Working Mother ,1994-12 The magazine that helps career moms balance their personal and professional lives The Call of the Night Rider: A Story of the Days of William Tyndale Albert Lee,2020-09-28 As she walked across the meadow carrying a basket in one hand and swinging a a dainty blue hood in the other Margaret Byrckmann made a picture that was pleasing to behold She looked up as she moved along but her eyes went down again before the dazzling sun which was setting in a blaze of red splendour silhouetting the battlemented walls of the city She gave this evening beauty scanty attention for her dark eyes were watching the meadow Then a cry of pleasure broke from her lips and she hastened forward but before she had gone far her face filled with disappointment and she stopped abruptly I thought it was Herman she exclaimed almost petulantly She watched a man who was walking wearily He looked dusty and wayworn and the movement on the beaten path seemed to be toilsome and painful She thought he must have travelled far for he carried a heavy looking wallet on his back and the staff in his hand was used as though it was real labour to go forward He is tired to death poor man she muttered her sympathy getting the better of her disappointment and she crossed the meadow to intercept him Until he halted in sheer weariness to look around for some spot a tree or a bush anything that would screen him from the glare of the sun the man in the meadow did not see her but the moment he spoke Margaret knew that he was not one of her countrymen Mistress how far is it to the city he asked in a foreign accent That is it she answered softly and full of concern for the stranger s limbs trembled and his hand shook when he raised it to set his cap straight With the other he gripped his staff tightly lest he should fall Yonder he exclaimed gazing beneath his hand I did not see it in the blaze of the sunset It seems a long way off More than two miles said Margaret Two miles was the dismayed response so far as that Yes sir But how will you think to enter the city since tis but a few minutes to sundown They close the gates the moment the sunset bell has stopped Is it so came the discouraged response I forgot that it is not here as it is in England where our walled cities are so few Then I must lie in the meadow till sunrise You could enter if you had a pass said Margaret who was concerned for the stranger for in spite of his wallet and the travel stains she saw that he was no common wanderer But I have no pass The stranger and the girl standing in silence while the slanting sunlight was sending long shadows over the grass looked around for some place a hut or a barn or anything where a man who was tired could lie down and sleep but there was nothing of that sort in view no village far or near There is no place that I can see said Margaret who had never noticed how empty the fields were of houses until now when they were so badly needed Ah well I may not complain the stranger muttered Why should I Even the dear Lord saw many a sun go down and had nowhere to lay His head He spoke more to himself as if forgetful that the girl was near until she moved I will sit down under the chestnut tree and take my chance unless your home is anywhere outside the city walls I live in the city sir but they know me and I have a permit to get in after the gates are shut said Margaret And yet I am so sorry for you she went on softly If I only knew where I might find some food I would not care the stranger said gazing around him his hand above his eyes A low call came while he was speaking like the sweet note of the last evening bird It travelled over the meadow from the river and Margaret looked up quickly Her dark eyes flashed and her lips parted with pleasure then she sent back an answering cry full of soft rich music The stranger watching her pale face saw the flush of colour darken it and worn out though he was he marvelled at her beauty and smiled to himself Pardon me for a moment sir she exclaimed when her answer ended I will come back again While she spoke she moved away with hurried steps to meet a young man who had appeared on the bank of the broad river He had been bending low to fasten his boat to the root of one of the willows but when he saw her coming he came to meet her and throwing his arms about her he kissed her till she asked for breathing time

Emlyn Williams,2025-06-01 In Night Must Fall A Play in Three Acts Emlyn Williams crafts a psychological thriller that delves into the depths of human psyche and moral ambiguity Set in a secluded bungalow in 1930s Essex the narrative unfolds around Mrs Bramson a domineering and hypochondriacal matriarch her skeptical niece Olivia Grayne and the enigmatic Dan whose charm masks a sinister intent The story begins with the revelation that Dora Mrs Bramson s maid is pregnant Mrs Bramson summons the presumed father Dan whose charisma quickly ingratiates him with the household Despite Olivia s suspicions Dan becomes an indispensable presence manipulating those around him with ease As a local murder mystery looms the tension escalates and the line between reality and deception blurs Williams masterfully explores themes of manipulation power dynamics and the facades people maintain The play s suspenseful atmosphere is heightened by dark humor and intricate character development