The Age of Briggs and Stratton Peter Culley, 2008-04-20 The world s largest manufacturer of the two stroke engine may seem like an unusual jumping off point for poetry But Peter Culley s second book about his hometown Nanaimo stems from his realization that there is not an hour of his waking existence when he cannot somewhere hear a leaf blower a lawn mower or another piece of Briggs Stratton powered machinery This book was written in a little over a year a year which saw droughts in Tofino floods on the Gulf Coast Canadian boots on the ground in the never ending war on terror Meanwhile Hammertown Culley s half imagined version of the place where he lives is being ripped apart by corporate boondoggles accelerating development and the triumph of the service economy In Culley s bitterly lyrical poems elements of this disappearing world appear as bad jokes snatches of song and passages of reminiscence Old records and half remembered films are arrayed against impending collapse Like small and noisy engines themselves Culley s poems address the impossible contradictions of our unnamed era rural mountain communities Ms Vaughan s landscapes and portraits detail the increments and textures of time Ms Matheson s pictures present the architecture of formality that expresses the character of those who built and lived in such spaces as well as what is past and passing Mr Rosenthal s photographs freeze ordinary moments thereby allowing us to see in them what is extraordinary and permanent As Georgann Eubanks notes in her introduction Quartet presents images that hum with subtle harmonies each photographer adding another dimension to the resonant chord all reminding us that against the din of digital media there is yet a place for still images and deeper reflection

Music in the Mountains Kara Rogers Thomas,2004 This thesis investigates the role traditional music plays in shaping and solidifying concepts of regional identity in Western North Carolina The genres of traditional American music encompassed by this study include Ballads Old Time Music and Bluegrass Despite the ubiquity of these traditions across the national landscape all three genres are recognized both within and beyond the Southeast as being representative of a Southern Appalachian ethos This work investigates the causes for such deep associations between music and place Four years of fieldwork and observation including the author s active participation with the region s Folk Heritage Committee which hosts traditional music events through the summer months provides this study s methodological framework In brief this work examines the multiple traditional music communities in Asheville North Carolina and the surrounding area provides biographical sketches of a small sampling of area musicians and shows how individual musicians and distinctive traditional music communities merge at area festivals to reify concepts of regionalism It finds that the designation of Ballads Old Time Music and Bluegrass Music as Southern Appalachian regional music is both constructed and affirmed by the interplay between outsiders and insiders conceptualizations of regional identity
