Occult Roots of Religious Studies Yves Mühlematter, Helmut Zander, 2021-06-08 The historiographers of religious studies have written the history of this discipline primarily as a rationalization of ideological most prominently theological and phenomenological ideas first through the establishment of comparative philological and sociological methods and secondly through the demand for intentional neutrality This interpretation caused important roots in occult esoteric traditions to be repressed This process of purification Latour is not to be equated with the origin of the academic studies De facto the elimination of idealistic theories took time and only happened later One example concerning the early entanglement is Tibetology where many researchers and respected chair holders were influenced by theosophical ideas or were even members of the Theosophical Society Similarly the emergence of comparatistics cannot be understood without taking into account perennialist ideas of esoteric provenance which hold that all religions have a common origin In this perspective it is not only the history of religious studies which must be revisited but also the partial shaping of religious studies by these traditions insofar as it saw itself as a counter model to occult ideas

The Mixed Multitude Paweł Maciejko, 2011-03-08 In 1756 Jacob Frank an Ottoman Jew who had returned to the Poland of his birth was discovered leading a group of fellow travelers in a suspect religious service At the request of the local rabbis Polish authorities arrested the participants Jewish authorities contacted the bishop in whose diocese the service had taken place and argued that since the rites of Frank's followers involved the practice of magic and immoral conduct both Jews and Christians should condemn them and burn them at the stake. The scheme backfired as the Frankists took the opportunity to ally themselves with the Church presenting themselves as Contra Talmudists who believed in a triune God. As a Turkish subject Frank was released and temporarily expelled to the Ottoman territories but the others were found guilty of breaking numerous halakhic prohibitions and were subject to a Jewish ban of excommunication. While they professed their adherence to everything that was commanded by God in the Old Testament they asserted as well that the Rabbis of old had introduced innumerable lies and misconstructions in their interpretations of that holy book. Who were Jacob Frank and his followers? To most Christians they seemed to be members of a Jewish sect; to Jewish reformers they formed a group making a valiant if misguided attempt to bring an end to the power of the rabbis and to more traditional Jews they were heretics to be suppressed by the rabbinate. What is undeniable is that by the late eighteenth century the Frankists numbered in the tens of thousands and had a significant political and ideological influence on non-Jewish communities throughout eastern and central Europe. Based on extensive archival research in Poland, the Czech Republic, Israel, Germany, the United States and the Vatican, The Mixed Multitude is the first comprehensive study of Frank and Frankism in more than a century and offers an important new perspective on Jewish-Christian relations in the Age of Enlightenment.

Religious apologetics - philosophical argumentation Yossef Schwartz, Volkhard Krech, 2004. The dialog between the religions and various cultures has shown their common ground and emphasized the differences which characterize the individual religion or cultural identity. This volume shows how the boundaries between the talk of apologetics and philosophical argumentation fade and it combines historical and contemporary case studies from Judaism, Christianity and Islam. Contents include: On the Conditions for Systematic Theology in a Global Public; In the Name of the One and of the Many; Augustine and the Shaping of Christian Identity; An Apology for Mr Toland in a Letter to Himself; Autobiography as Self Apology; From Deism through Transcendentalism to Atheism; Benjamin Franklin; Ralph Waldo Emerson; Henry Adams; On Theologization of Kabbalah in Modern Scholarship; Leo Strauss; Rediscovery of the Exoteric; A Philosophical Myth in the Service of Christian Apologetics; Manichees and Origenists in the Sixth Century; Critique of Sculptures; Polemics of al Jahiz and Ibn Hazm against Christianity and Judaism; Reason and Faith; Inter religious Polemic and Christian Identity in the 13th Century; Self Definition; Apology and the Jew; Moses Maimonides; Thomas Aquinas; Raymundus Martini; Meister Eckhart; Nicholas of Lyra; Choices for Changing Frontiers; The Apologetics of Philo of Alexandria; The Two Sons of the One Father; The Salvation; Historical Interpretation of Luke 15:11-32. Esotheric themes in theology Róbert Sarka, 2015-05-31. During the Second Vatican Council the Catholic Church opened itself to a dialogue which became its communication tool with the world with other Christian denominations and religions. At the end of the 19th century so called new religious movements and new magical movements started to appear which are still currently expanding. Is it possible to lead a dialogue with new religious movements? NRM 1. A dialogue is an inseparable part of the Church's mission therefore neither can the NRM be excluded. However, to have a dialogue with them, the correct preparation is needed because a great variability exists amongst the NRM. In this dialogue, it is also necessary to take into account the risks from the side of the NRM's participants who may try to abuse it for their own promotion, e.g. as happened when some of the NRM's participants showed photographs from a general audience with the pope or photographs with Mother Theresa as proof of a support of their activities. Another form of abuse can be the publishing of their own doctrines in the Catholic Publishing Houses. The statements of some forms of NRM concerning the possibility of double memberships, thus actually remaining as a member of the Catholic Church but at the same time being a disciple of some occult community, are also of a great danger.² It is necessary to think about these pitfalls during the dialogue. The dialogue should also not be detached from the proclamation; in this case, it is about keeping fidelity to the Catholic faith. I would also like to stick to this criterion in the submitted monograph about esoteric themes in theology.
