The Fallen Star Edward Bulwer Lytton Baron Lytton, 1915 The Fallen Star E. L. Bulwer, 2015-06-25 Excerpt from The Fallen Star Or the History of a False Religion Religion says Noah Webster in his American Dictionary of the English Language is derived from Religo to bind anew and in this History of a False Religion our author has shown how easily its votaries were ensnared deceived and mentally bound in a labyrinth of falsehood and error by a designing knave who established a new religion and a new order of priesthood by imposing on their ignorance and credulity The history of the origin of one supernatural religion will with slight alterations serve to describe them all Their claim to credence rests on the exhibition of so called miracles that is on a violation of the laws of nature for if religions were founded on the demonstrated truths of science there would be no mystery no supernaturalism no miracles no skepticism no false religion We would have only verified truths and demonstrated facts for the basis of our belief But this simple foundation does not satisfy the unreasoning multitude About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Fallen Star, Or the History of a False Religion E. Bulwer, Lord Brougham, 2016-05-23 Among the multitudes of diverse and opposing religions which afflict mankind it is self evident that but one religion may justly claim the inspiration of truth and it is equally evident to all reasoning minds that that religion is the religion of kindness and humanity the religion of noble thoughts and generous deeds which removes the enmities of race and creed and makes the whole world kin And which in its observance is blessed with sympathy friendship happiness and love This religion needs no creed no profession of faith no incense no prayer no penance no sacrifice Its whole duty consists in comforting the afflicted assisting the unfortunate protecting the helpless and in honestly fulfilling our duties to our fellow mortals In the language of Confucius the ancient Chinese Sage it is simply to behave to others as I would require others to behave to me Do unto others as you would they should do unto you says Jesus and in the Epistle of James we are told that Pure Religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world The same benign and generous conduct is commended in even grander and nobler language in the lectures to the French Masonic Lodges Love one another teach one another help one another That is all our doctrine all our science all our law It is believed that the learned dissertation of Lord Brougham on the Origin of Evil which is annexed to this work will need no commendation to ensure its careful perusal PETER ECKLER
