The Six Scripts Or the Principles of Chinese Writing by Tai Tung Tai Tung, 2012-02-02 An English translation by L C Hopkins of Tai Tung's Liu Shu Ku first published in 1881

Threatened Masculinity from British Fiction to Cold War German Cinema Joseph Willis, 2019-05-30 The impact of the Cold War on German male identities can be seen in the nation's cinematic search for a masculine paradigm that rejected the fate centered value system of its National Socialist past while also recognizing that German males once again had become victims of fate and fatalism but now within the value system of the Soviet and American hegemonies that determined the fate of Cold War Germany and Central Europe This monograph is the first to demonstrate that this Cold War cinematic search sought out a meaningful masculine paradigm through film adaptations of late Victorian and Edwardian male writers who likewise sought a means of self determination within a hegemonic structure that often left few opportunities for personal agency In contrast to the scholarly practice of exploring categories of modern masculinity such as Victorian imperialist manliness or German Cold War male identity as distinct from each other this monograph offers an important comparative corrective that brings forward an extremely influential century long trajectory of threatened masculinity For German Cold War masculinity lessons were to be learned from history namely from late Victorian and Edwardian models of manliness Cold War Germans like the Victorians before them had to confront the unknowns of a new world without fear or hesitation In a Cold War mentality where nuclear technology and geographic distance had trumped face to face confrontation between East and West Cold War German masculinity sought alternatives to the insanity of mutual nuclear destruction by choosing not just to confront threats but to resolve threats directly through personal agency and self determination

Film Flam Larry McMurtry, 2010-06-01 A noted screenwriter himself Pulitzer Prize winner Larry McMurtry knows Hollywood in Film Flam he takes a funny original and penetrating look at the movie industry and gives us the truth about the moguls fads flops and box office hits With successful movies and television miniseries made from several of his novels Terms of Endearment The Last Picture Show Lonesome Dove and Hud McMurtry writes with an outsider s irony of the industry and an insider s experience In these essays he illuminates the plight of the screenwriter cuts a clean often hilarious path through the excesses of film reviewing and takes on some of the worst trends in the industry the decline of the Western the disappearance of love in the movies and the quality of the stars themselves From his recollections of the day Hollywood entered McMurtry s own life as he ate meat loaf in Fort Worth to the pleasures he found in the Beverly Wilshire Hotel Film Flam is one of the best books ever written about Hollywood

Frank Capra's Eastern Horizons Elizabeth Rawitsch, 2014-10-16 Frank Capra has long had a reputation as being the quintessential American director the man who perfectly captured the identity and core values of the United States with a string of classic films in the 1930s and 40s including It Happened One Night, Mr Smith Goes to Washington and It's a Wonderful Life. However, as Elizabeth Rawitsch argues, Capra's construction of national identity did not occur within an exclusively national context. She points out that many of his films are actually set in or include sequences set in China, Latin America, the Philippines, and the South Seas. Featuring in-depth textual analysis supported by original archival research, Frank Capra's Eastern Horizons explains that Capra's view of what constituted America changed over time, extending its boundaries to embrace countries often far from the United States. Complicating Edward Said's theory of Orientalism as a strict binary in which the West constructs the East as an inferior other, it demonstrates that East and West often intermingle in films such as The Bitter Tea of General Yen and in Capra's orientation documentaries for World War II American servicemen. Capra imagined a kind of global community, albeit one with heavy undertones of British and American imperialism. Investigating shifts in what Capra's America has meant over time, both to Capra and to those who have watched and studied his films, this innovative book offers a startlingly fresh perspective on one of the most iconic figures in American film history.

A Great Lady Larry Ceplair, 1996. Ceplair's book details the course of Hollywood screenwriter Sonya Levien's exceptional career at Fox and MGM and her most interesting projects and colleagues. It examines her relationship to the important political and labor movements affecting the motion picture industry. Includes an extensive filmography.

In Capra's Shadow Ian Scott, 2014-10-17. Because screenwriter Robert Riskin spent most of his career collaborating with legendary Hollywood director Frank Capra, Riskin's own unique contributions to film have been largely overshadowed. With five Academy Award nominations to his credit for the monumental films Lady for a Day, Mr Deeds Goes to Town, You Can't Take It with You, Here Comes the Groom, and It Happened One Night for which he won the Oscar, Riskin is often imitated but rarely equaled. In Capra's Shadow: The Life and Career of Screenwriter Robert Riskin is the first detailed critical examination of the Hollywood pioneer's life and work. In addition to being one of the great screenwriters of the classic Hollywood era, Riskin was also a producer and director, founding his own film company and playing a crucial role in the foundation of the Screen Writers Guild. During World War II, Riskin was one of the major forces behind propaganda filmmaking. He worked in the Office of War Information and oversaw the distribution and later production of films and documentaries in foreign theaters. He was interested in showing the rest of the world more than just an idealized version of America; he looked for films that emphasized the spiritual and cultural vibrancy within the U.S., making charity, faith, and generosity of spirit his propaganda tools. His efforts also laid the groundwork for a system of distribution channels that would result in the dominance of American cinema in Europe in the postwar years. Riskin's postwar work included his production of the 1947 film Magic Town, the tale of a marketing executive who discovers the perfect American small town and uses it for polling. What Riskin created onscreen is not simply a community stuck in an antiquarian past; rather, the town of Grandview observes its own traditions while at the same time confronting the possibilities of the modern world and the challenges of postwar America. Author Ian Scott provides a unique perspective on Riskin and the ways in which his brilliant pithy style was realized in Capra's enduring films Riskin's impact on cinema extended far beyond these films as he helped spread Hollywood cinema abroad and articulated his vision of a changing America How to Write a Screenplay in 3 Days Jackie Lynn Young, 2008-12 A screenwriting book that takes a look at the creative process behind screenwriting and details a proven method for writing a screenplay in a 3 day marathon The Savvy Screenwriter Susan Kouguell, 2007-04 The Savvy Screenwriter demystifies the film industry and reveals what aspiring screenwriters really want and need to know From finding and working with agents to insights about story analysts and movie executives to understanding option agreements to providing samples for queries synopses treatments loglines and outlines to pitching Susan Kouguell knows what works and what doesn't and gives practical advice on getting your screenplay sold
