The Framework Of Language Michigan Studies In The Humanities:

The Framework of Language Roman Jakobson, 1980 Handbook of Semiotics Winfried Noth, 1990-09-22 History and Classics of Modern Semiotics Sign and Meaning Semiotics Code and the Semiotic Field Language and Language Based Codes From Structuralism to Text Semiotics Schools and Major Figures Text Semiotics The Field Nonverbal Communication Aesthetics and Visual Communication The Cambridge Companion to Saussure Carol Sanders, 2004-12-02 Publisher Description Reflexive Language John A. Lucy, 1993-03-04 These innovative essays represent a critique of those researchers in the humanities and social sciences who fail to take language seriously The Logic of Markedness Edwin L. Battistella, 1996-08-22 Theories of language espoused by linguists during much of this century have assumed that there is a hierarchy to the elements of language such that certain constructions rules and features are unmarked while others are marked play for example is unmarked or neutral while played or player is marked This opposition referred to as markedness is one of the concepts which both Chomskyan generative grammar and Jakobsonian structuralism appear to share yet which each tradition has treated differently Battistella studies the historical development of the concept of markedness in the Prague School structuralism of Roman Jakobson its importation into generative linguistics and its subsequent development within Chomsky s principles and parameters framework He traces how structuralist and generative linguistics have drawn on and expanded the notion of markedness both as a means of characterizing linguistic constructs and as a theory of the innate language faculty Worlds Behind Words F. J. Heyvaert, F. Steurs, Frieda Steurs, 1989 Contemporary Marketing and Consumer Behavior John F. Sherry, 1995-05-02 Scholarly and extensively footnoted the book is meant to be used as a sourcebook for anthropological research The book s primary audience should be marketing and anthropology researchers and graduate students faculty and researchers P G Kishel in Choice As a business person responsible for the development of advertising strategies and advertising campaigns I was impressed with the contributors willingness and desire to apply anthropological principles to real world problems John Sherry Jr s comment sums it up nicely Anthropology is a practical discipline anchoring the blue sky thinking it encourages firmly to the local ground it inhabits We need to encourage blue sky thinking so we don t repeatedly get the same answers to our inquiries Anthropologists can help us with these issues This book gives me enormous hope that applied anthropology will help restore the tremendous value that can be gained through qualitative research techniques Today in marketing and advertising focus groups are grossly overused misused and underanalyzed I was encouraged and excited about the authors discussions of good ethnographies and focus groups that for example instead of simply asking respondents whether or not EMF causes cancer a far more creative and insightful exercise was performed with consumers and then was intensely analyzed by anthropologists All too often today qualitative research is carelessly and quickly administered and the analysis consists of a 30 minute debriefing at the end of the last focus group In the last few years the need for cross cultural consumer understanding has grown rapidly This phenomenon makes it imperative that not only must we fully understand the meanings of brands and products to our domestic consumers but we must know which meanings are transportable to consumers in other cultures John Sherry Jr's book suggests that anthropologists could and should have a major role in cross cultural consumer understanding Patricia A Cafferata President and Chief Executive Officer Young anthropologists as consumer researchers have been a powerful underground force for the past 15 years of innovative marketing Major companies as well as government and private institutions have looked to anthropologists to help when other research has failed John Sherry Jr has collected outstanding anthropological practitioners in this volume and they have written cutting edge chapters on product symbolism consumer culture advertising efficacy and international marketing The power of this collection lies in the fresh insights to each of these themes and the ability to reframe old problems to re-perceive what it means to live the life of a consumer as we approach the next century Steve Barnett Managing Director Global Business Network Containing original articles and empirical substance Contemporary Marketing and Consumer Behavior responds to a growing demand for scholarship more tuned to the empirical and practical realities of consumer culture Written by leading anthropologists who specialize in marketing and consumer research it is intended as a sourcebook for readers interested in consumption and its managerial consequences The topics and their treatments run a gamut of concerns including elements of the marketing mix such as goods and services advertising and promotion relationship management managerial intervention and development class and gender linked consumer behaviors and the production of consumption Anthropological perspectives and methods employed by the authors range from materialistic to semiotic and both qualitative and quantitative methods are employed Contributors range across time space and topics in pursuit of understanding The result is a multifaceted perspective of marketing and consumer behavior Also the remarks of eminent senior Fellows of the Association for Consumer Research who have drawn upon anthropology to make their own seminal contributions to a number of disciplines punctuate this exceptional volume A remarkable and extraordinary text Contemporary Marketing and Consumer Behavior is ideal for scholars students and professionals in marketing cultural studies gender studies psychology sociology anthropology and communication

Signs in Society Richard J. Parmentier, 1994-06-22 Richard Parmentier takes up Ferdinand de Saussure's challenge to study the life of signs in society by using semiotic tools proposed by Charles Sanders Peirce He studies how semiotic theory can illuminate highly complex social and cultural practices

Knowledge in Formation Janos J. Sarbo, Jozsef I. Farkas, Auke J.J. van Breemen, 2011-06-16 Humans have an extraordinary capability to combine different types of information in a single meaningful interpretation The quickness with which interpretation processes evolve suggests the existence of a uniform procedure for all domains In this book the authors suggest that such a procedure can be found They concentrate on the introduction of a theory of interpretation and they define a model that enables a meaningful representation of knowledge based on a dynamic view of information and a cognitive model of human information processing The book consists of three parts The first part focuses on the properties of signs and sign interpretation in the second part the authors introduce a model that complies with the conditions for sign processing set by the first part and in the third part they examine applications of their model in the domain of logic natural language reasoning and mathematics Finally they show how these domains pop up as perspectives in an overall model of knowledge representation The reader is assumed to have some interest in human information processing and knowledge modeling Natural language is considered in the obvious sense familiarity with linguistic theories is not required Sign theoretical concepts are restricted to a manageable subset which is introduced gently Finally some familiarity with basic concepts of propositional and syllogistic logic may be useful The Semiotic Web 1989 Thomas A. Sebeok, Jean Umiker-Sebeok, 2011-10-13 No detailed description available for The Semiotic Web 1989
