The Outlaw James Copeland and the Champion-belted Empress Jeanne Lebow, 1991 Retelling in part the true stories of James Copeland these poems set in the pinelands and marshes of southern Mississippi reach back to the 19th century to the words of a female slave and those of the outlaw who tricked her into running away with him Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

The Violence of the Morning Calvin Bedient, 2002 Groundbreaking new poetry evokes a wide range of influences from Kant to the Upanishads while making deep exploratory journeys into the complexities of sexual relationships disease heartbreak and death Winner of the Contemporary Poetry Series Competition Original

The Very Thought of You Andy Robbins, 2010-01-01 Andy Robbins concludes in Au bout de l'anglais that Art and life are not the same Never He challenges the nature of both with this volume of highly personal sensual searching poetry that treats life as a work in progress with love in all its aspects as its driving force Creating poems as technically skilled as they are emotionally powerful Robbins uses a variety of formal and idiomatic dictions Though the individual works are as unique in subject as in structure the book is unified by a discomfort with emotional and intellectual stagnancy with ancient mythology religious doctrines and popular culture The book radiates the immediate energy of mind in action question and reflection challenging the very thought of writer and reader

Lord Brain Bruce Beasley, 2005 Lord Brain is an extended meditation on the psyche in its double sense of mind and soul in its relationship to that three pound bundle in our skull Bruce Beasley's collection of thirty one poems is named for Sir Walter Russell Brain or Lord Brain 1895 1966 the eminent British neuroscientist and author of Brain's Diseases of the Nervous System Bringing into conversation the disparate fields of neuroscience theology linguistics particle physics and theology these poems investigate in both lyrical and scientific terms the relationship of brain to mind and soul and of brain to the cosmos and God Whether discussing cosmology or astrophysics neurobiology or insect physiology Lord Brain connects the inner cosmos of our human anatomy with the external forces material and divine that brought the cosmos into being

Dwelling Song Sally Keith, 2004 As a hummingbird beats its wings so that it might be still to feed on a flower the poet concludes The equation keeps balancing out and I'm drawn to how it does not settle Aware of the difficulty of loving the world while feeding upon it the poems of Dwelling Song hope vision is levity as they press language to make sight and song This writing is a form of mimicry yet an act of dangerous flight Whether from the voice of a hunter shepherd farmer or bugle blowing boy on a city street the song recognizes that moving forward necessitates turning one's back

A Southern Weave of Women Linda Tate, 1996 A Southern Weave of Women is one of the first sustained treatments of the generation women writers who came of age in the post World War II South as well as one of the first to situate southern literature fully within a multicultural context

A Crash of Rhinos Paisley Rekdal, 2000 In these quizzically probing and provocative poems atoms and torture tattoos and laundromats mug shots the theory of light and such personalities as Joe Louis and Bruce Lee join in shaping a simultaneously personal and historical narrative of love family and desire The tension between the public and the private saturates these poems with a breathless energy that carries the reader through Rekdal's self-aware depiction of American culture and romance complete with Harlequin romance novels and an account of her parents' courtship Though Rekdal delights in turning traditional images of love upside down what she finally offers is a grateful and graceful view of humanity which convinces us that as she says in Convocation Nothing is a single moment No private event lacks history

Assembling the Shepherd Tessa Rumsey, 1999 Driven by an endless matrix of poetic forms the poems of Assembling the Shepherd create a world where allusions to Plato and the Dead Sea scrolls intermingle with car culture and terrorism where modern skylines are framed within the history of alchemy and architecture Tessa Rumsey uses words in ways that defy summary and synonym in poetry that challenges the boundaries of common dualities city and desert heaven and earth waking and dreaming violence and harmony destruction and regeneration recollecting and forecasting She attempts to move beyond these natural contrasts in her poetry and beyond point of view to create a collection that offers an elemental glimpse of the fragmented yet interconnected world we live in Throughout the book familiar themes are seen again and again undergoing subtle metamorphosis the seasonal solstice the sundial the planets the Sphinx as Rumsey invites us beneath the surface of her words

Dark Would Liz Waldner, 2002 The author explores the idea of self in the twenty-first century venturing into Dante's dark wood in search of the truth about rootlessness and identity Winner of the Contemporary Poetry Series Competition Original

Of Thee I Sing Timothy Liu, 2004 In his fifth book of poems Timothy Liu addresses a tripartite Thee the Divine the Beloved and the State A precarious dance between the spiritual and the material ensues the lyric poem confronting a consumer culture overrun by rampant lust and greed yet finding itself unable to wholly stand outside of what it critiques Any consolation found herein is short-lived Even so by extending the traditions of lyric poetry forward these utterances seek to enlarge the conversation between art and life anticipating whatever commerce the future might yet hold
