Terracotta Figurines And Plaques From Dura Europos:

Terracotta Figurines and Plaques from Dura-Europos Susan B. Downey, 2003 An exhaustive study of the terracotta figurines unearthed at the site of Dura Europos Dura-Europos Jennifer Baird, 2018-06-14 Dura Europos is one of Syria's most important archaeological sites. Situated on the edge of the Euphrates river, it was the subject of extensive excavations in the 1920s and 30s by teams from Yale University and the Académie des Inscriptions et Belles Lettres. Controlled variously by Seleucid, Parthian, and Roman powers, the site was one of impressive religious and linguistic diversity; it was home to at least nineteen sanctuaries, amongst them a Synagogue and a Christian building, and many languages including Greek, Latin, Persian, Palmyrene, and Hebrew, which were excavated on inscriptions, parchments, and graffiti. Based on the author's work excavating at the site with the Mission Franco-Syrienne de Dura-Europos and extensive archival research, this book provides an overview of the site and its history and traces the story of its investigation from archaeological discovery to contemporary destruction.

Religion, Society and Culture at Dura-Europos Ted Kaizer, 2016-11-17 This volume advances our understanding of the religion, society, and culture of Dura Europos, the small town on the Euphrates known since the 1930s as the Pompeii of the Syrian desert. Several features make the site potentially our best source for day-to-day life in a small town situated on the periphery of the Roman world: inscriptions and graffiti in ten ancient languages; sculptures and frescoes combining elements of Classical and Oriental art; the most important papyrological dossier of any military unit in the Roman world; documents relating to the local economy; over a dozen pagan sanctuaries; plus a famously painted synagogue and the earliest Christian house church, all set in a gridiron city plan and surrounded by well-preserved fortifications. Dura's unique findings facilitate the study of life in a provincial small town to a degree that archaeology and history do not usually allow. The Inner Lives of Ancient Houses Jennifer A. Baird, 2014 Dura Europos on the Syrian Euphrates is one of the best preserved and most extensively excavated sites of the Roman world. A Hellenistic foundation, later held by the Parthians and then the Romans, Dura had a Roman military garrison installed within its city walls before it was taken by the Sasanians in the mid-third century. The Inner Lives of Ancient Houses is the first study to consider the houses of the site as a whole. The houses were excavated by a team from Yale and the French Academy of Inscriptions and Letters in the 1920s and 30s, and though a wealth of archaeological and textual material was recovered, most of that relating to housing was never published. Through a combination of archival information held at the Yale University Art Gallery and new fieldwork with the Mission Franco-Syrienne de Dura-Europos, this study re-evaluates the houses of the site, integrating architecture, artefacts, and textual evidence, and examining ancient daily life and cultural interaction, as well as considering houses which were modified for use by the Roman military. New Perspectives in Seleucid History, Archaeology and Numismatics Roland Oetjen, 2019-12-16 Dedicated to Getzel M. Cohen, a leading expert in Seleucid history, this volume gathers 45 contributions on Seleucid history, archaeology, numismatics, political relations, policy toward the Jews, Greek cities, non-Greek populations, peripheral and neighboring regions imperial administration economy and public finances and ancient descriptions of the Seleucid Empire The reader will gain an international perspective on current research Icon, Cult, and Context Maura K. Heyn, Ann Irvine Steinsapir, 2016-12-31 This festschrift honors UCLA professor emerita Susan Downey and her meticulous scholarship on religious architecture and imagery in the Roman Hellenistic world The iconography of gods and goddesses the analysis of sacred imagery in the context of ancient cult practices and the design and decoration of sacred spaces are the main themes of the book Authors examine such subjects as painting from Dura Europos Hellenistic sculpture at Saqqara in Egypt Roman cameo glass Pompeian fresco and aspects of Venus in portrait sculpture The essays on Dura Europos are especially valuable in light of the present turmoil in the region Professor Downey's influence shines through in these discussions which echo her mentorship of several generations of art history and archaeology students and recognize her scholarly achievements The broad temporal and geographic parameters of the volume are expansive and the juxtaposition of images and analyses leads to surprising new conclusions

Egyptianizing Figurines from Delos Caitlín

Barrett, 2011-09-20 This book investigates Hellenistic popular religion through an interdisciplinary study of terracotta figurines of Egyptian deities mostly from domestic contexts from the trading port of Delos. A comparison of the figurines' iconography to parallels in Egyptian religious texts, temple reliefs and ritual objects suggests that many figurines depict deities or rituals associated with Egyptian festivals. An analysis of the objects' clay fabrics and manufacturing techniques indicates that most were made on Delos. Additionally, archival research on unpublished notes from early excavations reveals new data on many figurines' archaeological contexts illuminating their roles in both domestic and temple cults. The results offer a new perspective on Hellenistic reinterpretations of Egyptian religion as well as the relationship between popular and official cults.

