Suicide And The Inner Voice Risk Assessment Treatment And Case Management:

Suicide and the Inner Voice Robert W. Firestone, 1997-05-30 What internal factors cause a person to end his or her life and what are the familial and societal factors which seem to make a destructive contribution The answers to both questions are at the heart of this volume which will be invaluable for practitioners when assessing risk and designing treatment for depressed and suicidal patients The author argues that the key to understanding suicidal behaviour comes from a knowledge of the destructive thought processes of those at risk and an awareness of their origins in early family interactions Firestone sees negative events in our lives as being less harmful than what we tell ourselves about them which can result in a downward spiral of negative internal conversations Wi Behavioral Neurobiology of Suicide and Self Harm Enrique Baca-Garcia, 2020-12-21 This book reviews the recent research into biological aspects of suicide behavior and outlines each of the varied recent approaches to prevent suicide Suicidal behavior perhaps is the most complex behavior that combines biological social and psychological factors A new frontier and new opportunities are opening with the technologies of data acquisition and data analysis Personalized models based on digital phenotype could provide promising strategies for preventing suicide The Self Under Siege Robert Firestone, Lisa A. Firestone, Joyce Catlett, 2013 Noted clinical psychologist Robert Firestone and his co authors explore the struggle that all of us face in striving to retain a sense of ourselves as unique individuals What Is Democracy? Alain Touraine, David Macey, 1997-04-04 In this sequel to A Critique of Modernity Alain Touraine questions the social and cultural content of democracy today At a time when state power is being increasingly eroded by the economic might of transnational capital what possible value can we ascribe to a democratic idea that is defined merely as a set of guarantees against the totalitarian state If democracy is to survive in the postcommunist world Touraine argues it must accomplish two urgent goals It must somehow protect the power of the nation state at the same time as it limits that power for only the state has sufficient means to counterbalance the global corporate wielders of money and information and it must reconcile social diversity with social unity and individual liberty with integration This is not merely a philosophical problem but a dilemma whose resolution will dramatically affect the immediate future of people everywhere If we want a resolution in democracy's favor then it is time in Touraine's view for us to redefine democracy in terms of active intervention rather than mere passive institution To preserve the power and effectiveness of our states and societies we must make visible strides and soon away from a politics of particularity and toward the integration and balancing of women and minorities of immigrants of rich and poor If our states become too weakened too debased by the politics of competing identities and interest groups we will one day find ourselves without the means to protect the very values we believe we are fighting to uphold Katie's Diary David Lester, 2004-03 Katie's Diary is a unique analysis of the diary left behind by a young woman who has committed suicide As compared to suicide notes which are typically brief Katie's diary consists of five separate books an opportunity to look into the mind of a suicide from a source of data that is

Existential and

Spiritual Issues in Death Attitudes Adrian Tomer, Grafton Eliason, Paul T. P. Wong, 2008 In this new volume death is treated both as a threat to meaning and as an opportunity to create meaning

Fatal Freedom Thomas Szasz, 2002-08-01

Fatal Freedom is an eloquent defense of every individual's right to choose a voluntary death. By maintaining statutes that determine that voluntary death is not legal, Thomas Szasz believes that our society is forfeiting one of its basic freedoms and causing the psychiatric medical establishment to treat individuals in a manner that is disturbingly inhumane. Society's penchant for defining behavior it terms objectionable as a disease has created a psychiatric establishment that exerts far too much influence over how and when we choose to die. In a compelling argument that clearly and intelligently addresses one of the most significant ethical issues of our time, Szasz compares suicide to other practices that historically began as sins, became crimes, and now are seen as mental illnesses.

Critical Thinking in Counselling and Psychotherapy Colin Feltham, 2010-06-22. This innovative new textbook examines the critical debates around key topics in counselling and psychotherapy. In nine sections including Everyday Counselling, Practice Training and Curriculum Issues, and Counselling Society and Culture, Colin Feltham explores 60 provocative questions central to counselling training and practice. Ranging from more mainstream subjects like unconditional positive regard, ethics and supervision to broader social or philosophical issues such as employment concerns and the debate on assisted suicide, entries include: Why have we focused on core theoretical models? What are the pros and cons of short-term time-limited counselling? What's wrong with CBT? Where is research taking us? Is statutory regulation a good and inevitable development? Are there limits to personal change in counselling? Each section includes questions for reflection, case studies, and student exercises. This comprehensive student-friendly text is a useful resource for lecturers to stimulate seminar discussion and for all trainees wishing to write essays or generally develop their critical thinking in counselling and psychotherapy.

Assessment, Treatment, and Prevention of Suicidal Behavior Robert I. Yufit, David Lester, 2005. Understanding of suicidal behavior has become more nuanced than it was years ago, and it has become apparent that no one theory and no one therapy can fill all the many manifestations of self-destructive feelings and behaviors. From the foreword, Editors, psychologists Yufit (Northwestern U Medical School) and Lester (Richard Stockton College of New Jersey) both are specialists in suicide, briefly introduce 18 contributions, a few of their own, aimed at bringing clinicians up to date on assessment and a myriad of treatment and prevention approaches. The special issues section addresses the legacy of suicide coping in schools, college students, and suicide terrorism.
