Sun Shines Over The Sanggan River:

The Sun Shines Over the Sanggan River Ling Ding, 1984 A Selective Guide to Chinese Literature Milena Doleželová-Velingerová, 1988 The Monster That Is History David Der-Wei Wang, 2004-10-04 In ancient China a monster called Taowu was known for both its vicious nature and its power to see the past and the future Over the centuries Taowu underwent many incarnations until it became identifiable with history itself Since the seventeenth century fictive accounts of history have accommodated themselves to the monstrous nature of Taowu Moving effortlessly across the entire twentieth century literary landscape David Der wei Wang delineates the many meanings of Chinese violence and its literary manifestations Taking into account the campaigns of violence and brutality that have rocked generations of Chinese often in the name of enlightenment rationality and utopian plenitude this book places its arguments along two related axes history and representation modernity and monstrosity Wang considers modern Chinese history as a complex of geopolitical ethnic gendered and personal articulations of bygone and ongoing events His discussion ranges from the politics of decapitation to the poetics of suicide and from the typology of hunger and starvation to the technology of crime and punishment Ding Ling's Fiction Yi-tsi Mei Feuerwerker, 1982 Gender Politics in Modern China Tani E. Barlow, 1993 Through the lens of modern Chinese literature Gender Politics in Modern China explores the relationship between gender and modernity notions of the feminine and masculine and shifting arguments for gender equality in China Ranging from interviews with contemporary writers to historical accounts of gendered writing in Taiwan and semi colonial China to close feminist readings of individual authors these essays confront the degree to which textual strategies construct notions of gender Among the specific themes discussed are how femininity is produced in texts by allocating women to domestic space the extent to which textual production lies at the base of a changing historically specific code of the feminine the extent to which women in modern Chinese societies are products of literary canons the ways in which the historical processes of gendering have operated in Chinese modernity vis vis modernity in the West the representation of feminists as avengers and as westernized women and the meager recognition of feminism as a serious intellectual current and a large body of theory Originally published as a special issue of Modern Chinese Literature Spring Fall 1988 this expanded book represents some of the most compelling new work in post Mao feminist scholarship and will appeal to all those concerned with understanding a revitalized feminism in the Chinese context Contributors Carolyn Brown Ching kiu Stephen Chan Sung sheng Yvonne Chang Yu shih Chen Rey Chow Randy Kaplan Richard King Wolfgang Kubin Wendy Larson Lydia Liu Seung Yeun Daisy Ng Jon Solomon Meng Yue Wang Zheng The Monster That Is History Dewei Wang, 2004-10-04 In ancient China a monster called Taowu was known for both its vicious nature and its power to see the past and the future Since the seventeenth century fictive accounts of history have accommodated themselves to the monstrous nature of Taowu Moving effortlessly across the entire twentieth century literary landscape David Der wei Wang delineates the many meanings of Chinese violence and its

