The Fringes of Power John Rupert Colville,1986     The Fringes of Power Sir John Rupert Colville,1985 The diaries of Winston Churchill s private secretary from 1941 to 1945 and from 1951 to 1955 provides a unique view of World War II of Churchill s wartime activities and those of his personal staff     The Fringes of Power: October 1941-1955 Sir John Rupert Colville,1987     The Fringes of Power John Colville,1987     The fringes of power : Downing Street diaries ; 1939 - 1955 ,1986     The Fringes of Power John Colville,1987     The Fringes of Power John Colville,1985     Having it So Good Peter Hennessy,2007-05-03 Winner of the Orwell Prize for Political Writing Peter Hennessy s Having it So Good Britain in the Fifties captures Britain in an extraordinary decade emerging from the shadow of war into growing affluence The 1950s was the decade in which Roger Bannister ran the four minute mile Bill Haley released Rock Around the Clock rationing ended and Britain embarked on the traumatic disastrous Suez War In this highly enjoyable original book Peter Hennessy takes his readers into front rooms classrooms cabinet rooms and the new high street coffee bars of Britain to recapture as no previous history has the feel the flavour and the politics of this extraordinary time of change Utterly engaging a treat It breathes exhilaration Libby Purves The Times If the Gods gossip this is how it would sound Philip Ziegler Spectator Books of the Year A particular treat fine wise and meticulously researched Andrew Marr Stands clear of the field as our best narrative history of this decisive decade Peter Clarke Sunday Times A compelling narrative Hennessy s love of the flesh and blood of politics breathes on every page Tim Gardam Observer The late Ben Pimlott once described Hennessy as something of a national institution You can forget the first two of those five words Guardian     Electing Our Masters Jon Lawrence,2009-03-26 In this engagingly written history of electioneering in Britain from the eighteenth century to the present Jon Lawrence explores the changing relationship between politicians and public Throughout this period he argues British politics has been characterized by bruising public rituals intended to bestow legitimacy on politicians by obliging them to face an often irreverent public on broadly equal terms Face to face interaction was central both to the disorderly civic rituals of eighteenth century politics and to the Victorian and Edwardian election meeting Perhaps surprisingly it also survived in pretty rude health between the wars despite the emergence of the new mass communication media of radio and cinema But the same cannot be said of the post war era and the rise of television Today most politicians are content merely to offer the semblance of meaningful engagement walkabouts canvassing and meetings are all designed to ensure that most senior politicians come into contact only with the smiling faces of that dwindling band the party faithful Lloyd George and Churchill might have relished the rough and tumble of a tumultuous public meeting but their modern counterparts tend to be more risk averse and not without reason given that the cameras are always present to capture their mishaps But this is not another nostalgic lament for a lost golden age On the contrary Electing Our Masters argues that politicians frequently still crave the kudos to be derived from bruising encounters with an irreverent public hence Tony Blair s so called masochism strategy in the 2005 election campaign with its succession of gruelling sessions before live studio audiences As Lawrence points out the vital question for today is can we persuade our broadcasters that such encounters must form a staple of modern mediated politics

Churchill's Cold War Klaus Larres, 2002-01-01 En dybtgående veldokumenteret analyse af britisk udenrigspolitik i gennem de første 10 efterkrigsår herunder bl.a. den engelsk-amerikansk-franske manøvre for at afværge Sovjetunionens bestrebelser for at genforene Tyskland
