The Alchemy Of Intelligence:

The Alchemy of Intelligence Warren Doheman, 1984-10-01 Alchemy and Artificial Intelligence Hubert L. Dreyfus, 1965
Early successes in programming digital computers to exhibit simple forms of intelligent behavior coupled with the belief that intelligent activities differ only in their degree of complexity have led to the conviction that the information processing underlying any cognitive performance can be formulated in a program and thus simulated on a digital computer Attempts to simulate cognitive processes on computers have however run into greater difficulties than anticipated An examination of these difficulties reveals that the attempt to analyze intelligent behavior in digital computer language systematically excludes three fundamental human forms of information processing fringe consciousness essence accident discrimination and ambiguity tolerance Moreover there are four distinct types of intelligent activity only two of which do not presuppose these human forms of information processing and can therefore be programmed Significant developments in artificial intelligence in the remaining two areas must await computers of an entirely different sort of which the only existing prototype is the little understood human brain Author The Alchemy of Intelligence H. Warren Dohemann, Melvin Suhd, 1984 Intelligence Beyond Thought Dada, 2006 Autobiography of a Hindu spiritual leader from India Conversational Intelligence Judith E. Glaser, 2016-10-14 The key to success in life and business is to become a master at Conversational Intelligence It s not about how smart you are but how open you are to learn new and effective powerful conversational rituals that prime the brain for trust partnership and mutual success Conversational Intelligence translates the wealth of new insights coming out of neuroscience from across the globe and brings the science down to earth so people can understand and apply it in their everyday lives Author Judith Glaser presents a framework for knowing what kind of conversations trigger the lower more primitive brain and what activates higher level intelligences such as trust integrity empathy and good judgment Conversational Intelligence makes complex scientific material simple to understand and apply through a wealth of easy to use tools examples conversational rituals and practices for all levels of an organization The Heart Algorithm
Reprogramming Success with Emotional Intelligence Igor Berner, 2025-10-19 I ve always believed that success isn t written in code it s written in emotion In The Heart Algorithm I take you on a personal and scientific journey through the hidden layers of human intelligence the emotional kind that silently programs every choice every victory and every failure This isn t just another self help book filled with motivational clich s It s a system a living algorithm designed to help you decode your patterns reprogram your mindset and synchronize your logic with your heart s deeper wisdom Through a blend of neuroscience emotional intelligence and practical exercises I share the very methods I used to overcome burnout reframe my purpose and build a more grounded version of success If you ve ever felt like you re running powerful software on outdated emotional code this book is your system update Your heart already knows the path I m just here to help you read the code
 The Magic of Potentiality: The Philosophy of Differentiation in Artificial Intelligence Denys Spirin, 2025-05-02 A

Intelligence and Wisdom Bing Song,2021-09-08 This book centers on rethinking foundational values in the era of frontier technologies by tapping into the wisdom of Chinese philosophical traditions It tries to answer the following questions How is the essence underpinning humans nature and machines changing in this age of frontier technologies What is the appropriate ethical framework for regulating human machine relationships What human values should be embedded in or learnt by AI Some interesting points emerged from the discussions For example the three dominant schools of Chinese thinking Confucianism Daoism and Buddhism invariably reflect non anthropocentric perspectives and none of them places humanity in a supreme position in the universe While many Chinese philosophers are not convinced by the prospect of machine intelligence exceeding that of humans the strong influence of non anthropocentrism in the Chinese thinking contributed to much less panic in China than in the West about the existential risks of AI The thinking is that as human beings have always lived with other forms of existence living with programs or other forms of beings which may become more capable than humans will not inevitably lead to a dystopia Second all three schools emphasize self restraint constant introspection and the pursuit of sage hood or enlightenment These views therefore see the potential risks posed by frontier technologies as an opportunity for the humanity to engage in introspection on the lessons learned from our social and political history It is long overdue that humanity shall rethink its foundational values to take into account a multi being planetary outlook This book consists of nine leading Chinese philosophers reflections on AI s impact on human nature and the human society This is a groundbreaking work which has pioneered the in depth intellectual exploration involving traditional Chinese philosophy and frontier technologies and has inspired multidisciplinary and across area studies on AI philosophy and ethical implications Chapters 1 3 5 7 and 10 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution NonCommercial NoDerivatives 4.0 International License via link.springer.com