literary manifestations Historical Dictionary of Modern Chinese Literature Li-hua Ying, 2021-11-15 Modern Chinese literature has been flourishing for over a century with varying degrees of intensity and energy at different junctures of history and points of locale An integral part of world literature from the moment it was born it has been in constant dialogue with its counterparts from the rest of the world As it has been challenged and enriched by external influences it has contributed to the wealth of literary culture of the entire world In terms of themes and styles modern Chinese literature is rich and varied from the revolutionary to the pastoral from romanticism to feminism from modernism to post modernism critical realism psychological realism socialist realism and magical realism Indeed it encompasses a full range of ideological and aesthetic concerns This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Modern Chinese Literature presents a broad perspective on the development and history of literature in modern China It offers a chronology introduction bibliography and over 400 cross referenced dictionary entries on authors literary and historical developments trends genres and concepts that played a central role in the evolution of modern Chinese literature Women Who Changed the World Candice Goucher, 2022-01-24 This indispensable reference work provides readers with the tools to reimagine world history through the lens of women's lived experiences Learning how women changed the world will change the ways the world looks at the past Women Who Changed the World Their Lives Challenges and Accomplishments through History features 200 biographies of notable women and offers readers an opportunity to explore the global past from a gendered perspective The women featured in this four volume set cover the full sweep of history from our ancestral forbearer Lucy to today's tennis phenoms Venus and Serena Williams Every walk of life is represented in these pages from powerful monarchs and politicians to talented artists and writers from inquisitive scientists to outspoken activists Each biography follows a standardized format recounting the woman's life and accomplishments discussing the challenges she faced within her particular time and place in history and exploring the lasting legacy she left A chronological listing of biographies makes it easy for readers to zero in on particular time periods while a further reading list at the end of each essay serves as a gateway to further exploration and study High interest sidebars accompany many of the biographies offering more nuanced glimpses into the lives of these fascinating women Land Wars Brian DeMare, 2023-05-25 An updated and comprehensive history of Mao Zedong's Land Reform Movement in China Mao Zedong's land reform campaigns comprise a critical moment in modern Chinese history and were crucial to the rise of the Chinese Communist Party In Land Wars Brian DeMare draws on new archival research to offer an updated and comprehensive history of this attempt to fundamentally transform the countryside Across this vast terrain loyal Maoists dispersed intending to categorize poor farmers into prescribed social classes and instigate a revolution that would redistribute the land To achieve socialist utopia the Communists imposed and performed a harsh script of peasant liberation through fierce class struggle While many accounts of the campaigns give false credence to this narrative DeMare argues that the reality was much more complex and brutal than is commonly understood while many villagers prospered

there were families torn apart and countless deaths Uniquely weaving narrative and historical accounts DeMare powerfully highlights the often devastating role of fiction in determining history This corrective retelling ultimately sheds new light on the contemporary legacy of land reform a legacy fraught with inequality and resentment but also hope Praise for Land Wars Richly documented and elegantly written Land Wars reveals the contradictions and ironies intrinsic to the Chinese Communist Party's theory and practice of land reform A welcome addition to the literature on the Communist revolution it offers a counter narrative to the stories told in William Hinton's Fanshen in many ways Huaiyin Li University of Texas at Austin Land Wars successfully challenges still deeply entrenched Chinese Communist mythologies about the nature and dynamics of the 1945-1952 land reform DeMare's penetrating discussion of ferocious ritualized class struggle campaigns skillfully demonstrates how land reform was not about economic change This book is essential reading for anyone interested in the imposition of Communist political control at the grassroots Paul G Pickowicz Distinguished Professor Emeritus of History and Chinese Studies University of California San Diego Modernity with a Cold War Face Xiaojue Wang, 2020-05-11

