Tasmans Legacy The New Zealand Dutch Connection:

Strangers Arrive Leonard Bell, 2017-11-17 None of us had the faintest idea where we were going but during 1938-39 the town Christchurch was made strangely interesting for anyone like myself with the scattered arrival of the refugees. All at once there were people among us who were actually from Vienna or Chemnitz or Berlin who knew the work of Schoenberg and Gropius. Anthony Alpers 1985. From the 1930s through the 1950s a substantial number of forced migrants, refugees from Nazism, displaced people after World War II and escapees from Communist countries arrived in New Zealand from Europe. Among them were an extraordinary group of artists and writers, photographers and architects whose European modernism radically reshaped the arts in this country. In words and pictures Strangers Arrive tells their story. Ranging across the arts from photographer Irene Koppel to art dealer and printmaker Kees Hos, architect Imric Porsolt to writer Antigone Kefala, Leonard Bell takes us inside New Zealand's bookstores and coffeehouses, studios and galleries to introduce us to a compelling body of artistic work. He asks key questions: How were migrants received by New Zealanders? How did displacement and settlement in New Zealand transform their work? How did the arrival of European modernists intersect with the burgeoning nationalist movement in the arts in New Zealand? Strangers Arrive introduces us to a talented group of aliens who were critical catalysts for change in New Zealand culture.

Tasman's Legacy Hank Schouten, 1992 Studie over de Nederlandse emigranten naar Nieuw Zeeland

Settlers Jock Phillips, Terry Hearn, 2013-10-01 Analyzing everything from shipping records to death registers, this book takes an in-depth look at New Zealand's European ancestors, exploring the origins of the island's national identity. Using individual examples of immigrants and their families, it examines their geographical origins, their occupational and class backgrounds, and their religion and values to get a better understanding of the lives and motivations of New Zealand's first settlers.

Bilingual Children's Language and Literacy Development Roger Barnard, Ted Glynn, 2003-01-01 This book contains case studies relating the experience of bilingual children in various settings in New Zealand primary schools. The contexts include a Maori bilingual school, a Samoan bilingual unit, and mainstream classrooms which cater for immigrant and deaf children. Suggestions for educational policy, teacher development, and research are made.

Paradise Reforged James Belich, 2002-02-28 Paradise Reforged picks up where Making Peoples left off, taking the story of the New Zealanders from the 1880s to the end of the twentieth century. It begins with the search for Better Britain and ends by analyzing the modern Maori resurgence, the new Pakeha consciousness, and the implications of a reinterpreted past for New Zealand's future. Along the way, the book deals with subjects ranging from sport and sex to childhood and popular culture. Critics hailed Making Peoples as brilliant, and the most ambitious book yet written on New Zealand's past. Paradise Reforged, its successor, adopts a similarly incisive original sweep across the New Zealand historical landscape, confronting the myths of the past. That some of its themes are uncomfortably close to the present makes the result all the more fascinating.
