By Sarah Lyall, Health Editor

The deaths of 650 patients of a surgeon who carried out thousands of operations are being investigated.

A team of medical experts, together with the coroners, is sifting through the records of a surgeon who was jailed for 20 years after being found guilty of murdering a patient. The surgeon, who worked for over 20 years at a specialist breast cancer unit in Birmingham, is serving a life sentence for the murder of a woman in 2001. The investigation is the first of its kind, involving a team of experts from the Home Office, the NHS, and the coroners' service.

The 27 inquests have been opened in cases where women suffered from breast cancer. The coroners are looking for evidence of any negligence or errors in the care of these women.
