and such speech acts as promising and lying This book will be of interest to scholars of nineteenth century and modernism and all interested in the conjunction between narrative ethics and literary theory Fiction and Poetry to Help Us Age Laurence W. Mazzeno,Sue Norton,2025-09-09 This volume explores the theme of age and aging uniquely combining personal reflections from literature professors with sound scholarly analysis of a range of fiction and poetry Bringing together leading literary scholars this collection of essays covers a range of writers and texts representing both the canon and new voices By combining the chapter authors expertise as literary and cultural critics with their own responses to novels short stories and poems the book offers new insights into the life trajectories made available to fiction and poetry readers through compelling narrative and vivid literary representation Love Me Tenor Annabeth Albert,2016-02 Trevor Daniels is feeling aimless A recent college grad he s not sure what to do with his useless degree and his family all but abandoned him after he revealed the truth about himself But a friend s suggestion that he take his chances on a reality show aimed at finding the next big boy band strikes a chord with him until the show's producers convince him to act like he's in a relationship with a guy who's not at all his type. It isn't exactly love at first sight for Jalen Smith either, but lust just might push them in an unexpected direction.
