The Haunting Image 22:

Haunting Images Tine Gammeltoft, 2014-02-22 Based on years of careful ethnographic fieldwork in Hanoi Haunting Images offers a frank and compassionate account of the moral quandaries that accompany innovations in biomedical technology At the center of the book are case studies of thirty pregnant women whose fetuses were labeled abnormal after an ultrasound examination By following these women and their relatives through painful processes of reproductive decision making Tine M Gammeltoft offers intimate ethnographic insights into everyday life in contemporary Vietnam and a sophisticated theoretical exploration of how subjectivities are forged in the face of moral assessments and demands Across the globe ultrasonography and other technologies for prenatal screening offer prospective parents new information and present them with agonizing decisions never faced in the past For anthropologists this diagnostic capability raises important questions about individuality and collectivity responsibility and choice Arguing for more sustained anthropological attention to human quests for belonging Haunting Images addresses existential questions of love and loss that concern us all

The Ghost in the Image Cecilia Sayad, 2021 Our century has seen the proliferation of reality shows devoted to ghost hunts documentaries on hauntings and horror films presented as found footage The horror genre is no longer exclusive to fiction and its narratives actively engage us in web forums experiential viewing videogames and creepypasta These participative modes of relating to the occult alongside the impulse to seek proof of either its existence or fabrication have transformed the production and consumption of horror stories The Ghost in the Image offers a new take on the place that supernatural phenomena occupy in everyday life arguing that the relationship between the horror genre and reality is more intimate than we like to think Through a revisionist and transmedial approach to horror this book investigates our expectations about the ability of photography and film to work as evidence A historical examination of technology's role in at once showing and forging truths invites questions about our investment in its powers Behind our obsession with documenting everyday life lies the hope that our cameras will reveal something extraordinary The obsessive search for ghosts in the image however shows that the desire to find them is matched by the pleasure of calling a hoax

Basic Oral Radiology Anil Ghom, 2014 This new edition has been fully revised to bring dental students fully up to date with the latest advances in oral medicine Divided into five sections the book begins with an introduction to the basics followed by sections on Diseases of Oral Structures Systemic Diseases Manifested in the Jaw Drugs Used in Dentistry and Miscellaneous Topics A free book entitled Basic Oral Radiology is also included with this third edition

Body Horror John Taylor, 1998-09 What compels us to look at shocking photographs or alternatively to look away Should the media use disturbing images to inform at the risk of offending How is our sense of politics morality and culture affected when we are exposed to gruesome images of accidents and disasters murder and execution grief and death In Body Horror John Taylor addresses these questions by examining how the media presents unsettling pictures especially those of dead and injured foreigners Drawing on recent experiences in the Gulf Bosnia and Rwanda Taylor argues that documentary photography for all the horror it reproduces ultimately defines a democracy Fully aware of the voyeuristic aspects of photojournalism Taylor probes the difficulty of applying moral imperatives when separating the utility of showing images of suffering and violence from the risk of either insulting or gratifying public sensibilities A compelling documentary of photography s cultural and political power Body Horror analyzes the moral responsibility attached to publishing and bearing witness to photographs of violence and the historical amnesia that arises when such imagery remains unseen

About to Die Barbie Zelizer,2010-12-01 Images of people about to die surface repeatedly in the news particularly around the difficult and unsettled events of war political revolution terrorism natural disaster and other crises Their appearance raises questions What equips an image to deliver the news how much does the public need to know to make sense of what they see and what do these images contribute to historical memory About To Die addresses these questions by using images of imminent death as a litmus test for considering news imagery and visual meaning more broadly

The Haunted Self David Lomas,2000-01-01 The question Who am I resounded throughout the surrealist movement The exploration of dreams and the unconscious prompted surrealists to reject the notion of a unified indivisible self by revealing the subject to be haunted by otherness and instability In this book David Lomas explores the surrealist concepts of the self and subjectivity from a psychoanalytic viewpoint Employing a series of case studies devoted to individual artists Lomas arrives at a radically new account of surrealist art and its cultural and intellectual roots Weaving together psychoanalytic and historical material the author analyses works by Ernst Dali Masson Miro and Picasso with regard to such themes as automatism hysteria the uncanny and the abject Lomas focuses closely on individual artworks examines the specific circumstances in which they were produced and offers new insights into the artists and their projects as well as the theories of Bataille Breton and others Lomas demonstrates the powerful connection between the history of psychoanalysis and the history of surrealism and along the way shows the unique value of psychoanalytic theory as a tool for the art historian
