Teaching Educational Leadership in Muslim Countries Eugenie A. Samier, Eman S. ElKaleh, 2019-04-10 This book explores the Islamic tradition and Muslim contexts for educational administration and leadership It addresses the teaching of educational administration and leadership from an Islamic perspective by raising issues of globalised educational administration and leadership teaching as it applies in Muslim contexts that vary by culture and social institutions The book proposes alternative approaches and demonstrates that Islamic traditions have a strong foundation upon which to build in the field and are compatible with many aspects of Western theory and practices provided that sufficient modifications and adaptations are made The book focuses on postgraduate curricula and pedagogy drawing on a range of theoretical foundations and approaches that are culturally and jurisdictionally appropriate in a number of Muslim countries As such it contributes to an emerging specialisation in international and comparative educational administration and leadership that is oriented towards a broader and more diverse set of perspectives particularly from the non Western world

Critical Approaches to Institutional Translation and Interpreting Esther Monzó-Nebot, María Lomeña-Galiano, 2024-03-12 This collection re envisions the academic study of institutional translation and interpreting ITI uncovering the ways in which institutional practices have inhibited knowledge creation and encouraging stakeholders to continue to challenge the assumptions and epistemics which underpin the field ITI is broadly conceived here as translation and interpreting delivered in or for specific organizations and institutional social systems spanning national supranational and international organizations as well as financial markets universities and national courts This volume is organized around three sections which collectively interrogate the knower the field itself to engage in questions around how we know what we know in ITI and how institutions have contributed to or hindered the social practice of knowledge creation in ITI studies The first section challenges the paths which have led to current epistemologies of ignorance while the second turns the critical lens on specific institutional practices The final section explores specific proposals to challenge existing epistemologies by broadening the scope of ITI studies Giving a platform to perspectives which have been historically marginalized within ITI studies and new paths to continue challenging dominant assumptions this book will appeal to scholars and policymakers in translation and interpreting studies

Covert Racism ,2011-06-09 Covert racism subtle in application often appears hidden by norms of association affiliation group membership and or identity As such covert racism is often excused or confused with mechanisms of exclusion and inclusion ritual and ceremony acceptance and rejection Covert racism operates as a boundary keeping mechanism whose primary purpose is to maintain social distance between racial majorities and racial minorities Such boundary mechanisms work best when they are assumed natural legitimate and normal These boundary mechanisms are typically taught subconsciously or even unconsciously within social institutions and groups This volume deals with the theories institutions and experiences associated with covert racism

Whiteness Fractured Cynthia Levine-Rasky,2016-02-11 Whiteness Fractured examines the many ways in which whiteness is conceptualized today and how it is understood to operate and to effect social relationships Exploring the intersections between whiteness social class ethnicity and psychosocial phenomena this book is framed by the question of how whiteness works and what it does With attention to central concepts and the history of whiteness it explains the four ways in which whiteness works In its examination of the outward and inward fractures of whiteness the book sheds light on both its connections with social class and ethnicity and with the epistemology of ignorance and the psychoanalytic Representing the long career of whiteness on the one hand and investigating its expansion into new areas on the other Whiteness Fractured reflects the growing maturity of critical whiteness studies It undertakes a critical analysis of approaches to whiteness and proposes new directions for future action and enquiry As such it will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in race and ethnicity intersectionality colonialism and post colonialism and cultural studies

Political Discourse as Dialogue Adriana Bolívar,2017-10-16 We are witnessing the collapse of democracies in many parts of the world and a general tendency to the resurgence of right wing and left wing populisms led by authoritarian leaders This book centres on the political dialogue in one of these democracies The focus is on Venezuela the rich Latin American oil producing country and its transformation from a stable democracy to a very unstable and controversial revolution in which the dialogue has been occupied by only one party for 18 years The central characters of the book are Hugo Ch vez who remained in power for 14 years as the main speaker and controller and the people who either followed or opposed him in Venezuela and other countries Contrary to critical analyses which are mainly based on social representations that conceive dialogue as implicit or normative this book proposes a dialogue centred approach which articulates linguistics conversation analysis socio pragmatics and political science from a critical perspective and offers the theoretical foundations and procedures for analysing micro dialogues between specific persons and the macro social dialogue which unveils the processes of domination and resistance to power The book will be useful for scholars and students of linguistics media communication studies and political science wishing to learn more about dialogue in political interaction

