Soft Edge A Natural History And Future Of The Information Revolution:

The Soft Edge Paul Levinson, 1997 The Soft Edge is a one of a kind history of the information revolution In his lucid and direct style Paul Levinson historian and philosopher of media and communications gives us more than just a history of information technologies The Soft Edge is a book about theories on the evolution of technology the effects that human choice has on this revolution and what is in store for us in the future Paul Levinson's engaging voice guides us on a tour that explains how communications media have been responsible for major developments in history and for profound changes in our day to day lives Levinson presents the intriguing argument that technology actually becomes more human We see how information technologies are selected on the basis of how well they meet human needs Why is email more like speech than print is Why didn't the arrival of television destroy the radio These and many more thought provoking questions are answered in The Soft Edge Boldly extending and deepening the pathways blazed by McLuhan Paul Levinson has provided us with a brilliant and exciting study of life with our old media our new media and the media still to come The Soft Edge

Paul Levinson, 1998 New Perspectives on CALL for Second Language Classrooms Sandra Fotos, Charles M. Browne, 2013-06-17 This practical handbook is designed to help language teachers teacher trainers and students learn more about their options for using computer assisted language learning CALL and develop an understanding of the theory and research supporting these options The chapters in New Perspectives on CALL for Second Language Classrooms synthesize previous CALL theory and research and describe practical applications to both second and foreign language classrooms including procedures for evaluating these applications The implementation of CALL at the institutional level is also addressed with attention to designing multimedia language laboratories and creating collaborative CALL based projects between educational institutions Although many chapters locate their descriptions of CALL activities and projects within the ESL EFL setting the principles and activities described are equally useful for other language settings The book does not require prior knowledge of CALL computers or software To assist readers a glossary of CALL terms and an appendix of CALL Web sites are provided The book also has its own accompanying Web site <http://www.eribaum.com/callforL2classrooms> presenting chapter abstracts author contact information and regularly updated links to pedagogical research and teacher development sites By integrating theoretical issues research findings and practical guidelines on different aspects of CALL this book offers teachers multiple levels of resources for their own professional development for needs based creation of specific CALL activities for curriculum design and for implementation of institutional and inter institutional CALL projects On Reflection Ellen Rose, 2013 In On Reflection Ellen Rose seeks to initiate a much needed discussion about what reflection is and should be The word crops up repeatedly in the discourse of teaching and learning but its meaning is often vague True reflection deep sustained thought that takes place in conditions of solitude and silence has been undermined by new technologies that speed up the flow of information and the pace of life as well as by contemporary schooling that unreflectively embraces technological and market imperatives in the name of outcomes efficiencies and the preparation of a global workforce Drawing on a wide range of thinkers past and present Rose outlines the important role reflective thought can play in the classroom and in the world at large and makes a powerful case for slowing down and returning to our thoughts Business Communication Peter Hartley, Clive Bruckmann, 2008-01-28 This is a wide ranging up to date introduction to modern business communication which integrates communication theory and practice and challenges many orthodox views of the communication process As well as developing their own practical skills readers will be able to understand and apply principles of modern business communication Among the subjects covered are interpersonal communication including the use and analysis of nonverbal communication group communication including practical techniques to support discussion and meetings written presentation including the full range of paper and electronic documents oral presentation including the use of electronic media corporate communication including strategies and media The book also offers guidelines on how communication must respond to important organizational issues including the impact of information technology changes in organizational structures and cultures and the diverse multicultural composition of modern organizations This is an ideal text for undergraduates and postgraduates studying business communication and through its direct style and practical relevance it will also satisfy professional readers wishing to develop their understanding and skills Social Changes and Yuwen Education in Post-Mao China Min Tao, 2019-05-07 Inspired by the author's observations of the language curriculum as a practising teacher for the past 20 years this book addresses how the high school Chinese language and literacy Yuwen curriculum in China was controlled and directed in the post Mao era Examining the social and political domination from 1980 to 2010 the book offers insights into how teachers and schools responded to the top down curriculum change in their teaching practice This book discusses some of the most important questions concerning China and its education system What changes have occurred in the Chinese language and literacy curricula how and why the changes have occurred who has been in control of the process and outcome and what impacts the curriculum changes may bring not only to China but to the international sectors that export education and degrees to China and Chinese students The author provides answers to these questions crucial to both the contemporary Chinese society and the students who come out of that system This critical inquiry of the Yuwen curriculum and its implementation provides a valuable and timely showcase for understanding the ideology of China's future generation and the social and political transformation in the past three decades In addition to researchers this book is expected to have impact on policymakers in China and beyond where Chinese migrants and international students constitute a substantial learning population Moths in the Machine Daniel Kohanski, 2000-04-10 In this fascinating look at the computer's brain and the people who designed it Kohanski assesses the programmer's trade including the demands limitations and challenges of creating computer systems and defines the important role they play in the modern world of photos The SAGE Handbook of Media Processes and Effects Robin L. Nabi, Mary Beth

