Tritten,1992-09-30 This book is an analysis of

President Bush's Regional Defense Strategy first unveiled in Aspen Colorado on August 2 1990 This strategy involves a mix of active reserve and reconstitutable forces and General Colin Powell's Base Force If implemented the new strategy and force structure would return significant U S ground and air forces to the continental United States where most would be demobilized In the event of a major crisis the United States would rely on active and reserve forces for a contingency response much as was done for Operation Desert Storm The new national security strategy is based upon the 25 percent budget cut negotiated with Congress a greatly depleted Russian threat and a new international security environment that assumes two years warning of a European centered global war with the former USSR There are four major critical factors upon which the new strategy depends 1 the continued decline of the Russians as a threat to world stability 2 the ability of the intelligence community to meet new challenges 3 the behavior of the allies and Congress and 4 the ability of industry to meet new demands The new strategy is not simply an adjustment to existing defense doctrine or strategy but rather a fundamental revision of the way the United States has approached defense since 1945 Students and scholars interested in politico military strategy and government policy will find this book of great interest
