The Extra Parent How Grandparents Are Helping Out Pitching In And Raising Their Grandchildren:

The Extra Parent Elaine Denholtz, 2003-12 Ten grandparents aged 41 to 82 talk about their experiences in looking after their grandchildren and their relationships with their children and grandchildren You'Re Parenting Again? Larry D. Lamb, 2017-04-27 Grandparents raising their grandchildren are a new demographic emerging at a staggering rate because the parents are either unwilling or incapable of raising their own children The rationale for this work is derived from the challenges this author and his wife have because of parenting their grandchildren The research for this project has the value to offer support wisdom hope and perspective for those who are parenting again as grandparents Opportunities abound to lead grandchildren in a direction where they never would have gone had grandparents resisted the selfless act of parenting again This project will be approached using surveys with specific questions from other grandparents who are raising their grandchildren The survey will assist in assembling the reasons behind this new and emerging trend of parenting The resources gathered from this project will help grandparents embrace their new role in life Serving Grandfamilies in Libraries Sarah Gough, Pat Feehan, Denise Lyons, 2013-11-26 Gough Feehan and Lyons have taken everything learned from their research on developing GrandFamily Resource Collections and leading grandfamily programming in several states and put it in this easy to use guide They share the successes and failures of existing programs so other librarians can hit the ground running rather than trudge through a time consuming and costly period of trial and error It's a lot more efficient to learn from someone else's mistakes than to make your own The target population grandfamilies and most specifically grandparents raising grandchildren have become a statistically significant group worthy of attention in many communities but library practitioners may not have explored further due to a lack of resources and money Special features include List of Web resources government agencies support groups etc List of grants and funding opportunities Sample grant applications List of possible community partners for the library Sample surveys or some tactic for getting to know the needs of one's target population Sample marketing plans Sample promotional materials Sample activity sheets Sample release forms etc With this practical and comprehensive guide your library will be ready to jumpstart or easily expand a stellar program for the grandfamilies in your community Grandloving Sue Johnson, 2010-07 Incorporating advice from more than 350 families nationwide this guide offers specific tips for bonding with grandchildren from babies to teens Along with a completely revised resource section this fifth edition features expanded sections on Skyping texting and social networking Facebook Flickr MySpace Twitter and YouTube Among the guides hints are more than 225 easy low cost do together and long distance activities such as ideas for successful visits holidays and family traditions While primarily intended for use by grandparents this sourcebook's strategies and suggestions can also help daycare providers separated parents extended family members and teachers grow closer to the children in their lives Grandparents Raising Kids Rae Simons, 2015-02-03 In 2005 6 million children were being raised by their grandparents Sometimes their grandchildren's parents had died sometimes they were in prison and sometimes they just couldn't cope with raising children. When grandparents take in their grandchildren to raise them, they have some difficulties most families don't have. They're older for one thing and they also have to deal with their own children and that relationship. But they have the wisdom and experience they've gained from raising one set of children already and this can help. The families in this book have had both good and bad experiences but they have learned a great deal through them.