Oliver, 2009-09-11 The study of media processes and effects is one of the most central to the discipline of communication and encompasses a vast array of theoretical perspectives methodological tools and applications to important social contexts In light of this importance as well as the rapid changes in the media environment that have occurred during the past 20 years this Handbook explores where media effects research has been over the past several decades and equally important contemplates where it should go in the years ahead COVERAGE Part I offers an overview of the field and conceptualizations of media effects along with a range of quantitative and qualitative methodologies used in the study of media effects Part II focuses on prominent theoretical approaches to the study of media effects from a more societal perspective tracing their historical contexts theoretical developments criticisms and controversies and the impact of the new media environment on current and future research Part III emphasizes the various factors that influence the critical functions of message selection and processing central to a host of mass media application contexts Part IV reflects a dominant trend in the media effects literature that of persuasion and learning and traces related theoretical perspectives through the various contexts in which media may have such effects Part V explores the contexts and audiences that have been traditional foci of media effects research such as children violence body image and race addressing the theories most applicable to those contexts Part VI highlights a concern central and unique to the communication discipline message medium and how it influences effects ranging from what messages are attended to how we spend our time and even how we think

Microbial Resolution Gloria Chan-Sook Kim, 2024-06-18 An interdisciplinary study charting the war against microbial futures leads to a new theory of contemporary vision and visibility In 1989 a group of U S government scientists met to discuss some surprising findings new diseases were appearing around the world and viruses that they thought long vanquished were resurfacing Their appearance heralded a future perpetually threatened by unforeseeable biological risks sparking a new concept of disease the emerging microbe With the Cold War nearing its end American scientists and security experts turned to confront this new enemy redirecting national security against its risky horizons In order to be fought emerging microbes first needed to be made perceptible but how could something immaterial unknowable and ever mutating be coaxed into visibility knowability and operability Microbial Resolution charts the U S led war on the emerging microbe to show how their uncertain futures were transformed into objects of global science and security Moving beyond familiar accounts that link scientific knowledge production to optical practices of visualizing the invisible Gloria Chan Sook Kim develops a theory of microbial resolution to analyze the complex problematic that arises when dealing with these entities what can be seen when there is nothing to see Through a syncretic analysis of data mining animal tracking technologies media networks computer modeled futures and global ecologies and infrastructures she shows how a visual impasse the impossibility of seeing microbial futures forms the basis for new modes of perceiving knowing and governing in the present Timely and thought provoking Microbial Resolution opens up the rich paradoxes irreconcilabilities and failures inherent in this project and demonstrates how these tensions profoundly animate twenty first century epistemologies aesthetics affects and ecologies Games in Everyday Life Nathan Hulsey,2019-11-25 In this book Nathan Hulsey explores the links between game design surveillance computation and the emerging technologies that impact our everyday lives at home at work and with our family and friends Handbook of Cultural Sociology Laura Grindstaff,John R. Fortner,P. Mark Fackler,2014-03-10 The Handbook of Media and Mass Communication Theory presents a comprehensive collection of original essays that focus on all aspects of current and classic theories and practices relating to media and mass communication Focuses on all aspects of current and classic theories and practices relating to media and mass communication Includes essays from a variety of global contexts from Asia and the Middle East to the Americas Gives niche theories new life in several essays that use them to illuminate their application in specific contexts Features coverage of a wide variety of theoretical perspectives Pays close attention to the use of theory in understanding new communication contexts such as social media 2 Volumes Media and New Capitalism in the Digital Age E. Fisher,2010-03-15 This book explores the new terrain of network capitalism through the transformations of the discourse on technology Rather than viewing such discourse as either a true or false reflection of reality Fisher evaluates the ideological role that technology discourse plays in the legitimation of a new form of capitalism Based on an extensive empirical analysis the book argues that contemporary technology discourse at one and the same time promises more personal empowerment through network technology and legitimates a more privatized flexible and precarious economic constellations Such discourse signals a new tradeoff in the political culture of capitalism from a legitimation discourse which emphasizes the capacity of technology and technique to bring about social emancipation through equality stability and security to a legitimation discourse which focuses on the capacity of technology to bring about individual emancipation through individual empowerment authenticity creativity and cooperation Contrary to the prevailing assumption that sees network technology as liberating from the rigidity and pitfalls of a stifling Fordist capitalism the book offers a theoretical framework which sees contemporary technology discourse as an ideology that legitimates the economic social and political arrangements of the new capitalism Telling Tales on Technology Neil Selwyn,2020-04-22 This title was first published in 2002 The educational potential of information and communications technology ICT has been speculated upon endlessly from the early days of the micro computer to the present excitement surrounding virtual education and e learning Now with current multi billion dollar initiatives such as the UK National Grid for Learning and US Technology Literacy Challenge ICT is an unavoidable element of education Yet despite a plethora of promises and policies new technologies have failed to be wholly integrated into education Telling Tales on Technology critically examines the role of ICT in education and explores how given its assumed importance new technology remains a peripheral part of much of what goes on in education Based on in depth qualitative studies the book takes a comprehensive yet questioning look over the past two decades of educational technology policy and practice and positions it within the wider social cultural political and economic notion of the information age Drawing on interviews with students teachers politicians and business people as well as comprehensive documentary analysis this is an essential text for anyone thinking seriously about the use of ICT in education

