The Amarna Age Western Asia:

The Amarna Age Frederick J. Giles, 2002 The Amarna Age Frederick John Giles, J. Basil Hennessey, 1997 In this historical study Giles deals with the relations of Egypt with its great power neighbours and its own vassals during the 18th Dynasty The study is based on the Amarna archive and considers various Hittite documents It includes a chapter by Hennessey on the archaeology of Syria and Palestine and Cyprus in the Amarna Age The Amarna Age Frederick J. Giles, 1997 The Amarna Age James Baikie, 1926 The Routledge Handbook of the Peoples and Places of Ancient Western Asia Trevor Bryce, 2009-09-10 This 500 000 word reference work provides the most comprehensive general treatment available of the peoples and places of the regions commonly referred to as the ancient Near and Middle East extending from the Aegean coast of Turkey in the west to the Indus river in the east It contains some 1 500 entries on the kingdoms countries cities and population groups of Anatolia Cyprus Syria Palestine Mesopotamia and Iran and parts of Central Asia from the Early Bronze Age to the end of the Persian empire Five distinguished international scholars have collaborated with the author on the project Detailed accounts are provided of the Near Middle Eastern peoples and places known to us from historical records Each of these entries includes specific references to translated passages from the relevant ancient texts Numerous entries on archaeological sites contain accounts of their history of excavation as well as more detailed descriptions of their chief features and their significance within the commercial cultural and political contexts of the regions to which they belonged The book contains a range of illustrations including twenty maps It serves as a major indeed a unique reference source for students as well as established scholars both of the ancient Near Eastern as well as the Classical civilizations It also appeals to more general readers wishing to pursue in depth their interests in these civilizations There is nothing comparable to it on the market today How the World Made the West Josephine Quinn, 2025-10-21 An award winning Oxford history professor makes a forceful argument and tells a story with great verve The Wall Street Journal that the West is and always has been truly global Those archaic Western Civ classes so many of us took in college should be updated argues Quinn who invites us to revel in a richer more polyglot inheritance The Boston Globe AN ECONOMIST BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR LONGLISTED FOR THE CUNDILL HISTORY PRIZE In How the World Made the West Josephine Quinn poses perhaps the most significant challenge ever to the civilizational thinking regarding the origins of Western culture that is the idea that civilizations arose separately and distinctly from one another Rather she locates the roots of the modern West in everything from the law codes of Babylon Assyrian irrigation and the Phoenician art of sail to Indian literature Arabic scholarship and the metalworking riders of the Steppe to name just a few examples According to Quinn reducing the backstory of the modern West to a narrative that focuses on Greece and Rome impoverishes our view of the past This understanding of history would have made no sense to the ancient Greeks and Romans themselves who understood and discussed their own connections to and borrowings from others They consistently presented their own culture as the result of contact and exchange Quinn builds on the writings they left behind with rich analyses of other ancient literary sources like the epic of Gilgamesh holy texts and newly discovered records revealing details of everyday life A work of breathtaking scholarship How the World Made the West also draws on the material culture of the times in art and artifacts as well as findings from the latest scientific advances in carbon dating and human genetics to thoroughly debunk the myth of the modern West as a self made miracle In lively prose and with bracing clarity as well as through vivid maps and color illustrations How the World Made the West challenges the stories the West continues to tell about itself It redefines our understanding of the Western self and civilization in the cosmopolitan world of today

Egyptian Deportations of the Late Bronze Age Christian Langer, 2021-09-20 Egyptian Deportations of the Late Bronze Age explores the political economy of deportations in New Kingdom Egypt ca 1550 1070 BCE from an interdisciplinary angle The analysis of ancient Egyptian primary source material and the international correspondence of the time draws a comprehensive picture of the complex and far reaching policies The dataset reveals their geographic scope economic and demographic impact in Egypt and abroad as well as their interconnection with territorial expansion international relations and labour management The supply chain profiting institutions and individuals in Egypt as the well as the labour tasks origins and the composition of the deportees are discussed in detail A comparative analytical framework integrates the Egyptian policies with a review of deportation discourses as well as historical premodern and modern cases and enables a global and diachronic understanding of the topic The study is thus the first systematic investigation of deportations in ancient Egyptian history and offers new insights into Egyptian governance that revise previous assessments of the role of forced migration und unfree labour in ancient Egyptian society and their long term effects

Ancient Western Asia Beyond the Paradigm of Collapse and Regeneration (1200-900 BCE) Maria Grazia Masetti-Rouault, Ilaria Calini, Robert Hawley, Lorenzo d'Alfonso, 2024-05-07 New results and interpretations challenging the notion of a uniform macroregional collapse throughout the Late Bronze Age Eastern Mediterranean Ancient Western Asia Beyond the Paradigm of Collapse and Regeneration 1200 900 BCE presents select essays originating in a two year research collaboration between New York University and Paris Sciences et Lettres The contributions here offer new results and interpretations of the processes and outcomes of the transition from the Late Bronze Age to the Iron Age in three broad regions Anatolia northern Mesopotamia and the Levant Together these challenge the notion of a uniform macroregional collapse throughout the Eastern Mediterranean followed by the regeneration of political powers Current research on newly discovered or reinterpreted textual and material evidence from Western Asia instead suggests that this transition was characterized by a diversity of local responses emerging from diverse environmental settings and culture complexes as evident in the case studies collected here in history archaeology and art history The editors avoid particularism by adopting a regional organization with the aim of identifying and tracing similar processes and outcomes emerging locally across the three regions Ultimately this volume reimagines the Late Bronze Iron Age transition as the emergence of a set of recursive processes and outcomes nested firmly in the local cultural interactions of western Asia before the beginning of the new unifying era of Assyrian imperialism The Ancient Orient Wolfram von Soden, 1994 This book represents the first comprehensive interdisciplinary presentation of ancient Near Eastern civilization The author's study includes treatments of the history of language and systems of writing the state and society nutrition and agriculture artisanry economics law science religion and magic art music and more AEB ,1997