The year 1949 witnessed China divided into multiple political and cultural entities How did this momentous shift affect Chinese literary topography Modernity with a Cold War Face examines the competing converging and conflicting modes of envisioning a modern nation in mid twentieth century Chinese literature Bridging the 1949 divide in both literary historical periodization and political demarcation Xiaojue Wang proposes a new framework to consider Chinese literature beyond national boundaries as something arising out of the larger global geopolitical and cultural conflict of the Cold War Examining a body of heretofore understudied literary and cultural production in mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong and overseas during a crucial period after World War II Wang traces how Chinese writers collected artistic fragments blended feminist and socialist agendas constructed ambivalent stances toward colonial modernity and an imaginary homeland translated foreign literature to shape a new Chinese subjectivity and revisited the classics for a new time Reflecting historical reality in fictional terms their work forged a path toward multiple modernities as they created alternative ways of connection communication and articulation to uncover and undermine Cold War dichotomous antagonism A History of Contemporary Chinese Literature Zicheng Hong, 2007 A thorough overview and analysis of the literary scene in China during the 1949-1999 period focusing primarily on fiction poetry drama and prose writing Provided by publisher The Columbia Companion to Modern East Asian Literature Joshua S. Mostow, 2003 This extraordinary one volume guide to the modern literatures of China Japan and Korea is the definitive reference work on the subject in the English language With more than one hundred articles that show how a host of authors and literary movements have contributed to the general literary development of their respective countries this companion is an essential starting point for the study of East Asian literatures Comprehensive thematic essays introduce each geographical section with historical overviews and surveys of persistent themes in the literature examined including nationalism gender family relations and sexuality Following the thematic essays are the individual entries over forty for China over fifty for Japan and almost thirty for Korea featuring everything from detailed analyses of the works of Tanizaki Jun ichiro and Murakami Haruki to far ranging explorations of avant garde fiction in China and postwar novels in Korea Arrayed chronologically each entry is self contained though extensive cross referencing affords readers the opportunity to gain a more synoptic view of the work author or movement The unrivaled opportunities for comparative analysis alone make this unique companion an indispensable reference for anyone interested in the burgeoning field of Asian literature Although the literatures of China Japan and Korea are each allotted separate sections the editors constantly kept an eye open to those writers works and movements that transcend national boundaries This includes for example Chinese authors who lived and wrote in Japan Japanese authors who wrote in classical Chinese and Korean authors who write in Japanese whether under the colonial occupation or because they are resident in Japan The waves of modernization can be seen as reaching each of these countries in a staggered fashion with eddies and back flows between them then complicating the picture further This volume provides a vivid sense of this dynamic interplay

Space, Politics, and Cultural Representation in Modern China Enhua Zhang, 2016-12-08 Regarding revolution as a spatial practice this book explores modes of spatial construction in modern China through a panoramic overview of major Chinese revolutionary events and nuanced analysis of cultural representations Examining the relationship between revolution space and culture in modern China the author takes five spatially significant revolutionary events as case studies the territorial dispute between Russia and the Qing dynasty in 1892 the Land Reform in the 1920s the Long March 1934-36 the mainland Taiwan split in 1949 and the Cultural Revolution 1966-76 and analyses how revolution constructs conceives and transforms space Using materials associated with these events including primarily literature as well as maps political treatises historiography plays film and art the book argues that in addition to redirecting the flow of Chinese history revolutionary movements operate in and on space in three main ways maintaining territorial sovereignty redefining social relations and governing an imaginary realm Arguing for reconsideration of revolution as a reorganization of space as much as time this book will appeal to students and scholars of Chinese culture society history and literature

Revolution Plus Love Liu Jianmei, 2003-09-30 In the aftermath of the May Fourth movement a growing expectation of revolution raised important intellectual issues about the position of the individual within a society in turmoil and the shifting boundaries of political and sexual identities The theme of revolution plus love a literary response to the widespread insurrections and upheaval was first popularized in the late 1920s In her examination of this popular but understudied literary formula Liu Jianmei argues that revolution and love are culturally variable entities their interplay a complex and constantly changing literary practice that is socially and historically determined Liu looks at the formulary writing of revolution plus love from the 1930s to the 1970s as a case study of literary politics Favored by leftist writers during the early period of revolutionary literature it continued to influence mainstream Chinese literature up to the 1970s By drawing a historical picture of the articulation and rearticulation of this theme Liu shows how changes in revolutionary discourse force unpredictable representations of gender roles and power relations and how women's bodies reveal the complex interactions between political representation and gender roles Revolution Plus Love is a nuanced and carefully considered work on gender and modernity in China unmatched in its broad use of literary resources It will be of considerable interest to scholars and students of modern Chinese literature women's studies cultural studies and comparative literature

The Question of Women in Chinese Feminism Tani Barlow, 2004-03-25 Barlow documents the history of woman as a category in twentieth century Chinese history tracing the question of gender through various phases in the literary career of Ding Ling a major modern Chinese writer

