

A woman in a white dress is walking away from the viewer through a grand, classical building with tall columns. The scene is bathed in warm, golden light, suggesting sunrise or sunset. In the background, a range of mountains is visible under a hazy sky. Large, ornate planters with flowers are positioned on either side of the path. The overall mood is contemplative and serene.

The Heart Of Philosophy:

The Heart of Philosophy Jacob Needleman, 2003-08-25 Philosophy as it is frequently taught in classrooms bears little relation to the impassioned and immensely practical search for self knowledge conducted by not only its ancient avatars but also by men and woman who seek after truth today In The Heart of the Philosophy Jacob Needleman provides a user s guide for those who would take philosophy seriously enough to understand its life transforming qualities

The Heart of Things A.C. Grayling, 2010-12-09 The new bestseller from one of Britain s most pre eminent philosophers and arguably the best known A C Grayling Everyone wishes to live a life that is satisfying and fulfilling in which there is achievement and pleasure and which has the respect of people one in turn respects And one of the fundamentals to living such a life is to reflect on the choices we make In this new collection A C Grayling invites the reader into a conversation with ideas From personal questions about happiness and quality of life to wider public concerns such as war and democracy these essays provide a springboard to thought and to exploring what is best about the human heart and mind

The Heart and its Attitudes Stephen Darwall, 2024-04-30 Philosophers don t often write about the heart At least analytical philosophers don t Why is this Philosophers are said to live life in their heads rather than from their hearts But even if that is so why don t they think and write about the heart Moreover it can hardly have escaped philosophers attention that matters of the heart are central to what we human beings value most about our lives including our lives with animals Philosophers write a lot about friendship and love but they tend to do so in terms that leave out heartfelt connection They speak rather of commitment to one another and each other s well being or taking each other as ends or sharing deliberative standpoints or living life together or a whole host of other topics and much less about mutual emotional vulnerability and sharing and being in one another s hearts Surely one explanation of philosophers reticence is that talk of the heart seems unavoidably metaphorical It turns out to be easy enough however to cash the metaphor in if we simply take heart refers to a cluster of emotional susceptibilities that have an essentially reciprocating structure The heart aims at heartfelt connection at shared experience of joys and sorrows hopes and fears and other personal emotions We seek naturally to share these feelings with others and must suppress our natural tendencies if we wish to avoid doing so Our heart s wish is to be open to other hearts in the hope that they will be open to ours and thereby us in return This book is a systematic treatment perhaps the first of attitudes of the heart remorse versus guilt love trust gratitude personal anger versus righteous anger jealousy and others and their role in mediating personal relationship attachment and connection This is obviously interesting in its own right but it also shows how heartfelt attitudes mirror more extensively studied reactive attitudes of guilt resentment and blame attitudes of the will Whereas the latter mediate moral relations of mutual respect and accountability attitudes of the heart are the currency of heartfelt connection and personal relationship
