The Myth of the Shrinking State Baldev Raj Nayar, 2009-04-29 This study investigates the nature of the impact of globalization on the Indian state It takes as its point of departure the thesis set out in the introductory essay that globalization has resulted in the erosion of the economic and welfare roles of the state According to the author the shift to liberalization the resurgence of the private sector and the acceleration of growth rate paradoxically empowered and enabled the state He argues that the examination of the quantitative data strongly points to the continued expansion of the economic and welfare roles of the state rather than decline Therefore the retrenchment of the state does not have much merit He emphasizes on the fundamental continuity in the key functions of the state He concludes by saying that the state is lagging behind in the areas of internal security education and health and makes suggestions for institutional reforms