Naked Earth Eileen Chang, 2015-06-16 An NYRB Classics Original Set in the early years of Mao's China Naked Earth is the story of two earnest young people confronting the grim realities of revolutionary change Liu Ch'an and Su Nan meet in the countryside after volunteering to assist in the new land reform program Eager to build a more just society they are puzzled and shocked by the brutality barely disguised corruption and ruthless careerism they discover but then quickly silenced by the barrage of propaganda and public criticism that is directed at anyone who appears to doubt a righteous cause Joined together by the secret of their common dismay they remain in touch when Liu departs to work on a newspaper in Peking where Su Nan eventually also moves Something like love begins to grow between them but then a new round of purges sweeps through the revolutionary ranks One of the greatest and most loved of modern Chinese writers Eileen Chang illuminates the dark corners of the human existence with a style of disorienting beauty Naked Earth unavailable in English for more than fifty years is a harrowing tale of perverted ideals damaged souls deepest loneliness and terror

The A to Z of Modern Chinese Literature Li-Hua Ying, 2010 The A to Z of Modern Chinese Literature presents a broad perspective on the development and history of literature in modern China It offers a chronology introduction bibliography and over 300 cross referenced dictionary entries on authors literary and historical developments trends genres and concepts that played a central role in the evolution of modern Chinese literature

Enduring the Revolution Charles J. Alber, 2001-12-30 An anarchist by temperament the beautiful and talented Ding Ling attempted to find her way in the world alone She had a few female friends and a few significant male others but she rebelled against her family Most importantly she rebelled against the Chinese Communist Party to which she desperately hoped to belong The first part of a comprehensive biography of the major 20th century Chinese author Ding Ling this work draws not only on her memoirs but on numerous secondary sources many of which have become available only in the last two decades Though born into a wealthy family Jiang Bingzi was raised by her mother after the untimely death of her father She went to school in the May 4 era when protest was in the air the radical ideas of Mao were already in print and her idol Lu Xun was making his literary mark In her late teens she renounced her engagement changed her name and fled to Shanghai where she embraced the anarchist movement The loss of her brother and lifelong friend Wang Jianhong and the loss of her significant other Hu Yepin all threw her into various states of depression not to mention her own abduction by the

Guomindang Nevertheless Ding Ling wrote her way out of despair and into the public limelight Her first collection of short stories In the Darkness made her famous because of its profound grasp of feminine psychology and its daring treatment of human sexuality But when Ding Ling attempted to dispel the darkness in Yan an she like everyone else was told by Mao in his famous Talks to focus on the light Ding Ling made all the necessary adjustments literary and political She survived the rectification campaign and mastered proletarian fiction Mao loved her novel The Sun Shines on the Sanggan so much that he ranked her third among contemporaries Soon she was traveling to Eastern Europe and to Moscow where she consulted with Soviet notables With the founding of the People s Republic it appeared her star was on the rise This study of Ding Ling and China s literary environment in the first half of the 20th century will be useful to scholars and students of contemporary Chinese history literature and women s studies The Gate of Heavenly Peace Jonathan D. Spence, 1982-10-28 A milestone in Western studies of China John K Fairbank In this masterful highly original approach to modern Chinese history Jonathan D Spence shows us the Chinese revolution through the eyes of its most articulate participants the writers historians philosophers and insurrectionists who shaped and were shaped by the turbulent events of the twentieth century By skillfully combining literary materials with more conventional sources of political and social history Spence provides an unparalleled look at China and her people and offers valuable insight into the continuing conflict between the implacable power of the state and the strivings of China s artists writers and thinkers The Oxford Handbook of Global Realisms

Vaysman, 2025-11-04 Realism is an artistic practice that aims to faithfully represent reality Historically it has been practiced across different media from early pictorial art and epic oral narratives through literature and visual arts to film music and digital media However an understanding of what it means to faithfully represent reality is not universal rather it varies from culture to culture The Oxford Handbook of Global Realisms approaches realism as a transnational transhistorical and intermedial global phenomenon It brings the diversity of global realisms to the fore showcasing previously underrepresented and marginalized theories practices forms and media of realist cultural production