This book investigates rabbinic

treatises relating to animals humans and other lifeforms Through an original analysis of creaturely generation and species classification by late ancient Palestinian rabbis and other thinkers in the Roman empire Rafael Rachel Neis shows how rabbis blurred the lines between the human and other beings This they did even as they were intent on classifying creatures and delineating the contours of the human Recognizing that life proliferates via multiple mechanisms beyond sexual copulation between two heterosexual male and female individuals of the same species the rabbis produced intricate alternatives This expansive view of generation included humans Likewise in parsing the variety of creatures the rabbis attended to the overlaps and resemblances across seemingly distinct species upsetting in turn unmitigated claims of human distinctiveness Intervening in conversations in animal studies queer theory trans theory and feminist science studies When a Human Gives Birth to a Raven provincializes sacrosanct ideals of reproduction in favor of a broader range of generation kinship and species offering powerful historical alternatives to the paradigms associated with so called traditional ideas Animal Sacrifice and the Origins of Islam Brannon Wheeler, 2022-06-23 Islam is the only biblical religion that still practices animal sacrifice Indeed every year more than a million animals are shipped to Mecca from all over the world to be slaughtered during the Muslim Hajj This multi disciplinary volume is the first to examine the physical foundations of this practice and the significance of the ritual Brannon Wheeler uses both textual analysis and various types of material evidence to gain insight into the role of animal sacrifice in Islam He provides a thick description of the elaborate camel sacrifice performed by Muhammad which serves as the model for future Hajj sacrifices Wheeler integrates biblical and classical Arabic sources with evidence from zooarchaeology and the rock art of ancient Arabia to gain insight into an event that reportedly occurred 1400 years ago His book encourages a more nuanced and expansive conception of sacrifice in the history of religion The Oxford Handbook of Roman Sculpture Elise A Friedland, Melanie Grunow Sobocinski, Elaine Gazda, 2015-01-02 The study of Roman sculpture has been an essential part of the disciplines of Art History and Classics since the eighteenth century Famous works like the Laocoön the Arch of Titus and the colossal portrait of Constantine are familiar to millions Again and again scholars have returned to sculpture to answer questions about Roman art society and history Indeed the field of Roman sculptural studies encompasses not only the full chronological range of the Roman world but also its expansive geography and a variety of artistic media formats sizes and functions Exciting new theories methods and approaches have transformed the specialized literature on the subject in recent decades Rather than creating another chronological catalogue of representative examples from various periods genres and settings The Oxford Handbook of Roman Sculpture synthesizes current best practices for studying this central medium of Roman art situating it within the larger fields of Art History Classical Archaeology and Roman Studies This comprehensive volume fills the gap between introductory textbooks and highly focused professional literature The Oxford Handbook of Roman Sculpture conveniently presents new technical scientific literary and theoretical approaches to the study of Roman sculpture in one reference volume while simultaneously complementing textbooks and other publications that present well known works in the corpus The contributors to this volume address metropolitan and provincial material from the early republican period through late antiquity in an engaging and fresh style Authoritative innovative and up to date The Oxford Handbook of Roman Sculpture will remain an invaluable resource for years to come

Stephen J. Davis, 2014-05-13 Little is known about the early childhood of Jesus Christ But in the decades after his death stories began circulating about his origins One collection of such tales was the so called Infancy Gospel of Thomas known in antiquity as the Paidika or Childhood Deeds of Jesus In it Jesus not only performs miracles while at play such as turning clay birds into live sparrows but also gets enmeshed in a series of interpersonal conflicts and curses to death children and teachers who rub him the wrong way How would early readers have made sense of this young Jesus In this highly innovative book Stephen Davis draws on current theories about how human communities construe the past to answer this question He explores how ancient readers would have used texts images places and other key reference points from their own social world to understand the Christ child's curious actions He then shows how the figure of a young Jesus was later picked up and exploited in the context of medieval Jewish Christian and Christian Muslim encounters Challenging many scholarly assumptions Davis adds a crucial dimension to the story of how Christian history was created Camels in the Biblical

Iconographic Exegesis and Third Isaiah Izaak Joias Hulster, 2009 Although scholars employ pictorial material in biblical exegesis the question of how images from the Ancient Near East can contribute to a better understanding of the Bible has been left unanswered This is the first monograph to outline a historical method for iconographic exegesis The methodological study includes both responses to important theoretical questions such as What is an image and What is culture and an interdisciplinary exploration of issues of history art history archaeology and cultural anthropology The three stage method proposed is embedded in hermeneutical and exegetical reflections The application of iconographical exegesis to the interpretation of metaphors is also considered In demonstrating the method and its application Izaak J de Hulster focuses on Third Isaiah and develops three iconographical exegetical studies on yad in Isaiah 56 5 light in Isaiah 60 and grape processing in Isaiah 63
