Legislature,1926 Responding to Youth Crime Paul Omaji,2003 This book presents a critique of the traditional responses to youth crime by criminal justice agencies in Australia UK New Zealand USA Canada and a vision of how these agencies could respond more effectively The critique examines the ways in which traditional criminal justice approaches trap young people into rather than turn them away from a life of crime The vision is for criminal justice agencies police courts and corrections to become more pro active partners in society s efforts to guide

young people towards becoming happy and productive citizens for these agencies to focus less on the exercise of retributive powers and to embrace restorative approaches and for agencies to develop a crime prevention role through partnership with community organisations Author Paul Omaji argues against concentrating resources on the symptom when the underlying causes are within our intellectual grasp and amenable to effective criminal justice responses Omaji demonstrates the capacity of criminal justice agencies to become constructive partners with community organisations in preventing youth crime and constructs ground rules for high impact partnerships Philosophy and Its Others William Desmond, 1990-01-01

Philosophy and its Others responds to the widespread sense that philosophy must renew its intellectual community with other significant ways of being and mind The author articulates philosophy's community of mind with the aesthetic the religious and the ethical without losing any of its own distinctive voice He develops an original and constructive position between these extremes the Hegelian extreme which reduces the plurality of others to a dialectical totality and the Wittgensteinian and deconstructive options that celebrate plurality but without a proper sense of the connectedness of philosophy and its others Hearings United States.
