explored via a series of case studies that includes Spatz's own practice as research to productively confront hegemonic modes of white writing and white institutionality. Ultimately taking Jewishness as a paradigmatically molecular identity variously configured as racial, ethnic, religious, or national, they offer a series of concrete methodological and formal proposals for working at the intersections of embodied identities, artistic techniques, and alternative forms of knowledge. Race and the Forms of Knowledge: Technique, Identity, and Place in Artistic Research takes inspiration from recent critical studies of blackness and indigeneity to show how artistic research is always involved in the production and transformation of identity. Spatz offers a toolkit of practical methods and concepts from molecular identities to audiovisual ethnotechnics and earthing the laboratory for reimagining the university and other contemporary institutions. Alice Munro Carol Mazur, Cathy Moulder, 2007-04-23 This bibliography compiled to fill a gap in literary research relating to Munro's work covers all of her fictional writing up to 2005 and includes annotations to interviews, Munro's non-fiction writings, and hundreds of critical books, theses, and articles. These descriptive annotations coupled with a detailed subject index display the broad range of subject approaches, assessments, and angles by which her complex, deep, and multi-layered work has been scrutinized by academics, journalists, writers, and critics. Slices of Life Thalia Rubio, 1993 B A compilation of unadapted, unabridged stories and essays by a series of well-known authors, this volume provides insight into modern North American society using North American writings to describe the many different points of view that make up Canadian, American, and universal cultural themes. From such popular authors as James Thurber, Roald Dahl, Grace Paley, and Alice Munro, this sourcebook explores a variety of topics of universal interest, including the role of the elderly in today's society, discrimination, handicaps, families, and justice. Suitable for anyone involved or interested in universal societal issues in North America. American English Walt Wolfram, Natalie Schilling, 2015-12-21 The new edition of this classic text chronicles recent breakthrough developments in the field of American English, covering regional, ethnic, and gender-based differences.
