Articulo, 2008 The Experience of Being as Goal of Human Existence Vensus A. George, 2000 Values in Islamic Culture and the Experience of History N. S. Kirabaev, Iqbal Mikhailovich Pochta, 2002 Arab-Islamic Education Systems in the Experience of Migrants and Refugees in Europe Sara Mazzei, 2025-03-15 In the last decade Europe has welcomed numerous migrants and refugees from Arab countries Their scholastic inclusion has been challenging and the teaching staff had to sometimes deal with unfamiliar realities The issue has been addressed by various perspectives from sociology to psychology insights from which are gathered in intercultural education In it there are scarcity of studies that delve into pupils cultural backgrounds and countries of origin's history is seldom regarded as a decisive factor in the formation of identity Among Arabic speaking communities the Moroccan and Syrian ones are the most significant and Morocco and Syria have interesting histories and education systems Using Nussbaum's 2010 multifactorial analysis this research aims to better understand the educational universe where Arabic speaking pupils come from focusing on humanities and religious education in the experience of pupils especially from Morocco and Syria Methodology comprehends qualitative empirical research conducted in Europe Results show the differences experienced by pupils in their educational paths among diverse Arab and European countries and the more sensitive topics they encounter in their education in Europe in relation to their identity

Alterity: The Experience of the Other Clive Hazell, 2009-07-29 The concept of alterity is fundamental to all psychological theories Most of these theories operate as if this concept is well understood and quite stable This book challenges that notion by examining ideas about alterity in several different fields It also offers an organizing template for the concept utilizing ideas from Lacan Levinas and Dabrowski

The Experience of Tragic Judgment Julen Etxabe, 2013-05-02 Adjudication between conflicting normative universes that do not share the same vocabulary standards of rationality and moral commitments cannot be resolved by recourse to traditional principles Such cases are always in a sense tragic And what is called for in our pluralistic and conflictual world is not to be found as many would suppose in an impersonal set of procedures with which all participants could be treated as having rationally agreed The very idea of such a neutral system is an illusion Rather what is needed Julen Etxabe argues in this book is a heightened awareness of the difficulty of judgment The Experience of Tragic Judgments draws upon Sophocles play Antigone in order to consider this difficulty and the virtues that attend its acknowledgment Based on the transformative experience that the audience undergoes in engaging with this play what is proposed is a reconceptualization of judgment not as it is generally thought to occur in a single isolated moment like the falling of an axe but rather as an experience that develops in and through space and time

Romantic Science and the Experience of Self Martin Halliwell, 2016-03-31 First published in 1999 this engaging interdisciplinary study of romantic science focuses on the work of five influential figures in twentieth century transatlantic intellectual history In this book Martin Halliwell constructs an innovative tradition of romantic science by indicating points of theoretical and historical intersection in the thought of William James American philosopher Otto Rank Austrian psychoanalyst Ludwig Binswanger Swiss psychiatrist Erik Erikson Danish German psychologist and Oliver Sacks British neurologist Beginning with the ferment of intellectual activity in late eighteenth century German Romanticism Halliwell argues that only with William James theory of pragmatism early in the twentieth century did romantic science become a viable counter tradition to strictly empirical science Stimulated by debates over rival models of consciousness and renewed interest in theories of the self Halliwell reveals that in their challenge to Freud s adoption of ideas from nineteenth century natural science these thinkers have enlarged the possibilities of romantic science for bridging the perceived gulf between the arts and sciences
