Broken Ground William Logan, 2021-05-11 In Broken Ground William Logan explores the works of canonical and contemporary poets rediscovering the lushness of imagination and depth of feeling that distinguish poetry as a literary art The book includes long essays on Emily Dickinson's envelopes Ezra Pound's wrestling with Chinese Robert Frost's letters Philip Larkin's train station and Mrs Custer's volume of Tennyson each teasing out the depths beneath the surface of the page Broken Ground also presents the latest run of Logan's infamous poetry chronicles and reviews which for twenty five years have bedeviled American verse Logan believes that poetry criticism must be both adventurous and forthright and that no reader should settle for being told that every poet is a genius Among the poets under review by the preeminent poet critic of his generation and most hated man in American poetry are Anne Carson Jorie Graham Paul Muldoon John Ashbery Geoffrey Hill Louise Glück John Berryman Marianne Moore Frederick Seidel Les Murray Yusef Komunyakaa Sharon Olds Johnny Cash James Franco and the former archbishop of Canterbury Logan's criticism stands on the broken ground of poetry soaked in history and soiled by it These essays and reviews work in the deep undercurrents of our poetry judging the weak and the strong but finding in weakness and strength what endures

Selected Letters of Robert Penn Warren Robert Penn Warren, 2000-03-01 In America's twentieth century there is no man of letters more versatile distinguished and influential than the poet novelist editor critic social commentator and teacher Robert Penn Warren 1905-1989 The most intimate of Warren's letters his personal correspondence now join his published canon under William Bedford Clark's expert supervision Volume One The Apprentice Years forms a kind of epistolary coming of age novel taking Warren from the awkwardness of emerging genius during his fugitive student years at Vanderbilt to the brink of producing great work in a newly appointed post at Louisiana State University Warren's earliest correspondence limns a friendship in earnest with Allen Tate a crushing heartbreak and an attempted suicide Eventually the author regroups graduates with honors and entertains a bad boy phase at Berkeley and Yale As he studies at Oxford writes his first book and decides not to complete his doctorate Warren exhibits a deepening maturity and devotion to his literary craft expressing ever more complex ideas about poetry and fiction His nagging financial difficulties growing commitment to the Agrarian movement controversial essay for I'll Take My Stand marriage to Cinina Brescia and professional uncertainty as one of the first to combine writing with college teaching lead him into the 1930s when the bright prospect of tenure and an opportunity to remake the Southwest Review arises Warren's letters all but one previously unpublished fascinate in their revelations such as the author's surprisingly tangled relationship with his parents his delicate health and the gossip about major literary figures including Tate John Crowe Ransom Donald Davidson and Laura Riding But beyond rich biographical detail they offer a veritable self portrait of the fledgling artist When a person writes a letter it is nearly as much one to himself as to the person who takes it from the postbox The self-conscious precocious yet sensitive young Warren modulates to the sardonic irreverent aesthete wit Red and finally acquires a voice distinctively Warrenesque confident and sophisticated Thus the imaginative as well as literal aspects of these years in Warren s life are conveyed his writing persona and historical person always an intriguing comparison Highly accessible unfailingly interesting and scrupulously annotated The Apprentice Years will satisfy scholar and lay reader alike providing a unique window on what it means to profess the writer s calling in an era of rapid change When complete the selected letters of Robert Penn Warren will prove an indispensable addition to the author s literary oeuvre      Questions of Possibility: Contemporary Poetry and Poetic Form David Caplan,2006-09-26 Questions of Possibility examines the particular forms that contemporary American poets favor and those they neglect The poets choices reveal both their ambitions and their limitations the new possibilities they discover and the traditions they find unimaginable By means of close attention to the sestina ghazal love sonnet ballad and heroic couplet this study advances a new understanding of contemporary American poetry Rather than pitting closed verse against open and traditional poetry against experimental Questions of Possibility explores how poets associated with different movements inspire and inform each other s work Discussing a range of authors from Charles Bernstein Derek Walcott and Marilyn Hacker to Agha Shahid Ali David Caplan treats these poets as contemporaries who share the language not as partisans assigned to rival camps The most interesting contemporary poetry crosses the boundaries that literary criticism draws synthesizing diverse influences and establishing surprising affinities In a series of lively readings Caplan charts the diverse characteristics and accomplishments of modern poetry from the gay and lesbian love sonnet to the currently popular sestina      Certain Solitudes, on the Poetry of Donald Justice (c) William Logan,1997      Spoken from the Heart Laura Welch Bush,2010-05-04 In a candid memoir the former first lady discusses the frantic and fearful months after September 11th her trip to Afghanistan her advocacy on behalf of women in oppressed countries her love of libraries and what really happens in the White House      The Missionary Review ,1915
