The European Tribe:

The European Tribe Caryl Phillips, 2017-09-13 In this richly descriptive and haunting narrative Caryl Phillips chronicles a journey through modern day Europe his quest guided by a moral compass rather than a map Seeking personal definition within the parameters of growing up black in Europe he discovers that the natural loneliness and confusion inherent in long journeys collides with the bigotry of the European Tribe a global community of whites caught up in an unyielding Eurocentric history Phillips deftly illustrates the scenes and characters he encounters from Casablanca and Costa del Sol to Venice Amsterdam Oslo and Moscow He ultimately discovers that Europe is blinded by her past and does not understand the high price of her churches art galleries and history as the prison from which Europeans speak In the afterword to the Vintage edition Phillips revisits the Europe he knew as a young man and offers fresh observations

Under English Eyes Jopi Nyman, 2000 British fictions of the early twentieth century appear obsessed with Europe Various texts from E M Forster and D H Lawrence to Bram Stoker and the period's travel writing explore European spaces constructing the European as an Other threatening the position of the English What they constantly repeat is England's difference and the secondary role of European spaces whose representation resembles that of colonial lands By reading selected texts both canonized and popular published between 1894 and 1916 this study argues that this xenophobic construction is a sign of the pervading presence of concerns related to the maintenance of English national identity Englishness allegedly threatened by the European Other By drawing on current postcolonial theory the case studies in the volume show that the discourse on the Other produced in British writings on Europe contributes more than has been understood to the making and promoting of Englishness The authors studied include D H Lawrence Katherine Mansfield Anthony Hope Arnold Bennett Mrs Alec Tweedie Erskine Childers and Joseph Conrad The study will renew our understanding of the role of Europe in the period's cultural imagination showing that the identities of the English are formed in encounters with different internal and external Others

Travelers, Immigrants, Inmates Frances Bartkowski, 1995 Travelers Immigrants Inmates was first published in 1995 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions Identities are always mistaken yet they are as necessary as air to sustain life in and among communities Frances Bartkowski uses travel writings U S immigrant autobiographies and concentration camp memoirs to illustrate how tales of dislocation present readers with a picture of the complex issues surrounding mistaken identities In turn we learn much about the intimate relation between language and power Combining psychoanalytic and political modes of analysis Bartkowski explores the intertwining of place and the construction of identities The numerous writings she considers include Andr Gide's Voyage to the Congo Eva Hoffman's Lost in Translation Sandra Cisneros's House on Mango Street Zora Neale Hurston's Dust Tracks on a Road and Tell My Horse and Primo Levi's Survival in Auschwitz Elegantly written and incisive Travelers Immigrants Inmates stands at the crossroads of contemporary
