The Fourteenth Chronicle Letter And Diaries Of John Dos Passos:

The Fourteenth Chronicle John Dos Passos, Townsend Ludington, 1974 Dos Passos's Early Fiction, 1912-1938 Michael Clark, 1987 Focuses on unpublished manuscripts and closely examines Dos Passos's first novels This book reveals how his practical aesthetics and use of myth come together in a triumph of form that presents an important vision of America The Fourteenth Chronicle: Selections from the Letters and Early Diaries of John Dos Passos Townsend Ludington, 1976 Editorial corrections are present in this copy of the publisher's typescript A Companion to Twentieth-Century United States Fiction David Seed, 2010-01-21 Through a wide ranging series of essays and relevant readings A Companion to Twentieth Century United States Fiction presents an overview of American fiction published since the conclusion of the First World War Features a wide ranging series of essays by American British and European specialists in a variety of literary fields Written in an approachable and accessible style Covers both classic literary figures and contemporary novelists Provides extensive suggestions for further reading at the end of each essay Literature at the Barricades Ralph F. Bogardus, Fred Hobson, 1982-06-30 Chiefly essays presented at the Fifth Alabama Symposium on English and American Literature Tuscaloosa Ala Oct 19 21 1978 Mourning Modernity Seth Moglen, 2007 In Mourning Modernity Seth Moglen offers a bold new map of American literary modernism as a psychologically and politically divided response to the injuries inflicted by modern capitalism The Great War and Americans in Europe, 1914-1917 Kenneth Rose, 2017-03-27 This book examines the experiences of Americans in Europe during the First World War prior to the U S declaration of war Key groups include volunteer soldiers doctors nurses ambulance drivers reporters diplomats peace activists charitable workers and long term American expatriate civilians What these Americans wrote about the Great War as published in contemporary books and periodicals provides the core source material for this volume Author Kenneth D Rose argues that these writings served the critical function of preparing the American public for the declaration of war one of the most important decisions of the twentieth century and defined the threat and consequences of the European conflict for Americans and American interests at home and abroad Sound Recording Technology and American Literature Jessica E. Teague, 2021-05-20 Phonographs tapes stereo LPs digital remix how did these remarkable technologies impact American writing This book explores how twentieth century writers shaped the ways we listen in our multimedia present Uncovering a rich new archive of materials this book offers a resonant reading of how writers across several genres such as John Dos Passos Langston Hughes William S Burroughs and others navigated the intermedial spaces between texts and recordings Numerous scholars have taken up remix a term co-opted from DJs and sound engineers as the defining aesthetic of twenty first century art and literature Others have examined modernism's debt to the phonograph But in the gap between these moments one finds that the reciprocal relationship between the literary arts and sonic technologies continued to evolve over the twentieth century A mix of American literary history sound studies and media archaeology this interdisciplinary study will appeal to scholars students and audiophiles Embattled Home Fronts Karsten Helge Piep, 2009 Embattled Home Fronts is an inquiry into the highly conflicted US American experience of World War I as it plays itself out in the diverse body of novelistic works to which it has given rise and by which it has been in turn shaped and commemorated As such this book naturally concerns itself with the formal aspects of artistic war representation But rather than merely endeavoring to illustrate how American writers from various backgrounds chose to depict World War I the present work seeks to uncover the particular ideologies and political practices that inform these representational choices To this end Embattled Home Fronts examines both canonized and marginalized US American World War I novels within the context of contemporaneous debates over shifting class gender and race relations The book contends that American literary representations of the Great War are shaped less by universal insights into modern society's self-destructiveness than by concerted efforts to fashion class gender and race specific experiences of warfare in ways that stabilize and heighten political group identities In moving beyond the customary focus on ironic war representations Embattled Home Fronts illustrates that the representational and ideological battles fought within American World War I literature not only shed light on the emergence of powerful identity political concepts such as the New Woman and the New Negro but also speak to the reappearance of utopian communitarian and social protest fictions in the early 1930s This study Embattled Home Fronts provides a new understanding of the relationship between war literature and home front politics that should be of interest to students and scholars working from a variety of disciplines and perspectives

World War I and America: Told By the Americans Who Lived It (LOA #289) A. Scott Berg, 2017-02-28 A landmark anthology of World War I history featuring 127 selections from over 80 Americans including soldiers airmen nurses and more who experienced the cataclysmic conflict first hand Few Americans appreciate the significance and intensity of America's experience of World War I the global cataclysm that transformed the modern world Published to mark the centenary of the US entry into the conflict World War I Told by the Americans Who Lived It brings together a wide range of writings by American participants and observers to tell a vivid and dramatic firsthand story from the outbreak of war in 1914 through the Armistice the Paris Peace Conference and the League of Nations debate The 88 men and women collected in the volume soldiers airmen nurses diplomats statesmen political activists journalists provide unique insights into how Americans of every stripe perceived the war why they supported or opposed intervention how they experienced the nightmarish reality of industrial warfare and how the conflict changed American life Among the writers war correspondent Richard Harding Davis witnesses the burning of Louvain Edith Wharton tours the war zones in the Argonne and Flanders John Reed records the devastation in Serbia and Galicia diplomats Henry Morgenthau and Leslie Davis report on the extermination of the Armenians Jane Addams and Emma Goldman warn against militarism pilots Victor Chapman and Edmond Genet describe flying with the Lafayette Escadrille infantry officer Hervey Allen recalls the hellish fighting at Fismette nurses Ellen N La Motte and Mary Borden depict the human wreckage brought into military hospitals suffragist Carrie Chapman Catt connects the war with the struggle for women's rights and Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes considers the limits of free speech in wartime W E B Du Bois James Weldon Johnson and Jessie Redmon Fauset expose the contradiction between the nation's claim to be fighting for democracy abroad and its brutal treatment of African Americans at home The international role of the United States is debated in strikingly contemporary terms by Wilson and his critics as the nation grapples with its emergence as a leading world power A coda presents three iconic literary works by Ernest Hemingway E E Cummings and John Dos Passos that capture the postwar disillusionment felt by many Americans Includes headnotes a chronology of events biographical and explanatory endnotes and an index
