Trauma and Transformation in African Literature J. Roger Kurtz, 2020-10-04 This book fills a gap in the field of contemporary trauma studies by interrogating the relevance of trauma for African literatures Kurtz argues that a thoughtful application of trauma theory in relation to African literatures is in fact a productive exercise and furthermore that the benefits of this exercise include not only what it can do for African literature but also what it can do for trauma studies He makes the case for understanding trauma healing within the larger project of peacebuilding with an emphasis on the transformative potential of what he terms the African moral imagination as embodied in the creative work of its writers He offers readings of selected works by Chinua Achebe Ngugi wa Thiong'o Chimamanda Adichie and Nuruddin Farah as case studies for how African literature can influence our understanding of trauma and trauma healing This will be a valuable volume for those with interests in current trends and developments in trauma studies African literary studies postcolonial studies and memory studies

Unspeakable Truths and Happy Endings Rebecca Coffey, 1998 With the electrifying tales of 15 survivors of catastrophic human cruelty at its narrative core Unspeakable Truths squabbles about victimhood and recovered memory The book concludes that as thinking and caring inhabitants of a menacing world we must all learn to hear unspeakable truths At the same time that we risk accepting the truths about violence and degradation that survivors memories hold we must reasonably engage critical thinking when memories of violence and degradation stretch the limits of our credulity We owe it to survivors to listen compassionately we owe it to ourselves to listen prudently
