Hollywood's Image of the South David Ebner, Larry Langman, 2001-09-30 From the 1920s and 1930s when American cinema depicted the South as a demi paradise populated by wealthy landowners glamorous belles and happy slaves through later more realistic depictions of the region in films based on works by Erskine Caldwell Tennessee Williams William Faulkner and Robert Penn Warren Hollywood's view of the South has been as ever changing as the place itself This comprehensive reference guide to Southern films offers credits plot descriptions and analyses of how the stereotypes and characterizations in each film contribute to our understanding of a most contentious American time and place Organized by subjects including Economic Conditions Plantation Life The Ku Klux Klan and The New Politics Hollywood's Image of the South seeks to coin a new genre by describing its conventions and attitudes Even so the Southern film crosses all known generic boundaries including the comedy the women's film the noir and many others This invaluable guide to an under recognized category of American cinema illustrates how much there is to learn about a time and place from watching the movies that aim to capture it Working the System Qiliang He, 2023-01-03 In Working the System Motion Picture Filmmakers and Subjectivities in Mao Era China 1949-1966 Qiliang He inquired into the making of the new citizenry in Mao era China 1949-1976 by studying five preeminent Shanghai based filmmakers These case studies shed light on how individuals subjectivities took shape in the cinematic arena under a new sociopolitical system after 1949 He suggests that a filmmaker's subjectivity was not fixed or stable but constantly in flux requiring a host of subjectivizing practices to re shape and consolidate it These filmmakers endeavored to reap maximal benefits from Mao's sociopolitical system and minimize the disadvantages that would make them victims under the system In short Qiliang He argues that the filmmakers not only worked under the socialist system imposed upon them but also worked the system in their best interests Through five chosen filmmakers creative control and their negotiation of their professional status within China's newly adopted socialist system the author presents a compelling case that illustrates how individual filmmakers constantly adjusted themselves professionally and ideologically to survive in a fast changing industry and a highly politicized society Lin Feng University of Leicester This book is a strong example of how much more we can learn about Mao era Chinese culture if we approach it less as alien due to Cold War prejudices and instead think of artists as creating under professional constraints in China just as they do everywhere Jason McGrath University of Minnesota Directory of Public Secondary Schools in the State of California, 1929
