The Fairy Wrens A Monograph Of The Maluridae:

The Fairy-wrens Richard Schodde, 1982-01-01 The Action Plan for Australian Birds 2010 Stephen Garnett, Judit Szabo, Guy Dutson, 2011-09-14 The Action Plan for Australian Birds 2010 is the third in a series of action plans that have been produced at the start of each decade The book analyses the International Union for Conservation of Nature IUCN status of all the species and subspecies of Australia's birds including those of the offshore territories For each bird the size and trend in their population and distribution has been analysed using the latest iteration of IUCN Red List Criteria to determine their risk of extinction The book also provides an account of all those species and subspecies that are or are likely to be extinct Each categorisation is justified on the basis of the latest research including much unpublished material that has been made available during workshops conducted with leading ornithologists and conservation biologists around the country as well as phone interviews and correspondence The result is the most authoritative account yet of the status of Australia's birds In this completely revised edition each account covers not only the 2010 status but provides a retrospective assessment of the status in 1990 and 2000 based on current knowledge taxonomic revisions and changes to the IUCN criteria and then reasons why the status of some taxa has changed over the last two decades Maps have been created specifically for the Action Plan based on vetted data drawn from the records of Birds Australia its members and its partners in many government departments The book contains some surprises some alarming some encouraging The status of some birds has improved over the last two decades as a result of dedicated conservation management Some may not have changed status but at least they are holding their own Many however are continuing to decline and a distressing number are new to the list There is also an increasing number of birds for which captive insurance populations need not only to be considered as a future option but actively pursued before it is too late But this is not a book of lost causes It is a call for action to keep the extraordinary biodiversity we have inherited and pass the legacy to our children Every one of Australia's threatened taxa can be saved This book describes the populations of species at greatest risk and outlines ways we can turn them around 2012 Whitley Award Commendation for Zoological Resource Aves (Columbidae to Coraciidae) Richard Schodde, I. J. Mason, 1997 This is the first of four proposed volumes that will catalogue the birds of Australia It contains a wealth of detail about the complex nomenclature and includes informative qualifications and taxonomic decisions The Catalogue also documents type localities distribution ecology and bibliographic references The authoritative work compiled by world experts is the culmination of many years of research and will be much in demand as the directory to the status of knowledge on the Australian fauna Features comprehensive introductions 14 families 12 subfamilies 10 tribes 130 living indigenous and established feral species over 200 genus available names over 700 species available names nomina nuda incertae sedis and taxa confirmanda subgeneric arrangements subspecific arrangements alternative taxonomic arrangements many new taxonomic and nomenclatural decisions synonymies with authorities detailed qualifications of the status of names location and status of type material new type designations type localities summaries of distribution and ecology ecological keywords extensive literature citation

Directory of Australian Birds: Passerines R Schodde, IJ Mason, 1999-10-01 Recent classifications of Australian birds have been limited to lists of species which are inadequate as biodiversity indicators The Directory of Australian Birds Passerines fills a huge gap in ornithological knowledge by separating out and listing not only 340 species of song birds but also the 720 distinct regional forms Covering about half the national bird fauna the Directory provides science and the community with baseline information about what bird it is and where it lives in an Australia wide context Identity is taken down to the level of distinct regional population No other compendium on Australian birds does this

Birds New to Science David Brewer, 2018-01-26 The story of the discovery of nearly 300 bird species new to science since 1960 Amazing as it might sound ornithologists are still discovering several bird species each year that are completely new to science These aren't all obscure brown birds on tiny islands witness the bizarre Bare faced Bulbul from Laos 2009 spectacular Araripe Manakin from Brazil 1998 or gaudy Bugun Liocichla from north east India 2006 Birds New to Science documents more than half a century of these remarkable discoveries covering around 300 species Each account includes the story of discovery a brief description of the bird many with accompanying colour photographs and details of what is known about its biology range and conservation status Written in an engaging style this is a rich reference to an incredible era of adventure in ornithology

Cooperative Breeding in Birds Peter B. Stacey, Walter D. Koenig, 1990-04-19 Cooperative breeding is an unusual kind of social behaviour found in a few hundred species worldwide in which individuals other than the parents help raise young Understanding the apparently altruistic behaviour of helpers has provided numerous challenges to evolutionary biologists This book includes detailed first hand summaries of many of the major empirical studies of cooperatively breeding birds It provides comparative information on the demography social behaviour and behavioural ecology of these unusual species and explores the diversity of ideas and the controversies which have developed in this field The studies are all long term and consequently the book summarises some of the most extensive studies of the behaviour of marked individuals ever undertaken Graduate students and research workers in ornithology sociobiology behavioural ecology and evolutionary biology will find much of value in this book

Australian Journal of Zoology, 2004 Field Guide to the Birds of Australia Ken Simpson, Nicolas Day, 1993 Fourth edition of a portable field guide which accompanies the fourth edition of TBirds of Australia Revised and expanded to include an illustrated rare bird bulletin an Australian island territories checklist 52 additional or replacement black and white drawings and changes to 93 distribution maps Also provides information on the taxonomy habitat and biology of each bird family as well as covering such topics as prehistoric birds and DNA

DNA hybridisation Referenced and indexed Birds of New Guinea Bruce M. Beehler, Thane K. Pratt, 2016-03-29 New Guinea the largest tropical island supports a spectacular bird fauna characterized by cassowaries megapodes pigeons parrots kingfishers and owlet nightjars as well as the iconic birds of paradise and bowerbirds Of the nearly 800 species of birds recorded from New Guinea more than 350 are found nowhere else on Earth This comprehensive annotated checklist of distribution taxonomy and systematics of the birds of New Guinea is the first formal review of this avifauna since Ernst Mayr's Checklist published in 1941 This new book brings together all the systematic taxonomic and distributional research conducted on the region's bird families over the last 70 years Bruce Beehler and Thane Pratt provide the scientific foundation for the names geographic distributions and systematic arrangement of New Guinea's bird fauna All technical information is annotated and a geographic gazetteer and bibliography are included This book is an ideal complement to the Birds of New Guinea field guide also published by Princeton and is an essential technical reference for all scientific libraries ornithologists and those interested in bird classification The first complete revision of the New Guinea bird fauna since 1941 Accounts for 75 bird species new to the region Includes a geographic gazetteer bibliography and explanations of taxonomic and systematic classifications
