Welcome to Painterland Anastasia Aukeman,2016-08-09 The Rat Bastard Protective Association was an inflammatory close knit community of artists who lived and worked in a building they dubbed Painterland in the Fillmore neighborhood of midcentury San Francisco The artists who counted themselves among the Rat Bastards which included Joan Brown Bruce Conner Jay DeFeo Wally Hedrick Michael McClure and Manuel Neri exhibited a unique fusion of radicalism provocation and community Geographically isolated from a viable art market and refusing to conform to institutional expectations they animated broader social and artistic discussions through their work and became a transformative part of American culture over time Anastasia Aukeman presents new and little known archival material in this authorized account of these artists and their circle a colorful cultural milieu that intersected with the broader Beat scene

Junk Gillian Whiteley,2010-11-30 Trash garbage rubbish dross and detritus in this enjoyably radical exploration of Junk Gillian Whiteley rethinks art s historical and present appropriation of junk within our eco conscious and globalised culture She does this through an illustrated exploration of particular materials key moments and locations and the telling of a panoply of trash narratives Found and ephemeral materials are primarily associated with assemblage object based practices which emerged in the mid 1950s and culminated in the seminal exhibition The Art of Assemblage in New York in 1961 With its deployment of the discarded and the filthy Whiteley argues assemblage has been viewed as a disruptive transgressive artform that engaged with narratives of social and political dissent often in the face of modernist condemnation as worthless kitsch In the Sixties parallel techniques flourished in Western Europe the US and Australia but the idiom of assemblage and the re use of found materials and objects with artist as bricoleur is just as prevalent now This is a timely book that uncovers the etymology of waste and the cultures of disposability within these economies of wealth

Art, Politics and Dissent Francis Frascina,1999 Art Politics and Dissent provides a counter history to conventional accounts of American art Close historical examinations of particular events in Los Angeles and New York in the 1960s are interwoven with discussion of the location of these events normally marginalized or overlooked in the history of cultural politics in the United States during the postwar period

City of Quartz Mike Davis,2006-09-17 No metropolis has been more loved or more hated To its official boosters Los Angeles

brings it all together To detractors LA is a sunlit mortuary where you can rot without feeling it To Mike Davis the author of this fiercely elegant and wide ranging work of social history Los Angeles is both utopia and dystopia a place where the last Joshua trees are being plowed under to make room for model communities in the desert where the rich have hired their own police to fend off street gangs as well as armed Beirut militias In City of Quartz Davis reconstructs LA's shadow history and dissects its ethereal economy He tells us who has the power and how they hold on to it He gives us a city of Dickensian extremes Pynchonesque conspiracies and a desperation straight out of Nathaniel West a city in which we may glimpse our own future mirrored with terrifying clarity The Cinema of Urban Crisis Lawrence Webb, 2025-10-01 In the 1970s cities across the United States and Western Europe faced a deep social and political crisis that challenged established principles of planning economics and urban theory At the same time film industries experienced a parallel process of transition the effects of which rippled through the aesthetic and narrative form of the decade's cinema The Cinema of Urban Crisis traces a new path through the cinematic legacy of the 1970s by drawing together these intertwined histories of urban and cultural change Bringing issues of space and place to the fore the book unpacks the geographical and spatial dynamics of film movements from the New Hollywood to the New German Cinema showing how the crisis of the seventies and the emerging postindustrial economy brought film and the city together in new configurations Chapters cover a range of cities on both sides of the Atlantic from New York Philadelphia and San Francisco to London Paris and Berlin Integrating analysis of film industries and production practices with detailed considerations of individual texts the book offers strikingly original close analyses of a wide range of films from New Hollywood The Conversation The King of Marvin Gardens Rocky to European art cinema Alice in the Cities The Passenger Tout va Bien and popular international genres such as the political thriller and the crime film Focusing on the aesthetic and representational strategies of these films the book argues that the decade's cinema engaged with and helped to shape the passage from the urban crisis of the late sixties to the neoliberal urban renaissance of the early eighties Splicing ideas from film studies with urban geography and architectural history the book offers a fresh perspective on a rich period of film history and opens up new directions for critical engagement between film and urban studies
