The Making of New World Slavery Robin Blackburn,2010-08-02 The Making of New World Slavery argues that independent commerce geared to burgeoning consumer markets was the driving force behind the rise of plantation slavery The baroque state sought successfully to feed upon this commerce and with markedly less success to regulate slavery and racial relations To illustrate this thesis Blackburn examines the deployment of slaves in the colonial possessions of the Portuguese the Spanish the Dutch the English and the French Plantation slavery is shown to have emerged from the impulses of civil society not from the strategies of individual states Robin Blackburn argues that the organization of slave plantations placed the West on a destructive path to modernity and that greatly preferable alternatives were both proposed and rejected Finally he shows that the surge of Atlantic trade predicated on the murderous toil of the plantations made a decisive contribution to both the Industrial Revolution and the rise of the West Internationale Bibliographie der Rezensionen wissenschaftlicher Literatur ,2003 International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature Chiefly in the Fields of Arts and Humanities and the Social Sciences ,2003 In the Blood of Our Brothers Jesús Sanjurjo,2021-10-26 This book details the abolition of the slave trade in Spanish America to the 1860s The Unnatural Trade Brycchan Carey,2024-08-27 A look at the origins of British abolitionism as a problem of eighteenth century science as well as one of economics and humanitarian sensibilities How did late eighteenth century British abolitionists come to view the slave trade and British colonial slavery as unnatural a dread perversion of nature Focusing on slavery in the Americas and the Caribbean in particular alongside travelers accounts of West Africa Brycchan Carey shows that before the mid eighteenth century natural histories were a primary source of information about slavery for British and colonial readers These natural histories were often ambivalent toward slavery but they increasingly adopted a proslavery stance to accommodate the needs of planters by representing slavery as a natural phenomenon From the mid eighteenth century abolitionists adapted the natural history form to their own writings and many naturalists became associated with the antislavery movement Carey draws on descriptions of slavery and the slave trade created by naturalists and other travelers with an interest in natural history including Richard Ligon Hans Sloane Griffith Hughes Samuel Martin and James Grainger These environmental writings were used by abolitionists such as Anthony Benezet James Ramsay Thomas Clarkson and Olaudah Equiano to build a compelling case that slavery was unnatural a case that was popularized by abolitionist poets such as Thomas Day Edward Rushton Hannah More and William Cowper G.K.
