Made in Britain Stephen Tuffnell, 2020-09-08 The United States was made in Britain For over a hundred years following independence a diverse and lively crowd of emigrant Americans left the United States for Britain From Liverpool and London they produced Atlantic capitalism and managed transfers of goods culture and capital that were integral to US nation building In British social clubs emigrants forged relationships with elite Britons that were essential not only to tranquil transatlantic connections but also to fighting southern slavery As the United States descended into Civil War emigrant Americans decisively shaped the Atlantic wide battle for public opinion Equally revered as informal ambassadors and feared as anti republican contagions these emigrants raised troubling questions about the relationship between nationhood nationality and foreign connection Blending the histories of foreign relations capitalism nation formation and transnational connection Stephen Tuffnell compellingly demonstrates that the United States struggle toward independent nationhood was entangled at every step with the world's most powerful empire of the time With deep research and vivid detail Made in Britain uncovers this hidden story and presents a bold new perspective on nineteenth century trans Atlantic relations

Lillian Cummings Ford,Thomas Francis Ford,1920 Consumers' Imperium Kristin L. Hoganson,2010-03-15 Histories of the Gilded Age and Progressive Era tend to characterize the United States as an expansionist nation bent on Americanizing the world without being transformed itself In Consumers Imperium Kristin Hoganson reveals the other half of the story demonstrating that the years between the Civil War and World War I were marked by heightened consumption of imports and strenuous efforts to appear cosmopolitan Hoganson finds evidence of international connections in quintessentially domestic places American households She shows that well to do white women in this era expressed intense interest in other cultures through imported household objects fashion cooking entertaining armchair travel clubs and the immigrant gifts movement From curtains to clothing from around the world parties to arts and crafts of the homelands exhibits Hoganson presents a new perspective on the United States in the world by shifting attention from exports to imports from production to consumption and from men to women She makes it clear that globalization did not just happen beyond America s shores as a result of American military might and industrial power but that it happened at home thanks to imports immigrants geographical knowledge and consumer preferences Here is an international history that begins at home The New
