E. Gracia, 2008-04-30 A first of its kind book that seriously and profoundly examines what it means philosophically to be Latino and where Latinos fit in American society Offers a fresh perspective and clearer understanding of Latin American thought and culture rejecting answers based on stereotypes and fear Takes an interdisciplinary approach to the philosophical social and political elements of Hispanic Latino identity touching upon anthropology history cultural studies and sociology as well as philosophy Written by Jorge J E Gracia one of the most influential thinkers of Hispanic Latino descent A Century of Genocide Eric D. Weitz, 2015-04-27 Why did the twentieth century witness unprecedented organized genocide Can we learn why genocide is perpetrated by comparing different cases of genocide Is the Holocaust unique or does it share causes and features with other cases of state sponsored mass murder Can genocide be prevented Blending gripping narrative with trenchant analysis Eric Weitz investigates four of the twentieth century's major eruptions of genocide the Soviet Union under Stalin Nazi Germany Cambodia under the Khmer Rouge and the former Yugoslavia Drawing on historical sources as well as trial records memoirs novels and poems Weitz explains the prevalence of genocide in the twentieth century and shows how and why it became so systematic and deadly Weitz depicts the searing brutality of each genocide and traces its origins back to those most powerful categories of the modern world race and nation He demonstrates how in each of the cases a strong state pursuing utopia promoted a particular mix of extreme national and racial ideologies In moments of intense crisis these states targeted certain national and racial groups believing that only the annihilation of these enemies would enable the dominant group to flourish And in each instance large segments of the population were enticed to join in the often ritualistic actions that destroyed their neighbors This book offers some of the most absorbing accounts ever written of the population purges forever associated with the names Stalin Hitler Pol Pot and Milosevic A controversial and richly textured comparison of these four modern cases it identifies the social and political forces that produce genocide

Negotiating Belongings Melanie Baak, 2016-07-28 Belonging is an issue that affects us all but for those who have been displaced unsettled or made homeless by the increased movements associated with the contemporary globalising era belonging is under constant challenge Migration throws into question not only the belongings of those who physically migrate but also particularly in a postcolonial context the belongings of those who are indigenous to and settlers in countries of migration subsequent generations born to migrants and those who are left behind in countries of origin Negotiating Belongings utilises narrative ethnographic and autoethnographic approaches to explore the negotiations for belonging for six women from Dinka communities originating in southern Sudan It explores belonging particularly in relation to migration through a consideration of belonging to nation states ethnic groups community family and kin In exploring how the journeys towards desired belongings are haunted by various social processes such as colonisation power race and gender the author argues that negotiating belonging is a continual movement between being and becoming The research utilises and demands different ways of listening to and really hearing the narratives of the women as embedded within non Western epistemologies and ontologies Through this it develops an understanding of the relational ontology cieng that governs the ways in which the women exist in the world The women s narratives alongside the author s experience within the Dinka community provide particular ways to interrogate the intersections of being and becoming on the haunted journey to belonging The relational ontology of cieng provides an additional way of understanding belonging becoming and being as always relational

Surviving Race, Ethnicity, and Nationality Jorge J. E. Gracia, 2005-11-01 Surviving Race Ethnicity and Nationality is the first book to explore philosophically the concepts of race ethnicity and nationality and offer a systematic and unified theory emphasizing metaphysical and epistemological issues Gracia argues for a familial historical view of ethnicity and race in the tradition of Du Bois and for a political view of nationality the roots of which can be traced to the French Enlightenment Meticulous criticism of Appiah on race Corlett on ethnicity and Miller on nationality set the stage for the presentation of Gracia s own analytically precise discussion Surviving Race Ethnicity and Nationality is an indispensable resource for anyone interested in the distinctive ways that philosophy informs and clarifies our common understanding of these complex concepts

Filming the Modern Middle East Lina Khatib, 2006-09-29 Filming the Modern Middle East is the first comparative investigation of how modern American cinema and the cinemas of the Arab world represent Middle Eastern politics to their audiences Lina Khatib examines the cinematic depictions of major political issues from the Arab Israeli conflict to the Gulf War to Islamic fundamentalism and covers films made in the USA in Egypt Tunisia Morocco Lebanon Syria and Palestine She explores cinema s role as a tool of nationalism in the USA and the Arab world and the challenges the Arab cinemas present to Hollywood s dominant representations of Middle Eastern politics But she also reveals similarities between supposed contradictory cinemas and importantly not only how the Orient is constructed by the Occident but also how the Orient itself in these cinemas represents Self and Others and how it is consumed by internal as well as external struggles This is a fascinating original contribution to the burgeoning interest in world cinemas which also offers a fresh way of seeing Middle East politics through cinematic lenses
