The Airfields Of Lincolnshire Since 191:

Historic Airports Bob Hawkins, Gabriele Lechner, Paul Smith, 2005 The realisation of mankind's age old dream of flight is probably one of the collective adventures that best characterises the century we have just left its greatest novelty In the space of only three or four generations aviation has conquered the entire planet and international airports have developed into sleepless cities At the beginning of 1999 the European Commission sponsored an international project on aviation's architectural heritage set up at the instigation of the French Ministry of Culture together with English Heritage and Landesdenkmalamt Berlin the official heritage body of the German capital The project's primary aim was to contribute to the better understanding and conservation of aviation architecture focusing on three pilot sites Berlin Tempelhof Paris Le Bourget and Liverpool Speke all rare survivors from the late 1930s An international network of expertise on aviation architecture grew out of three international workshops the proceedings of which are presented here Through contributions from historians architects development agencies and airline companies among others the book examines how best to identify and preserve the sites worth keeping the place of the airport in the 21st century city and the future of our historic airports

Guests Sophie Jackson,2010-10-04 During World War II over 400 000 Germans and Italians were held in prison camps in Britain These men played a vital part in the life of war torn Britain from working in the fields to repairing bomb damaged homes Yet despite the role they played today it is almost forgotten that Britain once held PoWs For those who worked played or fell in love with the enemies in their midst those times remain vivid Whether they took tea on the lawn with Italians or invited a German for Christmas dinner the PoWs were a large part of their lives This book is the story of those men who were detained here as unexpected guests It is about their lives within the camps and afterwards when some chose to stay and others returned to a country that in parts had become a hell on earth A Polish Woman's Experience in World War II

Irena Protassewicz,2019-02-07 This hitherto unpublished first hand witness account written in 1968 9 tells the story of a privileged Polish woman whose life was torn apart by the outbreak of the Second World War and Soviet occupation The account has been translated into English from the original Polish and interwoven with letters and depositions and is supplemented with commentary and notes for invaluable historical context Irena Protassewicz s vivid account begins with the Russian Revolution followed by a rare insight into the life and mores of the landed gentry of northeastern Poland between the wars a rural idyll which was to be shattered forever by the coming of the Second World War Deported in a cattle truck to Siberia and sentenced to a future of forced labour Irena s fortunes were to change dramatically after Hitler s attack on Russia She charts the adventure and horror of life as a military nurse with the Polish Army on a journey that would take her from the wastes of Soviet Central Asia through the Middle East to an unlikely ending in the highlands of Scotland The story concludes with Irena s search to discover the wartime and post war fate of her family and friends on both sides of the Iron Curtain and the challenges of life as a refugee in Britain A Polish Woman s Experience in World War II provides a compelling personal route into understanding how the greatest conflict of the 20th century transformed the lives of the individuals who lived through it Defending Cambridgeshire Mike Osborne,2013-10-01 Throughout history Cambridgeshire including