making it a standout in British theatre The interplay between characters especially the psychological duel between Olivia and Dan offers a profound commentary on human nature and the allure of danger Night Must Fall remains a seminal work in crime drama its relevance undiminished by time Its exploration of deception and the human psyche continues to captivate audiences solidifying its place as a classic play that transcends its era How to Get Your Child to Love Reading Esmé Raji Codell,2003-01-01 Offers advice and guidelines on how to expand a child's world through books and reading introducing three thousand teacher recommended book titles craft ideas projects recipes and reading club tips Sometimes A River Song Avril Joy,2016-04-27 Set in a river boat community in Arkansas in the 1930s this poignant story chronicles Aiyana Weir's spirited determination to break away from a life like that of the women around her defined and dominated by brutal patriarchy Aiyana's voice unique hesitant and uneducated expresses the turmoil of her inner world through the details and rhythms of her beloved river and charts her secret pursuit of literacy her only means of escape from the abuse of her father and the indifference of the man to whom she is casually given Her grandmother a mythical figure steeped in wisdom and folklore and her brother Lyle are Aiyana's only allies in her struggle for survival and as shameless plans to leave the river Three Questions We Never Stop Asking Michael K. Kellogg,2010-07-20 This excellent introduction to the essential issues that have preoccupied philosophers throughout the centuries provides fresh and engaging portraits of the greatest thinkers on three perennial questions What can I know What may I hope What ought I to do The author summarizes the thoughts of Plato and Wittgenstein on the possibility of philosophical knowledge Kant and Nietzsche on the existence of God Aristotle and Heidegger on human virtue The first member of the pair is a builder the second a destroyer One explores the promise of a theory the other the consequences of its ruin These juxtaposed pairs are not self contained however All six thinkers are engaged in a dialogue with one another on issues that touch our lives directly and profoundly The author has arranged them in an order that unveils an ever deepening understanding of the moral spiritual and intellectual space in which our lives unfold For anyone wishing to discover or rediscover philosophy in its original meaning the love of wisdom this engaging clearly written and accessible volume is an excellent place to start Last Call David Lee,2014-08-01 Few poets of Western America fill the organic intellectual role better than David Lee His poetry is the real deal when it comes to recording hilariously insightful and linguistically accurate observations of rural culture and America at large while using a host of astute literary allusions and techniques Imagine Robert Frost simultaneously channeling Will Rogers and Ezra Pound Imagine Chaucer with a twang Last Call is bloody brilliant and wickedly witty As Sam Hamill says If we were a civilized nation we would declare David Lee a national treasure Call of the Deep Frank Thomas Bullen,1907 The Call of the Rift: Wake Jae Waller,2023-05-23 Fire smoke and ash consume the continent in the darkest chapter yet in The Call of the Rift series The Battle of Tjarnnaast left its mark Katja is adrift haunted by her memories of the battle and dark visions of a desolate wasteland Her only guidance is her parents cryptic messages from the spirit world On their instructions Katja goes south to track down her mercenary friend Tiernan Maybe together they can find the Ronbattai's elusive cleric leader defeat their ranks forever and end the war Then Katja could finally go home if she can decide where home is Yet Tiernan is missing and Katja's best hope of rescuing him is by striking unlikely alliances with untrustworthy acquaintances and new allies hiding dangerous secrets Druids whisper of dry winters and warming oceans and the war torn nation is a tinderbox ready to ignite Katja must use everything in her power from her water magic to her hand in marriage to battle the growing flames If they erupt into a wildfire everyone and everything she loves will burn with them About the Series Set in two parallel worlds this series follows Kateiko Rin a headstrong teenage girl with the power to shapeshift and control water as she grows up in the war torn coastal rainforest As the worlds diverge so do the versions of herself Orphaned Kako takes up arms to protect her people while refugee Katja finds purpose as a healer Each girl s fiction is the other s truth in love war and everything in between The prospect of a rift opening between worlds poses a question to characters and readers if you could cross into another version of your life would you The Call of the Rift series has been praised for its intricate plotting meticulous worldbuilding and expert writing from author Jae Waller a talented newcomer to YA fantasy fiction The series appeals to the mature reader of YA fantasy looking for romantic content women led fiction LGBTQ and BIPOC representation and complex worlds and characters It began in 2018 with The Call of the Rift Flight and will conclude with the fifth book in the series The Call of the Rift Fuse in 2025
