The Penguin Atlas of North American History Colin MacEvedy, 1979 The Long Road to Change Eric Nellis, 2019-02-06 Breaking from traditional historical interpretations of the period Eric Nellis takes a long view of the origins and consequences of the Revolution and asserts that the Revolution was not as others have argued generated by a well developed desire for independence but rather by a series of shifts in British imperial policies after 1750 Nellis argues that the Revolution was still being shaped as late as 1820 and that many racial territorial economic and constitutional issues were submerged in the growth of the republic and the enthusiasm of the population In addressing the nature of the Revolution Nellis suggests that the American Revolution and American political systems and principles are unique and much less suited for export than many Americans believe

Regions and Powers Barry Buzan, Ole Wæver, 2003-12-04 This book develops the idea that since decolonisation regional patterns of security have become more prominent in international politics The authors combine an operational theory of regional security with an empirical application across the whole of the international system Individual chapters cover Africa the Balkans CIS Europe East Asia EU Europe the Middle East North America South America and South Asia The main focus is on the post Cold War period but the history of each regional security complex is traced back to its beginnings By relating the regional dynamics of security to current debates about the global power structure the authors unfold a distinctive interpretation of post Cold War international security avoiding both the extreme oversimplifications of the unipolar view and the extreme deterritorialisations of many globalist visions of a new world disorder Their framework brings out the radical diversity of security dynamics in different parts of the world