A History of Media W. Lambert Gardiner, 2002 The conception day gift includes a means of storing information memory and of transmitting information speech Memory Speech could thus be considered as a first generation of media However natural selection can explain our evolution only to a hunter gatherer society How have we managed the transitions over historical time to an agricultural an industrial and now an information society We have learned how to extend our nervous systems by storing information Print Film second generation by transmitting information Telephone Television third generation and by both storing and transmitting information outside our bodies Multimedia Internet fourth generation A History of Media tells this story of the co evolution of the person and media as extensions This long perspective will help us better understand our turbulent transitional times as we assimilate the fourth generation of media This third transition will be clarified by analogy with the first and second transitions as we assimilated the second and third generations of media The work of Harold Innis Marshall McLuhan and their successors in the Toronto School of Media Studies will help illuminate those transitions

The Moment of Complexity Mark C. Taylor, 2003-09 We live in a moment of unprecedented complexity an era in which change occurs faster than our ability to comprehend it With The Moment of Complexity Mark C Taylor offers a map for the unfamiliar terrain opening in our midst unfolding an original philosophy of our time through a remarkable synthesis of science and culture According to Taylor complexity is not just a breakthrough scientific concept but the defining quality of the post Cold War era The flux of digital currents swirling around us he argues has created a new network culture with its own distinctive logic and dynamic

Media Studies Paul Marris, Sue Thornham, 2000-03 Media Studies A Reader provides a thorough introduction to the full range of theoretical perspectives on the mass media from the past thirty years Ranging from the arguments between the American mass communication tradition and the Europe centered Frankfurt School of the 1940s to the analyses of communication technologies by Marshall McLuhan and Raymond Williams in the 1960s Media Studies A Reader maps the mass media field its varied and often conflicting histories and its current debates Sixty five articles provide comprehensive coverage of all the main theorists and approaches

The first half Studying the Media explores in detail three core elements of media studies production and regulation of mass media media texts and reception and consumption of media The second half brings together concrete examples of how theoretical debates can be realized in a series of case studies on soap operas the news and advertising A general introduction and introductions to each section summarize and contextualize the debates Contributors include Theodor W Adorno Marshal McLuhan Raymond Williams Stuart Hall Annette Kuhn Jürgen Habermas John Fiske Richard Dyer Niki Strange Danae Clark Angela McRobbie Bill Nichols Lynne Joyrich David Morley Ien Ang Janice Radway Henry Jenkins Tania Modleski Anne McClintock Sadie Plant
