C. De Prosop, 2016-01-21 The Latest Early American Literature according to readers for the University of Delaware Press is a collection of polemics and manifestoes In it R C De Prosop bids to follow in the footsteps of the two rare early Americanist dissenters whom Philip F Gura once distinguished as prophets without honor in the field William Spengemann and Michael Colacurcio The book contends that a supposedly retired nationalist modernist telos continues to reign in most of the latest scholarship and even more influentially in all of the current literary histories and anthologies no matter how expansive in gender ethnic racial and hemispheric inclusiveness they profess to be Old teloi in particular that old American exceptionalist one can be cunning Updating and expanding upon essays written over the past thirty years De Prosop proposes not only negatively to critique how the latest scholarly receptions of early American literature differ insignificantly from the earlier ones but positively to propose how a transnationalist concession that as a neocolonial culture America's lags behind that of Europe might advance post modern historiography by radically repositioning the past as no longer the present's diachronic predecessor but to quote Lyotard's semiotics its synchronic differend Closer to earth De Prosopo tries at the same time to remain mindful of the pedagogical imperative that ultimately to save the texts of early American literature will require making them legible to average non specialist never to become specialist undergraduate general education students To facilitate this he introduces in the concluding section of The Latest Early American Literature what will probably be taken as its most radical intervention the redefinition of Edgar Allan Poe as an early American writer The Annual Literary Index William Isaac Fletcher, Richard Rogers Bowker, 1901 Annual Literary Index, 1895 Early American Literature and Culture Kathryn Zabelle Derounian-Stodola, 1992 Early American Literature and Culture Essays Honoring Harrison T Meserole a timely collection that reflects changing conceptions of the field contains studies by leading scholars and celebrates the achievements of Harrison T Meserole colonialist bibliographer and Shakespeare scholar extraordinaire These dynamic essays deal with areas at the forefront of current research such as popular culture minority and non Anglo writings recanonization genre studies and Anglo American links All the contributors were Meserole's students sometime during the twenty eight years he taught at The Pennsylvania State University and all have established their own scholarly reputations since then Timothy K Conley examines the institutionalization of American literature Donald P Wharton considers the influence of the English Renaissance on Colonial sea literature Paul J Lindholdt provides an overview of a vast popular genre the colonial promotion tract Raymond F Dolle uncovers the satire against Sir Walter Raleigh the romantic treasure seeker by his more hard nosed contemporary John Smith Reiner Smolinski's revisionist essay argues that New England's leading divines did not as many still believe justify their Errand eschatologically Ada Van Gastel discusses the main text of the early Dutch colonists by Adriaen van der Donck Kathryn Zabelle Derounian Stodola analyzes Sarah Kemble Knight's travel journal as an unusual example of a Puritan picaresque Jeffrey Walker probes eighteenth century undergraduate commonplace books revealing the seamy side of Harvard undergraduate life Stephen R Yarbrough examines Jonathan Edwards's conceptions of time in the last work he saw to press before he died Robert D Arner introduces and annotates two unpublished poems by the Samuel Pepys of eighteenth century Virginia Robert Bolling Robert D Habich explores Franklin's rhetorical method as rooted in contemporary empirical science Cheryl Z Oreovicz shows how Mercy Warren's tragedies contained stern messages for the post Revolutionary Lost generation Jayne K Kribbs looks at the popular novelist John Davis as a candidate for recanonization and Paul Sorrentino shows that Mason Lock Weems's so called children's classic The Life of Washington is a complex artistic work for adults BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Encyclopedia of Asian-American Literature Seiwoong Oh, 2010-05-12 Traces American writers whose roots are in all parts of Asia including China Korea Japan Southeast Asia the Philippines the Indian subcontinent and the Middle East
