Society Basics Pkg Canadian:

Health and Canadian Society David Coburn, Carl D'Arcy, George Murray Torrance, 1998-01-01 Health and Canadian Society provides a comprehensive overview of the relationship between health health care and Canadian society It is a wide ranging volume that moves from personal and micro concerns to a more macro and institutional focus It includes chapters of a descriptive nature and others with a more explanatory intent They have been selected from the major journals or have been expressly written for this book Ninety five percent of the contributions are new to this edition The chapters and the studies reported on are methodologically diverse ranging from ethnographic studies to statistical analyses of data from large national surveys Though the chapters are written by anthropologists economists historians political scientists and physicians as well as sociologists they all have a sociological turn Recognized as the standard textbook on the sociology of health in Canada Health and Canadian Society is an essential reference for sociologists health care providers health administrators and policy planners

Basic Income for Canadians Evelyn L. Forget, 2020-10-13 Before the COVID 19 pandemic the idea of providing a basic income to everyone in Canada who needs it was already gaining broad support Then in response to a crisis that threatened to put millions out of work the federal government implemented new measures which constituted Canada's largest ever experiment with a basic income for almost everyone In this new and revised edition Evelyn L Forget offers a clear eyed look at how these emergency measures could be transformed into a program that ensures an adequate basic income for every Canadian Forget details what we can learn from earlier basic income experiments in Canada and internationally She weighs the options investigates whether Canadians can afford a permanent basic income program and describes how it could best be implemented across the country This accessible book offers everything a reader needs to decide if a basic income program is the right follow up to the short term government response to COVID 19

Zero Poverty Society Sarah Marchal,Ive Marx,2024-10-03 The notion that every person living amidst the relative affluence of the rich world has a right to a minimum income enabling social participation be it frugally and soberly holds as a fundamental matter of social justice to most people But how can we make sure that every person has a decent minimum income allowing for a life with dignity in societies rich enough to afford such a right How can we ensure that minimum income support is cost effective and compatible with other goals such as promoting work effort self reliance and upward mobility How can political support for such schemes be fostered and made robust Zero Poverty Society assesses the current state of minimum income protection in the rich world building on original empirical analysis It also engages with debates on topics as diverse as optimal targeting and means testing administrative complexity non take up behavioural economics the political economy of minimum income protection and basic income Marchal and Marx conclude that more adequate poverty prevention is possible without the costs having to be prohibitive However they are sceptical about silver bullet solutions such as basic income Adequate minimum income protection is not a matter of getting one scheme or policy right It is a matter of getting multiple policy levers right in the right configuration Incremental context conscious expansion is the way forward if we really care about the most vulnerable

Welfare, Choice and Solidarity in Transition János Kornai,Karen Eggleston,2001-05-31 Reform of the welfare sector is an important yet difficult challenge for all countries in transition from socialist central planning to market oriented democracies Here a scholar of the economics of socialism and post socialist transition and a health economist take on this challenge This 2001 book offers health sector reform recommendations for ten countries of Eastern Europe drawn consistently from a set of explicit guiding principles After discussing sector specific characteristics lessons of international experience and the main set of initial conditions the authors advocate reforms based on organized public financing for basic care private financing for supplementary care pluralistic delivery of services and managed competition Policymakers need to achieve a balance both assuring social solidarity through universal access to basic health services and expanding individual choice and responsibility through voluntary supplemental insurance The authors also consider the problems that undermine effectiveness of market based competition in the health sector Resources in Education ,1994-05
