The Gourdin Family:

Gourdin John Raymond Gourdin,1995 The Gourdin family traces its ancestors back to the seven children of Dr Robert Marion Gourdin and his slave Daphne Singleton living on Lenuds Ferry Plantation in Georgetown Distirict between the 1830 and 1870s The Gourdin Family Larry E. Pursley,1980 Louis Gourdin d 1716 immigrated from France to America before 1693 He and his wife Mary Ann settled near Jamestown in what is now Charleston County South Carolina Descendants remained in the South for many generations Gourdin Family Papers Gourdin family,1727 Genealogical material 1727 1852 concerning the Gourdin family and related families includes clippings copies of wills notes family Bible records and other items Gentlemen Merchants Philip N. Racine,2008 Gentlemen Merchants preserves the correspondence between members of two wealthy slaveholding merchant families the Gourdins and the Youngs in nineteenth century Charleston South Carolina Because the correspondence lasts over forty years the letters provide a significant record of historical Southern themes Plantation born urban dwellers the correspondents comment deeply and widely on their own family history religion in the South slavery and race business secession Civil War and Reconstruction Gentlemen Merchants offers a fresh perspective on the Old South s elite slaveholders from the vantage point of commercial offices docks and wharves instead of the rural plantation These prominent Charleston families grew wealthy through commercial trading of Sea Island and upland cotton rice and wine Charleston emerges as a main character in these letters as the discrepancy between the wealthy upper class and working class immigrants becomes more pronounced There are also letters from family members who traveled widely for business and pleasure They recount travel adventures in England and France on the slopes of Mount Vesuvius and at Niagara Falls The Gourdins and Youngs lived in material comfort for over three decades and fought to preserve their way of life the basis of which was made possible by slavery The family was one shaped by privilege and destroyed by war When the world changed as a result of the Civil War the family members were left penniless It is unusual that both sides of this correspondence have survived making this collection an extraordinary primary source for historical research Historically minded general readers will also enjoy the perspective on the urban South that these letters provide Philip N Racine published numerous articles and books about southern history including Piedmont Farmer He is currently the William R Kenan Professor of History at Wofford College where he has taught since 1969 Love and Loss Robin Jaffee Frank,New Haven Yale University,2000-01-01 Most often portrait miniatures were painted in watercolor on thin disks of ivory They were sometimes worn as jewelry sometimes framed to be viewed privately Many were painted by specialists although renowned easel artists including Benjamin West John Singleton Copley and Charles Willson Peale also created them to commemorate births engagements marriages deaths and other joinings or separations The book traces the development of this exquisite art form revealing the close ties between the history of the miniature and the history of American private life BOOK JACKET

The Southern Middle Class in the Long Nineteenth Century Jonathan Daniel Wells,Jennifer R. Green,2011-12-12 Jonathan Daniel Wells and Jennifer R Green provide a series of provocative essays reflecting innovative original research on professional and commercial interests in the nineteenth century South a place often seen as being composed of just two classes planters and slaves Rather an active middle class made up of men and women devoted to the cultural and economic modernization of Dixie worked with each other and occasionally their northern counterparts to bring reforms to the region With a balance of established and younger authors of antebellum and postbellum analyses and of narrative and quantitative methodologies these essays offer new ways to think about politics society gender and culture during this exciting era of southern history The contributors show that many like minded southerners sought to create a New South with a society similar to that of the North They supported the creation of public schools and an end to dueling but less progressive reform was also endorsed such as building factories using slave labor rather than white wage earners The Southern Middle Class in the Long Nineteenth Century significantly influences thought on the social structure of the South the centrality of class in history and the events prior to and after the Civil War

Performing Disunion Lawrence T. McDonnell,2018-06-30 This book traces how and why the secession of the South during the American Civil War was accomplished at ground level through the actions of ordinary men Adopting a micro historical approach Lawrence T McDonnell works to connect small events in new ways he places one company of the secessionist Minutemen in historical context exploring the political and cultural dynamics of their choices Every chapter presents little known characters whose lives and decisions were crucial to the history of Southern disunion McDonnell asks readers to consider the past with fresh eyes analyzing the structure and dynamics of social networks and social movements He presents the dissolution of the Union through new events actors issues and ideas illuminating the social contradictions that cast the South s most conservative city
