The Great Living System The Religion Emerging From The Sciences:

The Great Living System John Ruskin Clark,1984 Toward an Ethic of Citizenship William K. Dustin,1999 The idea for this book arose out of a little known political scandal known as phonegate that occurred in Minnesota in the early 1990 s in which a number of legislators were found to have been abusing their phone privileges The hubris of the legislature in response to the discovery of this abuse not only made me rather angry but since I had been called for jury duty the year before gave me the idea that service in the legislature ought to be a duty of citizenship like jury duty Although the idea of the citizen legislature goes back to Aristotle serious consideration of it raises the question of what is meant by citizenship and representation This book addresses that question It is an attempt to develop a model of citizenship in which representation is simultaneously a fundamental right and the highest obligation After developing these ideas at a rather high level of abstraction the book concludes with a proposed constitutional amendment for the State of Minnesota to illustrate how the model will work in practice

World Religions and the New Era of Science Janak Singh,2010-07-22 Since ancient times the enduring religious concepts of love your fellow being live truthfully and do to others what you would like them to do to you have laid the foundations of the laws of civilized human societies The presence of a supernatural power and its feeling at a personal level has been a source of inspiration and emotional satisfaction for the spiritual believer The spiritual enhancement reinforced the human mind to achieve greater goodness in the conduct of life All religions have contributed significantly in shaping humanity and they continue to do so World religions have a common spiritual heritage to guide us on the path of a purposeful life of kindness peace and harmony in spite of differences in languages cultures and historical origins Science has demystified the awe of natural phenomenon like earthquakes volcanic eruptions and violent storms It has eradicated many ailments and created amenities to facilitate life in numerous ways It has helped in the religious mission of a happier life Benefits of science and technology are available to everybody The geographic barriers have been shrunk for our global township of diverse cultures and faiths However science has also produced the menace of thermonuclear and biological weapons capable of global devastations In this new era of science religion has a greater role to play for education in universal awakening to purge prejudice and antagonism that trigger conflicts and wars Religion and science have a new paradigm for humanity Live and help to live

Rebirth of the Sacred Robert Nadeau,2012-11-06 Argues that a new dialogue between truths of science and religion provides a basis for articulating and disseminating an environmental ethos which could result in the fairly rapid emergence of well organized and highly effective worldwide movement in religious environmentalism

Science and Religion Lucas F. Johnston,Whitney Bauman,2014-02-05 This collection offers new perspectives on the study of science and religion bringing together articles that highlight the differences between epistemological systems and call into question the dominant narrative of modern science The volume provides historical context for the contemporary discourse around religion and science detailing the emergence of modern science from earlier movements related to magic and other esoteric arts the impact of the Reformation on science and the dependence of Western science on the so called Golden Age of Islam In addition contributors examine the impacts of Western science and colonialism on the ongoing theft of the biological resources of traditional and indigenous communities in the name of science and medicine The volume s multi perspectival approach aims to refocus the terms of the conversation around science and religion taking into consideration multiple rationalities outside of the dominant discourse Leadership and the New Science Margaret J.
