Penguins* Anita Sanchez, Chelsea Clinton, 2024-09-03 Penguins have marched and waddled their ways into kids hearts With this book readers can become penguin experts and learn how to save the animals they love Featuring an introduction from Chelsea Clinton Did you know that penguins are the fastest swimming birds on the planet How about that their tuxedo like coloring actually helps them keep their bodies at just the right temperature Or that the biggest penguins of all Emperor penguins can dive deep into the water holding their breath for almost half an hour Perfect for all animal lovers and penguin fans in particular this book is filled with all the facts you need to know to become a penguin expert Where are penguins found What s it like to be a penguin Why are penguins endangered and who has been working hard to save them Read this book and find out how you can help save the penguins Complete with black and white photographs a list of fun penguin facts and things that kids can do right this very moment to help save penguins from extinction this book with an introduction by animal advocate Chelsea Clinton is a must for every family school and community library The Nature of Magic Susan Greenwood, 2020-06-03 This book examines how and why practitioners of nature religion Western witches druids shamans seek to relate spiritually with nature through magical consciousness Magic and consciousness are concepts that are often fraught with prejudice and ambiguity respectively Greenwood develops a new theory of magical consciousness by arguing that magic ultimately has more to do with the workings of the human mind in terms of an expanded awareness than with socio cultural explanations She combines her own subjective insights gained from magical practice with practitioners in depth accounts and sustained academic theory on the process of magic She also tracks magical consciousness in philosophy myth folklore story telling and the hi tech discourse of postmodernity and asks important questions concerning nature religion s environmental credentials such as whether it is inherently ecological as many of its practitioners claim Reordering the Natural World Annabelle Sabloff, 2001-02-15 In Reordering the Natural World Annabelle Sabloff argues that the everyday practices of contemporary capitalist society reinforce the conviction that we are profoundly alienated from the rest of nature At the same time she reveals the often disguised affinities and sense of connection urban Canadians manifest in their relations with animals and the natural world Sabloff reflects on how the discipline of anthropology has contributed to the prevailing Western perception of a divide between nature and culture She suggests that the present ecological crisis has resulted largely from the ways in which Western societies have construed nature as a cultural system Since new ideas about nature may be critical in changing humanity's destructive interactions with the biosphere Reordering the Natural World is invaluable in exploring how urban Canadians develop and sustain their current relationship with the macrocosm and in considering whether these relationships might be altered by reconceptualizing anthropology itself as an integral part of natural history With this unique text Sabloff not only provides provocative insight into the study of relations between humans and the natural world she lays the cornerstone for building an entirely new structure for the study of anthropology itself
