The Acoma Culture Province An Archaeological Concept:

The Acoma Culture Province Reynold J. Ruppé,1953 Human Adaptations and Cultural Change in the Greater Southwest Alan H. Simmons,1989 Cultural Resources Overview Joseph A. Tainter,1980 New Perspectives on Pottery Mound Pueblo Polly Schaafsma,2007-07-16 Noted archaeologist Polly Schaafsma presents new research by current scholars on this largely neglected ancestral Puebloan site Cultural Resources Overview of Socorro, New Mexico Mary Jane Berman,1979 The El Malpais Archeological Survey Robert P. Powers,Janet Dale Orcutt,2005 The Sociopolitical Structure Of Prehistoric Southwestern Societies Steadman Upham,Kent G Lightfoot,Roberta A. Jewett,2019-06-26 This book examines current archaeological approaches for studying the organizational structure of prehistoric societies in the American Southwest It presents the historical background of the divergent theoretical models that have been used to interpret Southwestern socio political organizations The Protohistoric Pueblo World, A.D. 1275-1600 E. Charles Adams,Andrew I. Duff,2016-04 In the centuries before the arrival of Europeans the Pueblo world underwent nearly continuous reorganization Populations moved from Chaco Canyon and the great centers of the Mesa Verde region to areas along the Rio Grande the Little Colorado River and the Mogollon Rim where they began constructing larger and differently organized villages many with more than 500 rooms Villages also tended to occur in clusters that have been interpreted in a number of different ways This book describes and interprets this period of southwestern history immediately before and after initial European contact A D 1275 1600 a span of time during which Pueblo peoples and culture were dramatically transformed It summarizes one hundred years of research and archaeological data for the Pueblo IV period as it explores the nature of the organization of village clusters and what they meant in behavioral and political terms Twelve of the chapters individually examine the northern and eastern portions of the Southwest and the groups who settled there during the protohistoric period The authors develop histories for settlement clusters that offer insights into their unique development and the variety of ways that villages formed these clusters These analyses show the extent to which spatial clusters of large settlements may have formed regionally organized alliances and in some cases they reveal a connection between protohistoric villages and indigenous or migratory groups from the preceding period This volume is distinct from other recent syntheses of Pueblo IV research in that it treats the settlement cluster as the analytic unit By analyzing how members of clusters of villages interacted with one another it offers a clearer understanding of the value of this level of analysis and suggests possibilities for future research In addition to offering new insights on the Pueblo IV world the volume serves as a compendium of information on more than 400 known villages larger than 50 rooms It will be of lasting interest not only to archaeologists but also to geographers land managers and general readers interested in Pueblo culture A Cultural Resource Management Plan for Timber Sale and Forest Development Areas on the Pueblo of Acoma John B. Broster,Bruce G. Harrill,1982 Collaboration in Archaeological Practice T. J. Ferguson,2008 In Collaboration in

Archaeological Practice prominent archaeologists reflect on their experiences collaborating with descendant communities peoples whose ancestors are the subject of archaeological research They offer philosophical and practical advice on how to improve the practice of archaeology by actively involving native peoples and other interested groups in research
