Kelley,S. Tuck,2016-02-22 The close diplomatic economic and military ties that comprising the special relationship between the United States and Great Britain have received plenty of attention from historians over the years Less frequently noted are the countries shared experiences of empire white supremacy racial inequality and neoliberalism and the attendant struggles for civil rights and political reform that have marked their recent history This state of the field collection traces the contours of this other special relationship exploring its implications for our understanding of the development of an internationally interconnected civil rights movement Here scholars from a range of research fields contribute essays on a wide variety of themes from solidarity protests to calypso culture to white supremacy

Ageless Nation Michael G. Zey, 2017-07-05 In this intriguing volume futurist and author Michael G Zey imagines a time in which technology has stretched human life spans to four hundred years or more Genetic engineering cloning and stem cell technology will eradicate diseases and allow for nanoscopic repair and maintenance of the body Smart drugs and caloric restriction programs will largely stop aging and ensure healthy bodies and sharp minds indefinitely Grounding his speculation in contemporary scientific research Zey's optimistic vision sees retirement replaced by hiatuses between careers and leisure time spent in multi generational homes Key players in the debate include supporters like Cambridge University scientist Aubrey de Grey who envisions five thousand year life spans and the radical futurist author Ray Kurzweil who foresees the merging of humans and computers Organizations such as the Coalition to Extend Life lobby the government for immortality research funding and find opposition in the President's Council on Bioethics and deep ecologists advocating zero population growth Criticizing current environmental trends as anti progress and anti human Zey's own solutions include controversial measures like human control of weather colonization of outer space and genetically modifying food He concludes that the eventuality of a modern Fountain of Youth is closer than we think Zey's predictions about the future are thoughtful and fascinating

Serials in the British Library, 2008 Breaking Patterns of Conflict John Coakley, Jennifer Todd, 2016-04-14 External powers commonly play a major role in efforts to break patterns of conflict and to instal stable and durable peace settlements They do this not just by underwriting security arrangements but also by being available to intervene at critical moments This book considers the special but by no means unique case where the conflict is located in a region of one state over which a neighbouring state has had a territorial claim itself part of the legacy of a quasi colonial relationship Northern Ireland This book focuses on the changes in the British state whose writ of course extends over Northern Ireland but also the Irish state which surrendered a strong formal but ineffective claim to jurisdiction over Northern Ireland for the reality of a significant voice in its political future These were ultimately to facilitate the process of settlement leading to the 1998 Good Friday Agreement and the later transformation of institutions and political relations in Northern Ireland and in these islands more generally It innovates by using a new oral archive built up over the past decade The book explores the interrelations of different levels of state and institutional change These interrelations range from the broadest concepts of sovereignty and ideology to the actual impact of large changes on particular institutions and laws They also extend over elite political assumptions and strategies and inter state coordination practices This book was published as a special issue of Irish Political Studies

Them and Us Philippe Legrain, 2020-10-15 Winner of the Diversity Inclusion and Equality Award at the Business Book Awards 2021 Underpinned by scholarship entertaining Legrain's book fizzles with practical ideas The Economist The beauty of diversity is that innovation often comes about by serendipity As Scott Page observed one day in 1904 at the World Fair in St Louis the ice cream vendor ran out of cups Ernest Hami a Syrian waffle vendor in the booth next door rolled up some waffles to make cones and the rest is history Filled with data anecdotes and optimism Them and Us is an endorsement of cultural differences at a time of acute national introspection By every measure from productivity to new perspectives immigrants bring something beneficial to society If patriotism means wanting the best for your country we should be welcoming immigrants with open arms

The London Bombings Marc Sageman, 2019-01-25 On July 7 2005 at the end of the morning rush hour three near simultaneous explosions tore apart the London Underground Within an hour the entire subway network was evacuated and a fourth explosion in a bus underscored that this was a terrorist operation The bombings shattered the British counterterrorism services assumptions about the global neojihadi threat to Britain Authorities pondered whether al Qaeda was a loose coalition with no clear leadership or a highly structured group with international reach that posed a clear threat to the United Kingdom These two perspectives are not just academic disputes but raise important issues with real consequences in terms of counterterrorism strategy What sorts of distinct measures are needed to combat these opposing forms of terrorism What can we learn from the ways in which the London terror attacks were planned and executed and from Britain's response In The London Bombings counterterrorism expert Marc Sageman seeks to answer these questions through a new detailed account and analysis of the Underground bombings as well as three other attacks directed at Britain between 2004 and 2006 Drawing on previously unavailable trial transcripts and law enforcement records terrorists self documentation and his own government experience in counterterrorism Sageman makes the case that top down and bottom up conceptions of terror organizations need not be incompatible and that in part because of this binary thinking the West has tended to overreact to the severity of the threat He stresses the fluid chaotic ways that terrorist events unfold spontaneously and gradually with haphazard planning as the perpetrators are often worldly educated and not particularly religious before becoming engaged in neojihadi activities The London Bombings is a vital persuasive account of events that have not yet been properly presented to the public and are critical to the foundation of an effective counterterrorism strategy