The Politics of Mainstreaming in Critical Perspective

Sharleene May Bibbings, 2011-11-15 Gender mainstreaming GM has been identified in academic literature as a crucial topic for both public attention and academic research This is because GM is currently considered an essential strategy for achieving the highly sought after outcome of gender equality in public organisations However an exhaustive degree of academic practitioner and advocate attention has been paid to challenges observed in the GM process Specifically concerns have crystallised on the following twin puzzles i conceptual confusion and ii the challenges of operationalising the process The central purpose of this book has been to make a contribution in relation to both of these academic and practice based issues at a time when questions appertaining to gender equality are reaching critical mass Moreover we are simply not there

yet in terms of our aspirations for gender equality in public organisations and new insights on strategies used to move us forward need to be brought to the foreground to engender progress To address the aims of the book the author uses three novel argumentative turns to interrogate the politics of mainstreaming from a critical perspective First is the challenge related to conceptual confusion It is important to clarify that this book does not intend to investigate and define the issue of gender inequality in organisations per se something that is beyond the scope of this book and deserves attention in its own right Instead this work focuses on the specific processes of change mainstreaming rather than the content of change gender Secondly the practice element was also approached in a inimitable way by concentrating on local government in the UK which has had a long history with GM despite the dearth of books on the issue and thus an opportunity to analyse instructive and empirically rich cases Finally through a longitudinal view of local government history this has included previously excluded evidence for consideration Using these argumentative turns the book has met its three aims by mapping out i the core conceptual features of mainstreaming across a range of organisational settings ii developed an evaluation framework for understanding the outcomes of GM through a national level review and primary research and iii interrogated the findings through a productive theory practice dialogue using the work of social learning theory This book should be of interest to a wide ranging audience As the study at the broadest level is essentially a study into the politics of change over time students and academics may wish to utilise the books findings as they point to some of the challenges and difficulties associated with analysis of change within organisations Feminists should also find the theoretical and methodological approach of interest in the sense that it challenges conventional wisdom and provides novel argumentative turns Historical specialist may also find this book of interest for those concerned with process tracing methods and diachronic analysis Finally practitioners involved in different forms of mainstreaming organisational change and development should be interested in the experiences encountered by the local government officers in adopting and implementing GM in the case studies These include but are not limited to Program Management Specialists Development Officers Policy Experts Equality Practitioners and Gender Experts in a variety of organisational contexts from the local to the supranational levels private public and mixed economy sectors

Family Therapy with Ethnic Minorities Man Keung Ho, Janice M. Rasheed, Mikal N. Rasheed, 2003-10-07 The classic and critically acclaimed book Family Therapy with Ethnic Minorities Second Edition has now been updated and revised to reflect the various demographic changes that have occurred in the lives of ethnic minority families and the implications of these changes for clinical practice Family Therapy with Ethnic Minorities provides advanced students and practitioners with the most up to date examination yet of the theory models and techniques relevant to ethnic minority family functioning and therapy After an introductory discussion of principles to be considered in practice with ethnic minorities the authors apply these principles to working with specific ethnic minority groups namely African Americans Latinos Asian Pacific Americans and First Nations People Distinctive cultural values of each ethnic group are explored as well as specific guidelines and suggestions on culturally significant family therapy strategies and skills

Key Features The revised text reflects advances in family therapy scholarship since the first edition thus ensuring for readers an up to date treatment of the topic

Accents and extends current critical constructionist theories and techniques and applies them within a culturally specific perspective Pays special attention to the issues of historical trauma referred to as soul wound especially in work with First Nations Peoples and African American families

Praise for the First Edition This well organized and readable book deals with theoretical and practical issues in working with ethnic minority families in the U S I am impressed by the author s ability to minimize the stereotyping involved largely through the richness of the clinical material This is a very interesting and informative work written by a family therapist with extensive experience in working with minority families
