Stolen Bases Jennifer Ring, 2009 A revealing look at the history of women's exclusion from America's national pastime

The National Union Catalog, Pre-1956 Imprints, 1968

A Game of Their Own Jennifer Ring, 2015-04-01 In 2010 twenty American women were selected to represent Team USA in the fourth Women's Baseball World Cup in Caracas Venezuela most Americans however had no idea such a team even existed A Game of Their Own chronicles the largely invisible history of women in baseball and offers an account of the 2010 Women's World Cup tournament Jennifer Ring includes oral histories of eleven members of the U S Women's National Team from the moment each player picked up a bat and ball as a young girl to her selection for Team USA Each story is unique but they share common themes that will resonate with young female players and fans alike facing skepticism and taunts from players and parents when taking the batter's box or the pitcher's mound self doubt the unceasing pressure to switch to softball and eventual acceptance by their baseball teammates as they prove themselves as ballplayers These racially culturally and economically diverse players from across the country have ignored the message that their love of the national pastime is wrong Their stories come alive as they recount their battles and most memorable moments playing baseball the joys of exceeding expectations and the pleasure of honing baseball skills and talent despite the lack of support With exclusive interviews with players coaches and administrators A Game of Their Own celebrates the U S Women's National Team and the excellence of its remarkable players In response to the jeer No girls allowed these are powerful stories of optimism feistiness and staying true to oneself

Journal of Health, Physical Education, Recreation, 1961

The All-American Girls After the AAGPBL Kat D. Williams, 2017-03-31 The hit 1992 film A League of Their Own made the All American Girls Professional Baseball League famous But the players stories remain largely untold The 600 women who played for the AAGPBL through the 1940s and 1950s enjoyed a rare opportunity to lead independent lives as well paid professional athletes Their experiences in the league led many to education and careers they never imagined As teachers coaches and role models they strove to broaden the horizons of girls and young women Many continued to be involved in athletics supporting the efforts leading to Title IX and the women s sports revolution Today they are dedicated to preserving the history of women in baseball and creating opportunities for girls to play
