Tobey,2023-11-15 Before 1930 the domestic market for electrical appliances was segmented but New Deal policies and programs created a true mass market reshaping the electrical and housing markets and guiding them toward mandated social goals The New Deal identified electrical refrigeration as a key technology to reform domestic labor raise family health and build family assets New Deal incentives led to nearly fifty percent of Title I National Housing Act loans being used to buy electric refrigerators in the 1930s New Deal policies ultimately created the mass commodity culture of home owning families that typified the conservative 1950s This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1996 Home Sweat Home Elizabeth Patton,Mimi Choi,2014-01-23 Coeditors Elizabeth Patton and Mimi Choi argue that an in depth examination of media images of housework from the mid nineteenth century to the early twenty first century is long overdue Modern depictions often imply that certain concerns can be resolved through excessive domesticity reflecting some of the complicated and unfinished issues of second wave feminism Home Sweat Home Perspectives on Housework and Modern Relationships reveals how widespread the cultural image of perfect housewives and the invisibility of household labor were in the past and remain today In this collection of essays contributors explore the construction of women as homemakers and the erasure of household labor from the middle class home in popular representations of housework They concentrate on such matters as the impact of second wave feminism on families and gender relations of popular culture especially in film television magazines and advertising on our views of what constitutes home life and gender relations and of changing views of sexuality and masculinity within the domestic sphere Home Sweat Home will interest students and scholars of gender cultural media and communication studies sociology and American history and appeal to anyone curious about housework gender relations and popular culture New Books on Women and Feminism ,1986 The Western Pennsylvania Historical Magazine Charles William Dahlinger,1986 "A Career's Wonderful, But Love is More Wonderful Still" Sandra Engler,2005 New Boundaries in Political Science Fiction Donald M. Hassler,Clyde Wilcox,2008 This book offers an interpretation of the evolution of a growing genre in literary film and television As a follow up to their 1997 collection Political Science Fiction Hassler and Wilcox have assembled twenty four noted international scholars representing diverse fields of inquiry to assess the influential voices and trends from the past decade in New Boundaries in Political Science Fiction The terrors and technologies that permeate our daily lives have changed radically in the past decade further highlighting the underlying speculations on our contested future that remain the core of this genre In surveying the vast expanse of politically charged science fiction of recent years the editors posit that the defining dilemma for these tales rests in whether identity and meaning germinate from progressive linear changes or progress or from a continuous return to primitive realities of war death and the competition for survival The discussion of political implications ranges among writers from H G Wells Robert A Heinlein Ursula Le Guin and Isaac Asimov to more radical recent voices such as Iain M Banks William Gibson Joanna Russ Philip K Dick and China Mieville While emphasizing the literature the collection also addresses political science fiction found on film and television from the original Star Trek through the newest incarnation of Battlestar Galactica

Nineteenth-Century Women Writers of the English-Speaking World Hofstra University, 1986-11-12 Women in the nineteenth century wrote prolifically and memorably The original and provocative essays in this collection address a variety of aspects of the life and literature of nineteenth century writers of distinction who happened to be women and sometimes wrote from a women s point of view but who always reflected the world in which they lived The majority of the contributions are devoted to detailed analysis of the themes in the literature itself primarily in the areas of intellectual conditioning male female relationships social imperatives and spiritual questions The collection as a whole provides a framework for twentieth century readers so that they may draw instructive conclusions about women s lives in the previous century
