Edwin O. Reischauer and the American

Discovery of Japan George R. Packard, 2010-04-05 In 1961 President Kennedy named Edwin O Reischauer the U S Ambassador to Japan Already deeply intimate with the country Reischauer hoped to establish a more equal partnership with Japan which had long been maligned in the American imagination Reischauer pushed his fellow citizens to abandon caricature and stereotype and recognize Japan as a peace loving democracy Though his efforts were often condemned for being too soft the immensity of his influence and the truth of his arguments can be felt today Having worked as Reischauer s special assistant in Tokyo George R Packard writes the definitive and first biography of this rare charismatic talent Reischauer reset the balance between two powerful nations During World War II he analyzed intelligence and trained American codebreakers in Japanese He helped steer Japan toward democracy and then wrote its definitive English language history Reischauer s scholarship supplied the foundations for future East Asian disciplines and his prescient research foretold America s missteps with China and involvement in Vietnam At the time of his death in 1990 Reischauer warned the U S against adopting an attitude toward Asia that was too narrow and self centered India Pakistan and North Korea are now nuclear powers and Reischauer s political brilliance has become more necessary and trenchant than ever Memoir of a Trustbuster Eleanor M. Hadley, Patricia Hagan Kuwayama, 2002-10-31 Eleanor Hadley was a woman ahead of her time While working on a Ph D in economics at Harvard she was recruited by the U S government for her knowledge of Japanese zaibatsu business combines and subsequently became one of MacArthur s key advisors during the Occupation After completing her doctorate she prepared for a career in Washington until she learned she was being blacklisted Seventeen years passed before Hadley s name was cleared she returned to government service in 1967 and began a distinguished career as a senior policy analyst with the U S Tariff Commission and the General Accounting Office Widely known and feared by Japanese businessmen and government leaders as the trust busting beauty Hadley published Antitrust in Japan a seminal work on the impact of postwar deconcentration measures in 1970 She received the Order of the Sacred Treasure from the Japanese government in 1986 Hadley s personal story provides a colorful backdrop to her substantive discussions of early postwar policies which were created to provide Japan with a more efficient and competitive economy As someone closely involved in formulating U S economic policy toward Japan for nearly half a century Eleanor Hadley brings a unique perspective as well as a down to earth sense of humor to the continuing challenge of communicating across the Pacific Watching the Sun Rise Jacqui Murray, 2004-01-01 Historians have long claimed that a tradition of fear of Japan dominated Australian thinking about foreign affairs and defense after Japan s defeat of Russia in 1905 and that this fear remained widespread throughout the Australian population until the Pacific War This study of Australian reporting on Japan challenges that claim by exposing a culture of state censorship intimidation of the media and neglect of official public discussion of foreign affairs in the years 1931 1941 which resulted in newspapers radio and news reels projecting a collective national consciousness of Japan as a nation of little import despite very real fears in senior political ranks about Japanese designs on Australia Jacqui Murray s argument for the Australian media's underestimation of Japan's threat is sustained by close examination of media practices publications and broadcasts which clearly show misleading representations of Japan before the Pacific War Watching the Sun Rise details not only government peace time media censorship but also war time propaganda flows from Australian British and Japanese sources into the Australian media and examples of cooperation and or espionage among media personnel
